

STRONGLY ADVISES "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Because They Cured Him, And They Will Cure You

WALKERTON, Ont., May 9th, 1911. "I have been in Walkerton in business for a good many years and many of my townsmen know that my health for long periods was precarious. My trouble was extreme Nervousness, brought on by indigestion and Dyspepsia, from which I suffered in the most severe form. It was so bad that I could not sleep before about four in the morning. I noticed one of your published testimonials of how someone had used 'Fruit-a-tives' for similar troubles and asked Mr. Hunter, my druggist, his opinion on the matter and he advised their use. I immediately procured several boxes and I am pleased to say that I now enjoy splendid health and could not possibly feel better. I can eat with every degree of satisfaction and sleep without an effort. I strongly advise anyone suffering from like complaints, to commence using 'Fruit-a-tives'." ALEX. McCARTER, Soc. a box, 6 for $1.00—total sale, 50c. Advertisers from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

A Whiskey Song.

Sing a song of whiskey
A pocket without pence;
A purse that's always empty,
A head that has no sense.

Four and twenty jail birds
Under lock and key,
Curse the drink that cost them
The birthright of the free.

When their cells are opened
Drinking more and more;
A drunkard's life behind them,
A drunkard's life before.

The brewer in his counting house
Is counting gold and money,
The bar man in his parlor
Is eating other's honey.

While starving little children,
And wearing lean and poor,
In rage and broken hearted,
Beg from door to door.

Sing a song of whiskey,
Sound it all the time;
The horrid song of whiskey—
Sorrow, sin and crime.

ALCOHOLIZING THE CHILDREN.
The fact that the liquor traffic is a menace to the nation holds so clear a demonstration that its effect upon child life is a recent summer. The latest Mr. E. G. Mackintosh makes the astounding statement that 40 per cent. of the school children of London, under eight years of age, drink alcohol more or less regularly. He claims to have obtained his figures from several of the London County Council infant schools. The statement has aroused a good deal of discussion, and one doctor declares that this state of affairs obtains not only in London, but over the greater part of the continent. Additional proof is demonstrated, and even most of the men who are strongly opposed to total abstinence realize that the drinking of alcohol by children is an undoubted evil. The tendency of the liquor habit to begeth this condition. If the children do not learn to drink, where will the habit of drinking come from? If children are to become non-drinkers or abstemious, the habit will be the parents to set the example. Total abstinence drinking children come from temperance homes. The liquor habit usually causes the physical and mental decay of the child. The only safety from it would seem to be total abstinence.

How to Be an Aristocrat.

Get dinner at night.
Mortgage your house and buy an automobile.
Let the groceryman and meat dealers wait awhile.
Borrow money to join a couple of country clubs.
When there is a reception, have gentlemen sent up, by approval and wait them to the reception.
Place your nose at an angle of forty-five degrees when you meet a 'honest working man' on the street.
Refer to your six horse power as a 'motab' and abun the street cars on all occasions.
Forget the letter 'r' in all of your conversations and cultivate a fondness for grapefruit.
Make a loud noise through the nose when anybody mentions such a plebian thing as work.

Nova Scotia Medical Man Says Intemperance Fills Asylums.

Dr. Sinclair, provincial inspector of penal institutions of Nova Scotia, who was a witness before the House of Commons Committee on old age pensions, expressed the view that if the effect of intemperance and vice in producing poverty were to disappear from the land there would still be poor people, although they would not be so numerous as now.

Intemperance and idleness undoubtedly bore a relation to one another, but the witness said he had been unable to make up his mind as to whether insanity was due to intemperance or intemperance to insanity. Probably five per cent. of the insane in Nova Scotia were there, however, because of habits of intemperance. Intemperance and poverty combined were probably responsible for from 20 to 25 per cent. of the insane in Nova Scotia.

Dr. Sinclair said that no definite statistics are available as to the causes of insanity in Nova Scotia. The proportion of insane in the city of Halifax was high, this being partially due to the fact that it is a seaport town.

