

Business Cards.

FREDERICK BISCOE, Barrister and Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Government, &c. Guelph, Office, corner of Wyndham and Quebec Streets. dw

AUSTIN G. CHADWICK, Barrister at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, &c. Market Place, Guelph. Office entrance next door to the Queen's Hotel. dw

STEPHEN BOULT, Architect, Contractor and Builder, Planning Mill, and every kind of Joiner's Work prepared for the trade and the public. The factory is on Quebec street, Guelph. dw

OLIVER, MACDONALD & O'LEER, Barristers and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors, Notaries Public, &c. Office—Corner of Wyndham and Quebec Streets, up stairs, Guelph, Ont. dw

WILLIAM J. PATERSON, Official Assignee for the County of Wellington. Office—Opposite Town Hall, Guelph. dw

THORP'S HOTEL, GUELPH, remodelled and newly furnished. Good accommodation for commercial travellers. Free combings to and from all trains. First-class livery in connection. May 14th JAS. A. THORP, Proprietor. dw

DRS. KEATING & WORSFOLD, Physicians, Surgeons, &c. Office—the late Dr. Howitt's, Essex street, Guelph. dw

DR. BROCK, RESIDENCE Directly opposite Chalmers' Church, QUEBEC STREET. d

JOHN KIRKHAM, Silver Plater and Brass Finisher. All orders promptly attended to. Shop—opposite Chalmers' Church, Quebec Street, Guelph. dw

GUTHRIE, WATT & CUTTEN, Barristers, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, GUELPH, ONTARIO. dw

GUTHRIE, WATT, & CUTTEN, Guelph, March 1, 1871. dw

F. STURDY, House, Sign, & Ornamental Painter. GRAINER AND PAPER-HANGER. Shop next to the Wellington Hotel, Wyndham Street, Guelph. 127-47y.

MRS. A. T. HEATHFIELD, Organist and Teacher of Music. Is now prepared, and will be happy to receive pupils for instruction in Music, both Vocal and Instrumental. Piano, Organ, Harmonium, Violin, also in Harmony and Composition. References kindly permitted to the Rev. Canon Brewster, Guelph; Samuel Wilmut, Esq., Newcastle, and Mrs. Judge Boncher, Cobourg. For terms and particulars apply to Mr. Heathfield, Norfolk Street, opposite the New Baptist Church. d

DRESS MAKING. Miss Craven. Late from Montreal is prepared to undertake Dressmaking, Cutting and Fitting in all its branches. All kinds of patterns for ladies and children for sale. Sandilands-st. over Mr. Kennedy's Food Store. Guelph, July 2, 1872. a

PRIZE DENTISTRY. DR. ROBERT CAMPBELL, Licentiate of Dental Surgery. Established 1864. Office next door to the "Advertiser" Office, Wyndham-st., Guelph. Residence opposite Mr. Boulton's Factory. Quebec Street. Teeth extracted without pain. References: H. Clarke, Tuck, McGee, Herod, McGregor, and Cowan, Guelph; Drs. Buchanan and Phillips, Toronto; Drs. Elliot, & Meyers, Dentists, Toronto. dw

W. M. POSTER, L. D. S., SURGEON DENTIST, GUELPH. Office over E. Harwood & Co's Drug Store, Corner of Wyndham and Macdonnell-sts. Guelph. (Laughing gas) administered for the relief of nervous patients. Extraction of teeth without pain, which is perfectly safe and reliable. References: H. Clarke, Tuck, McGee, Herod, McGregor, and Cowan, Guelph; Drs. Buchanan and Phillips, Toronto; Drs. Elliot, & Meyers, Dentists, Toronto. dw

DOMINION SALOON. The Coolest and Nicest Summer Drinks. A supply of the Montreal CELEBRATED GINGER ALE always on hand. The best Liqueurs and Cigars always in stock. Guelph, June 14, 1872. DENIS BUNYAN, dw

PARKERS HOTEL, DIRECTLY OPPOSITE THE MARKET, GUELPH. First-class accommodation for travellers. Commodious stabling and an attentive hostler. The best of Liqueurs and Cigars at the bar. JAMES PARKER, Proprietor. Guelph, Feb. 6, 1872. dw

CONNOR'S BILLIARD HALL, IN THE QUEEN'S HOTEL, GUELPH, OPPOSITE THE MARKET. Re-fitted in the latest fashion. Five latest styles Rhean Tables. dw

ROYAL HOTEL LIVERY STABLE. The subscriber begs to notify the public that he has purchased the above livery from Mr. Geo. W. Jessop, and will continue the business as heretofore. Having made considerable improvements, he will be able at all times to meet the wants of the travelling public. First-class turnouts ready at the shortest notice. Guelph, 6th Dec. 47y W. J. WILSON.

