Prospect, indeed! echoed Wamba; let me tell you, when you fill my cloak, you are wrapped in a general's cosack. Five hundred men are there without, and I was this morning one of their chief leaders. My fool's cap was a casque, and my hauberk a truncheon. Well, we shall see what good they will make by exchanging a fool for a wise man. Truly, I fear they will lose in valor what they may gain in discretion. And so farewell master, and be kind to poor Gurth and his dog Fangs! and let my cockscomb hang in the hall at Rotherwood, in memory that I flung away my life for my master, like a faithful-fool!

The last word came out with a sort of double expression, betwixt jest and earnest. The tears stood in Cedric's eyes. 'Thy memory shall be preserved,' he said, 'while fidelity and affection have honor upon earth. But that I trust I shall find the means of saving Rowena, and thee, Athelstane, and thee, also, my poor Wamba, thou shouldst not overbear me in this matter.'

The exchange of dress was now accomplished, when a sudden doubt struck Cedric. 'I know no language,' he said, 'but my own, and a few words of their mingling Norman. How shall I bear myself like a reverend brother?'

'The spell lies in two words,' replied Wamba-'Pax vobiscum will answer all queries. If you go or come, eat or drink, bless or ban, Pax vobiscum carries you through it all. It is as useful to a friar as broomstick to a witch, or a wand to a conjuror. Speak it but thus, in a deep, grave tone-Pax vobiscum!-it is irresistible-Match and ward, knight and squire, foot and horse, it acts as a charm upon them all. I think, if they bring me out to be hanged to-morrow, as is much to be doubted they may, I will try its weight upon the finisher of the sentence.'

'If such prove the case,' said his master, 'my religious orders are soon taken-Pax vobiscum. I trust I shall remember the password. Noble Athelstane, farewell; and farewell, my poor boy, whose heart might make amends for a weaker head-I will save you, or return and die with you. The royal blood of our Saxon kings shall not be spilt while mine beats in my veins; nor shall one hair fall from the head of the kind knave who risked himself for his master, if Cedric's peril can prevent it. Farewell.'

'Farewell, noble Cedric,' said Athelstane; 'remember it is the true part of a friend to accept refreshment, if you are offered any.' 'Farewell, uncle,' added Wamba; 'and remember Pax vobiscum!'

Thus exhorted, Cedric sallied forth upon his expedition; and it was not long ere he had occasion to try the force of that spell which his Jester had recommended as omnipotent. In a low-arched and dusky passage, by which he endeavored to work his way to the hall of the castle, he was interrupted by a female form.

'Pax vobiscum!' said the pseudo friar, and was endeavoring to hurry past, when a soft voice replied, 'Et vobis-quaeso, domine reverendissime, pro misericordia vestra.'

'I am somewhat deaf,' replied Cedric, in good Saxon, and at the same time muttered to himself, 'a curse on the fool and his Pax vobiscum! I have lost my javelin at the first cast.'

It was, however, no unusual thing for a priest, of those days to be deaf of his Latin ear, and this the person who now addressed Cedric knew full well. 'I pray you of dear love, reverend father,' she replied in his own language, 'that you will deign to visit with your ghostly comfort a wounded prisoner of this castle, and have such compassion upon him and us as thy holy office teaches-Never shall good deed so highly advantage thy convent.'
