Neuralgia, or Tio-Doloreux, is one of the most painful affections to which she human family is subject. It more commonly occurs in the nerves of the face, though it is met with in different parts of the head, in the breast, hip-joint, and in other parts of the body and limbs. Its attack is usually sudden, and the paroxysm of pain varies in its duration. The pain is agonizing, Iancinating, and shooting along the nerves like a shock of electricity, frequently feeling as if red-hot wire were thrust into the parts, and after the pain passes away, a numbness remains for a while. At these times, in stead of attacking suddenly, it commences with a slight heat, or sense of itching or numbness, which augments in severty more or less rapidly. The pain increases from time to time, until it becomes almost unbearable. Dr. J. Briggs' Allevantor is a positive remedy. Sold by E. Harvey & Co., and all druggists and country merchants generally. Dr. J. Briggs & Co., proprietors, 208 Broadway, N.Y., and No. 6, King-st. west, Toronto.