CASH FOR WOOL, HIDES, SHEEP-SKINS, CALF SKINS, and WOOL. PICKERING. The highest market price paid for the above at No. 4, Govon Street, Day's Oil Block, Guelph. Plasterers Haircombs sent on hand for sale by H. MILTON & BISH. Guelph, April 19, 72. dw

New Advertisements.

COLD SPECTACLES LOST.—Yesterday (Tuesday) between Scroggie & Newton's, and the market. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving them at this office. dw

WANTED—A situation as house-keeper, by a widow lately out from England. Good references. Apply to Mrs. Chester, care of Mr. James Walker, Doon P. O. dw

ROOMS.—A lady and gentleman, or two gentlemen, can be accommodated with private rooms, with or without board, by applying to Miss Card, Mr. Hodg's new terrace, George Street. dw

NOTICE.—The Members of Victoria Lodge, No. 138, B. A. O. of G. T., are requested to present at the Good Templars' Hall, on FRIDAY EVENING, at 8 o'clock, as business of importance is to be transacted. D. A. KRIBS, Secretary. dw

GUELPH RIFLE COMPANY. The above Company will parade in the Drill Shed on THURSDAY EVENING, at 7 o'clock, at 7.30. A full attendance is requested. By order, GEO. BRUCE, Capt. Com. No. 1. dw

LOTS FOR SALE.—For sale twenty-four lots in Jackson's Survey, near Mr. Horsman's residence. Twenty-three of the lots are a quarter of an acre each, more or less. Terms, one-fifth of the purchase money down, the balance in five years, with interest at 6 per cent. Apply to John Jackson, tanner, Guelph. my30-3md

NOTICE.—A special meeting of the Johnston Lodge of Good Young Britons will be held in the Orange Hall, Guelph, on MONDAY EVENING, August 5th, at 7.30 o'clock, sharp, for the installation of Officers. Bro. Gibson, G.M., of Toronto, will be present. A full attendance is requested. By order of the W.M. G. MARTIN, Sec. dw

GUELPH ACADEMY. Re opens Monday, August 12th. Particular attention devoted to the English and Commercial Branches. Terms on application. JNO. MARTIN, dw

INSOLVENT ACT OF 1869. In the matter of THOMAS & DUDSON, Boiler Makers, London, and the Creditors as against them. The Insolvents have made an assignment of their Estates to me, and the Creditors are notified to meet at my office, in Guelph, on the 14th day of August, at 10 o'clock, a.m., to receive statements of their affairs, and to appoint an Assignee. WILLIAM J. PATERSON, Official Assignee. Dated at Guelph this 25th day of July, 1872. dw

TOWN HALL, TWO NIGHTS ONLY. Friday and Saturday, Aug. 9th & 10th. ERIN AND THE BRENNANS. New Scenery of Ireland. And Comedy Company. Mrs. R. A. BRENNAN, as Kathleen, the Queen of Irish Songs; Miss ANNIE BELY, as Nora, the charming Character Vocalist, Jig and Keel Artist; Mr. SIM COHAN, as Dublin Dan, the Irish Guide, Irish Comedian and Jig Dancer; Mr. GEO. F. GORRIG, as Klunfenheller, the Dutch Tomist, in his Dutch Songs; Mr. R. A. BRENNAN, Baritone Vocalist, Humorous and Descriptive Lecturer. Prof. HODGKINS, Organist, Pianist & Vocalist. Acknowledged by the Press to be the best musical talent which ever travelled through Canada. See programme. C. H. HICKS, Reserved Seats, Guelph, Aug. 3, 1872. dw

EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS FOR Two Weeks Only. P. C. ALLAN. Previous to closing his Cheap Sale, will for the next two weeks, as a partial return for the liberal patronage he has received from his inhabitants of Guelph, give the following extraordinary Bargains: 30 cents worth best Honey Soap for... 10c 25c Tortoise Shell Combs... 10c 15c India Rubber Combs... 5c Best finished opera collars, worth 20c 10c Neck Ties... 5c 25c Rubber Bracelets... 15c 10c Quire Foolscap Paper for... 5c Cruetstands, worth $3, for... 1.50 The above is only a few of the extraordinary Bargains we are giving. We have hundreds of others just as good. Your choice of five standard books for $1.00. So come along with a rush, but don't come altogether. P. C. ALLAN, Remember the Sign of the Red Flag, opposite the English Church, Guelph, Aug. 3, 1872. dw

CHRISTADELPHIAN MEETING ROOM. The Society of CHRISTADELPHIANS continue to hold meetings in the upper room. Over McCullough & Moore's Drug Store, Every SUNDAY AFTERNOON, at 2 o'clock, where Scripture Readings, and Expositions of said Readings are given, in harmony with "The Things Concerning the Kingdom of God, and the Name of Jesus Christ."

