An effort is being made to form a Curling Club in town, and all interested in that grand old game are requested to meet at the Board of Trade rooms on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock. We trust the invitation will be well responded to. There is a good rink here and quite a number of our citizens are interested in the game.

TO RENT.—Furnished house on Gasperau Ave. Possession at once. Apply to C. H. BORDEN, Wolfville.

The ability and scholarship of Prof. Hartman, who was appointed instructor in philosophy at Acadia at the first of the year, has been recognized, and at a recent meeting of the board of governors he was appointed full professor, in charge of the philosophical chair at Acadia, so ably filled by the late Dr. Sawyer. Prof. Hartman goes to his home in New York for the holidays.

HANDKERCHIEFS.—See our display of Fancy Handkerchiefs, from 3c. to $1.25 each. Special line of pure linen 1/2 doz. in a pretty box for 75c. J. D. CHAMBERS.

Messrs Forsyth Bros., of Greenwich, are doing quite an extensive business at that place this year in the manufacture of evaporated apples, waste and chop. Their output will probably be from twelve to fifteen tons, and is a ready sale. The industry is a valuable one and in turning into a useful commodity what would otherwise largely go to waste is doing a good service and is worthy of every support.

THE DELINEATOR for $1.00 per year. This reduced price has been arranged between the Butterick Publishing Co. and agents, by which yearly subscribers can get their copies each month at our store. Subscribe now and secure the reduced rate. J. D. CHAMBERS.

The rink was open for the first time this season on Friday evening of last week, when there was a good attendance of skaters. The ice was in excellent condition, and music was furnished by the Wolfville band. This is the earliest, we believe, that the rink has ever been opened in Wolfville, and the new proprietors are to be congratulated. The band rendered very good music, considering that the members have not been practicing for some time.

"Courtship of Miles Standish."

A MOST PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT.
The chief topic of conversation since Saturday night has been the dramatic representation of Longfellow's poem, 'The Courtship of Miles Standish,' by the young lady undergraduates of Acadia, in College Hall. The 'college girls' certainly scored a decided success, as no entertainment given here for a long time has been more thoroughly enjoyed.

The stage effect was excellent. Antique furniture of rare pattern, with wall decorations of ancient swords and weapons of war, carried the spectator back to 'ye olden time,' and one could almost fancy himself in the home of the Puritan at Plymouth in 1620.

The costumes were elaborate and picturesque and were as nearly as possible the exact counterpart of those worn by the pilgrims of the Mayflower. The valiant warrior, Miles Standish, the patient scribe, John Alden, the beautiful Puritan maiden Priscilla, the elder of Plymouth, the captain of the Mayflower, 'Hobonock,' the friend of the white man, 'Wattawamut,' the Indian brave, with more than a score of pilgrims and Indians—in all thirty-one characters—did again in this realistic presentation.

Three of our Wolfville young ladies filled prominent parts. The leading character, Miles Standish, was taken by Miss Flora Chambers, who acted the role to perfection. John Alden, his friend, was represented admirably by Miss Margaret Cathoun, and Priscilla, by Miss Hazel Woodman. They made a charming trio and their almost perfect acting called forth rounds of applause from the large audience. The Indian chief, Miss Olive Shipperal, of St. John, was so cleverly represented that the war-like appearance of this Indian brave sent a thrill of terror through the audience. Other attractive characters were Helen Christie, Amherst, as messenger; Miss Kate Mitchell, Indian girl; Misses Ole Ross and Jean McGregor, and Hettie Crandall as warriors; Ida Rand, Marjory Barnaby and Nellie Porter as Indian women. A prominent character and one exceedingly well depicted was that of Jennie Welton, as Elder. Marie McLeod, P. E. Island, took the part of Captain of the Mayflower well, and Alice Eaton and Bulah Eiderkin took the part of sailors.

