

"My Hands Trembled and I Could Not Sleep"

Mr. Thomas Honey, Brantford, Ont., writes—

"When I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I was so nervous that when I picked up a cup of tea my hand would tremble like a leaf. I could not sleep well, could not remember things, and there were neuralgic pains through my body. After taking seven boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I am in perfect health."

Symptoms Of Anaemia

An Inherited Tendency to Anaemia May be Overcome

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded just as others have an inherited tendency to rheumatism, or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers comes on so gradually and stealthily that anyone with a natural disposition in that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Bloodlessness, or anaemia as the medical term is, can be corrected much more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale, and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going upstairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of diseases caused by thin blood. With pure air and wholesome food these blood-making pills afford the correct treatment when the symptoms described are noticed.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail they will be sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ANTIQUITIES IN WHITE HOUSE

Attractions Well Worth Inspection Are Known to Comparatively Few Visitors in Washington.

Least advertised of the attractions of the White House is a collection of antiquities relating to the historic mansion, which is on view in a basement room adjoining the oval room directly beneath the blue room.

This oval room, by the way, was used for receiving guests in the old days, when the main door of entrance to the White House was in the middle of the south side and not on the north front, as at present. It is slightly above the ground level, and the old-time entrance still remains, opening directly upon the spacious lawn. Formerly a road led past it, which in wet weather was so muddy that arriving guests had trouble to keep their feet dry.

Thus it was in Dolly Madison's day, and one of the most interesting curios in the little museum is her book of cooking recipes, blank pages of which are inscribed with culinary ideas in her own handwriting. There is also a blue-and-gold china bowl, two feet high, upheld by three graceful female figures, which, imported from France, was in use during her reign.

Abigail Adams, the first mistress of the White House, is represented by a silhouette of herself, cut out of black paper by some unknown hand. Two saltcellars of hers are also in the collection, as well as a huge silver-mounted goblet of full-quart capacity which her husband used when he was President.

There are pieces of china representing every set used at the White House from the earliest days until now—the latest, white and gold, being the Wilson set for the state dining room. A remarkable piece from the Harrison set is a turkey platter bearing a beautiful painting of a gobbler. Other pieces of that set are adorned with various pictures of animals, while the vegetable dishes are ornamented with paintings of different vegetables. It was designed for a descriptive table service, so to speak.

Naturally Indignant.

Representative Allen T. Treadway of Massachusetts, who has been touring in Europe, and Levi Cooke of this city, who has been touring in New England, met in the house corridor and swapped experiences. When Cooke's turn came he talked so fast in a word, he described a visit he paid to a certain famous inn in the Berkshires. It was in the nature of a general complaint against the hotel, with a final parting shot at the bed he had to sleep upon. He wound up by telling of discovering scratched on the headboard of the bed these words: "This is the worst bed I ever slept in." (signed) Daniel Webster.

During the entire recital of this story, Mr. Treadway's countenance registered, successively, surprise, indignation, anger, despair, wrath and utter collapse. Impotently he tried to reply to the rapid-fire talk of Mr. Cooke, mopping his brow and the space under his collar with his handkerchief.

Colleagues who observed the scene thought Representative Treadway had a stroke of apoplexy. The real reason is that Treadway owns and operates that particular inn, which has for many years been the model of hotel excellence. Treadway was born on the premises and is proud of the standing of his inn, since it was the principal stage coach stop on the road from Albany to Boston.—Washington Star.

HIS LIFE PENALTY FOR CARRYING A GUN ILLEGALLY

Port Arthur, Ont; Aug. 12—Shot through the head by a bullet from a Winchester rifle, which he had thrown 12 feet down a railway embankment Nestor Tarkasaari was instantly killed at Mile Post 77 on the Canadian National main line west of Port Arthur. Tarkasaari, in company with Matt Niemi were proceeding along the right of way on a speeder and the former was in possession of the rifle, which is contrary to the law. On seeing an approaching freight train the two took the speeder off the track. Tarkasaari threw the gun down the embankment and a cartridge exploded sending a .45 calibre through his brain.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Port Mann, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and run-down. I had headaches and no appetite and was troubled for two years with sleeplessness. I tried many medicines, but nothing did me any real good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a stranger to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. C. GREAVES, Port Mann, B. C.

Feels New Life and Strength
Keene, N. H.—"I was weak and run-down and had backache and all sorts of troubles which women have. I found great relief when taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am able to do my work and feel new life and strength from the Vegetable Compound. I am doing all I can to advertise it."—Mrs. A. F. HAMMOND, 72 Carpenter Street, Keene, N. H. Sick and ailing women everywhere in the Dominion should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
