A despatch of the 13th to London from Copenhagen says a telegram has been received there from Helsingfors to the effect that Lieut. Dentanits Kabanaki and Wiljanoff, aged 30 and 21, and five soldiers were tried by court martial and shot at Sveaborg for connection with the recent mutiny.

The High Mass in St. Dunstan's Cathedral on Sunday was sung by Rev. Father Cullen of St. Paul, Minn., and the sermon was preached by Rev. M. J. Smith, recently ordained here. His text was from the Gospel of the day and his discourse was a practical instruction on the virtues of humility.

Dan McDonald, a native of Hastings, was run over and almost instantly killed at the open hearth furnace Sydney last Friday night about ten o'clock. The deceased was a brakeman on one of the domestic trains, and set a switch in front of the train as it was entering the building. He waited for the train to come up to him and then tried to swing on board, but missing his footing fell underneath the wheels of the car, which ground the life out of him. McDonald was only a young man. Nothing very much was known of him at the plant save his place of residence.

The moving pictures representing San Francisco's earthquake and fire disasters presented in the Opera House here on Thursday and Friday evenings were very interesting and realistic. This exhibition of moving pictures is by Miles Bros., who had a large studio in San Francisco at the time, and whose establishment was destroyed. Under the management of Mr. Leonard J. Mack, this entertainment is highly instructive and interesting. In addition to the San Francisco pictures, others of an amusing nature constitute the second part of the programme. The exhibition deserved a larger attendance than patronized the second night's entertainment.

An Ottawa despatch of the 11th says: A small boy smoking a cigarette in Dobson's barn in Wall street, Hull, started the fire which destroyed thirty-seven houses and rendered forty families, representing about 200 souls, homeless. The loss is about $35,000 of which but $18,000 will be met by insurance. There was a high wind from the southwest and when the blaze started fears were entertained that the great fire of 1900 would be repeated. The flames however were carried away from the populous part of the city. The Hull brigade fought valiantly, and were soon aided by Chief Provost and some of his men from Ottawa.

On Thursday afternoon the Government steamer Montcalm arrived at Charlottetown. She had on board Hon. L. P. The Minister is presumably securing information regarding the conditions usually attending winter navigation of the Straits. The Montcalm went to Souris Friday.

A despatch of the 13th from St. Petersburg says:—Grand Duke Nicholas Nikolaevitch has declined to accept the post of Commander in Chief of all the troops of the Empire "where martial law exists" which was tendered him on August 4th. Whether this was decided before or after the attempt on the life of the Grand Duke at Krasnoyelo on August 10th is not known but the automobile reason is that Grand Duke Nicholas believes such a post should not be given to a grand duke but a military man. The duke advocates the appointment of General Lwowitch, formerly Commander in Chief of the Manchurian army, but the Emperor has not finally decided the matter.