SPARKLING WATER, cool and sweet, refreshes the farmer who builds a Concrete Well or Tank

THE FARMER, above all others, appreciates good water. He drinks more water than the city man. The city dweller is dependent upon the public water supply for the purity of his water, while the farmer can have his own private source of water, and thus be sure that it is pure and healthful.

MAN hasn't found a better drink than cool water, properly collected and stored. But in order to keep water fresh and pure, a tank or well casing that will keep out every possible impurity must be used.

CONCRETE IS THE IDEAL MATERIAL FOR TANKS AND WELL-CASINGS

It is absolutely water-tight, protecting your water from seepage of all kinds. It cannot rot or crumble. It is easily cleaned inside. Time and water, in fact of causing it to decay, actually make it stronger.

OUR Farmers' Information Department will help you to decide how to build anything, from a porch to a silo. The service is free—no cost, even here to provide a guide. When in doubt ask the Information Department.

The Courage of Opinions.

The ways in which people form their opinions are most remarkable. Every man, when he begins his reasonable life, finds certain general opinions current in the world. He is shaped by these opinions in one way or another, either directly or by reaction. If he is soft and plastic, like the majority of people, he takes the opinions that are about him for his own. If he is self-assertive and defiant, he takes the opposite of the opinions and gives to them his vehement adherence. We know the two kinds well, and as we ordinarily see them, the fault which is at the root of both is intellectual cowardice. One man clings servilely to the old tradition of his people from fear of being thought fearful, and timid, and a slave. Both are cowards. Both are equally removed from that brave seeking of the truth, which is not set upon either winning or avoiding any name, which will take no opinion for the sake of conformity and reject an opinion for the sake of originality, which is free, therefore—free to gather its own convictions, a slave neither to any companion nor to any antagonism—Philip Brooks.

A Dismal Year Upon the Seas.

Never since the business of covering ships against loss or damage began in a Tower street coffee house in London nearly two and a half centuries ago, have the payments of Lloyd's and the marine insurance companies in settlement of claims been so heavy as they were last year. Altogether there were 6,031 casualties to vessels of 500 tons gross and upwards. The estimated money loss "incurred" by the more important of the disaster was $33,428,500. Insurance rates have been increased considerably as a consequence of the facts stated, but the increase is no evidence that travellers now accept additional risks when they go down to the sea in ships. On the contrary, life is said on the Atlantic in 1913, than it ever was before.

The Titanic taught the designers of steamers to provide adequate bulkheads, prompted the owners of ocean liners to multiply their small boats, inspired the legislation which requires efficient wireless apparatus with its operators, and saved the government cruisers abroad on the lookout for icebergs.

VALUABLE OF ONIONS

Onions are worth their weight in gold from a health point of view. Such was the statement of H. H. Bennett, lecturer for the board of education in an address at London, England, last week.

Onions, continued the lecturer, possessed an important medicinal value which could not be overestimated. They were considered a cure for skin diseases, and when eaten late at night are the "best form" of antidote for sleeplessness.

Mrs. Bennett had a good deal to say, too, on the subject of potatoes. Although there were known to be fewer than 300 potatoes of resistant varieties, the only methods practiced in English homes were boiling and baking and frying.

The main nutritive qualities of potatoes existed immediately under the skin and were often lost by careless peeling.

HAS MONEY TO BURN

Canadian Government Destroying Millions of Dollars in Old Bills

The Canadian Government has money to burn. During the past few months the Treasury of the Dominion in the Finance Department have burned four and a half million dollars worth of one-dollar bills, and three million dollars worth of two-dollar bills. And in six months some twenty-seven and a half millions in small bills went up in smoke.

It may be explained, however, that the burning is not done to save the Government's credit, but to save the Government's credit. The money burned consisted of worn or dirty Dominion notes and they were replaced with crisp, new, clean, sanitary bills. The Treasury really lost nothing, except the small expense of printing the new bills. But for a narrative of the Government may be truly said to have "money to burn."