The members of the council with their sombre Puritan dress, with white cuffs and collars, large broad hats, were faithfully portrayed by Miss Julia Sweet, Miss Reta Manning, Miss Evelyn Slack and Miss Marion Sharpe.

The two choirs from the opera 'Priscilla,' 'Tis a Secret' and 'Capit,' by the entire company, were heartily enjoyed.

The descriptive parts of the poem were read by Miss Treva Mitchell with her usual grace and effectiveness, and added very materially to the success of the undertaking. We understand Miss Mitchell also rendered much valuable assistance in other directions.

It is hoped that the young ladies may be induced to repeat this very attractive entertainment during the winter.

The Alumnae Fair.
The second annual fair under the auspices of the Alumnae Association of Acadia Seminary, which was held on Monday and Tuesday of this week at Acadia Seminary, was a decided success. In the beauty of the articles exhibited, attendance and general arrangement it far exceeded that of last year. Hundreds of beautiful contributions were sent by graduates and friends of the Seminary from all over the Dominion and many parts of the United States. The booths and tables were most attractive and were liberally patronized.

The dining room was in charge of Mrs. Wortman and a number of popular young ladies of the town and the refreshments there provided elicited much praise from all who partook of them.

The program of entertainment included the presentation of Oliver Wendell Holmes' ballad of 'The Oysterman' in pantomime, and two musical numbers also in pantomime. This took place in the gymnasium and was the great centre of attraction. The performance was most clever and amusing. This feature was designed by Miss Blanche Bishop and was a decidedly popular one.

The net receipts from the fair was a little over $400, most already on hand towards a very respectable nucleus towards the end aimed at—the erection of a Fine Arts Building for the Seminary and the purchase of an organ.

Miss Jackson, who had charge of the arrangements in connection with the fair, is to be congratulated on the success attending her endeavours.

Lower Horton News.

The gramophone concert given in Acadia Villa Hall on Thursday evening of last week was a very successful entertainment. There was a good attendance, and all present were delighted with the program presented. Mr. E. A. Wilson, of Halifax, who generously assisted the Methodist girls in this affair, has consented to come again with his fine instrument on another occasion, when a second performance of the kind will be given. It will be awaited with interest by our people.

Thanks.

The members of the Executive Committee of the Alumnae Society of Acadia Seminary wish to express through the columns of THE ACADIAN their most sincere thanks to the friends in the town and vicinity who have so kindly assisted, both by contributions and by personal help, during the Alumnae Fair. This generous assistance on the part of the friends of the school has contributed much to the success of the Fair and is greatly appreciated by the members of the Alumnae Society. Many thanks!

The annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association, which was held at Middleton this week, was very successful. The sessions were all well attended and the discussion interesting. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year.

President—F. M. Chipman.
Vice-President—E. E. Archibald.
Secretary—S. C. Parker.
Asst. Secretary—J. H. Cox.
Treasurer—G. W. Munro.

Salt Rheum on Hands

It is known that cold weather aggravates salt rheum, and with many cold weather has the same effect and they suffer from eczema of salt rheum on the hands and cracking and itching of the skin. There is no treatment so effective and so rapidly beneficial to the skin as Dr. Chase's Ointment, which heals up the raw, burning, itching spots and leaves the skin soft, smooth and clear.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

It is also wonderfully successful as a cure for children, which for many people makes winter a season to be dreaded. By applying the ointment freely the dreadful itching and stinging is relieved almost immediately. It makes the winter months of this annoying trouble. 50 cents a box, at all dealers of Edmonson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The other day a lady knocked at the door of the W. B. PLEADWELL Job, Art and Commercial Bookbindery WOLFVILLE, N. S. (McKenna Block)

"Come in" she said she had some books at home that needed binding. Could I show a sample of my work?

Seeing satisfied her and in a day or so she brought the work in.

"That's the right spirit, if you have work that ought to be done and see in doubt about either ability or price, call in, don't put it off.

If you don't have any work and are interested in Hand-Bookbinding, call in for your own benefit.