A LECTURE. Will be given. Next Sunday (D.V.) the 4th of August, Commencing at the usual hour, 2 p.m. Subject of the Lecture, THE BIBLE: What it is! What it is not!

In the elucidation of which the lecturer will show the contrast between the TEACHING OF THE CLERGY (who make the Bible a text book in support of the Contradictory Creeds of Christendom) and the TEACHING OF THE BIBLE ITSELF concerning the Great Salvation. Bible Readers (of every Creed) are invited to attend. No collections. dw

Guelph Evening Mercury

SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 3, 1872

Local and Other Items.

CHEAP SALE.—We call attention to the advt. of Mr. P. C. Allan's cheap sale. dw

EMERSON AND THE BRENNANS.—As will be observed from advertisement in another column, Mr. and Mrs. Brennan give two entertainments here in the Town Hall on Friday and Saturday next week. Mr. and Mrs. Brennan have gained golden opinions for themselves and their entertainments by all who have heard them, and we doubt not that they will be gladly welcomed to Guelph and treated to bumper toasts. dw

LARGENT.—On Tuesday last a young man, named John McGillivuddy, was brought to jail by constable Fraser, for stealing about forty dollars from Smith & McEwen, Lowville. He was arrested in Oakville and committed by the Mayor and Mr. Balmer for trial. Five years ago McGillivuddy was tried before the late Judge Davis here, for burning his father's barn in Nelson, and sent to the Reformatory at Penitentiary for five years, from which place he has lately come.—Milton Champion. dw

MAN TORN TO PIECES IN A THRESHING MACHINE.—A most horrifying and sickening accident occurred, on Monday last, on the farm of Mr. George Mitchell, proprietor of the Dog's Nest tavern, in the township of Woodhouse. Mr. Mitchell had a threshing machine at work in one of his fields, threshing wheat, when a poor, simple man, who went by the name of "Crazy Allick" (real name, Alexander McCannan) met with a most horrid death. He was passing over the machine while it was in motion, and fell into the thrasher, which tore one of his legs off and his bowels out. Strong men fainted at the sickening sight, and every present was horrified. When all the people learn to do away with the use of whiskey? dw

Base Ball Notes. The Athletics, of Elora, are coming down to Guelph on Monday to play their return match with the Union. Through some misunderstanding a ground could not be settled upon until last evening, when it was decided to play upon the Cricket Ground, near Goldie's Mills. Ball to bat sharp at 2 p.m. Now that a good ground has been secured we hope to see a match of more interest than that made in Elora a few weeks ago. No admission fee. Visitors welcome. A match is in progress this afternoon between the employees of Armstrong's and Parker's Carriage Works. The Independents play their return match with the 2nd line of the Union next Thursday afternoon. dw

Lennox Election. MR. CARTWRIGHT'S MAJORITY 660. The following are the majorities as far as heard from: CARTWRIGHT, STEVENSON, Amherst Island, 80 — Ernestown, 334 — Bath, 15 — Richmond, 157 — St. Fredericksburg, 27 — N. Fredericksburg, 66 — Nanapan, 19 — Majority for Cartwright, 660, with Adolphus yet to hear from. dw

Lincoln Election. MERRITT, MCKEOWN, St. Catharines, 474 19 — Grantham, 202 537 — Port Dalhousie, 56 37 — Louth, 123 41 — Grimsby, 154 176 — Majority for Merritt, 574. dw

Railway Rings. What has Sir Francis Hincks to say to the people of this Riding, and to the people of this Riding, and if elected would give them satisfaction. He hoped they would give him a large majority. Hon. Mr. McKellar was nominated by Mr. Robert Hay, seconded by Mr. McMullen. Dr. Mandley was nominated by Mr. A. Hunt, seconded by Mr. Harper. Mr. Chadwick was nominated by Mr. J. M. Fraser, seconded by Captain Thompson. Mr. Charles Clarke was nominated by Mr. Sheppard, seconded by Mr. Goodall. Mr. J. M. Fraser was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Chadwick. Mr. McKim was nominated by Mr. McMullen, seconded by Mr. O'Callaghan. Mr. A. Hunt was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Rathwell. This closed the nominations. Mr. Drew then came forward and was received with mingled cheers and groans. After remarking that he has been called on first to speak gave his opponent the advantage of replying to him, he referred to the statement Mr. Robertson had made, that he was sailing under false colours. He would appeal to every elector that his colours were the same as those he displayed five years ago, and that he had given no uncertain sound. He went to Ottawa a supporter of the Government. There were no political issues then, Confederation was but on paper, and he reserved the right to vote as circumstances guided him. He had given the Government his hearty support to carry out Confederation. He occupied the same position to-day, and if again elected he would continue to give the Government a warm and hearty support. He would give a few reasons why he thus accorded his support to the Government, and would briefly review the legislation of the past five years. The first great difficulty the Government had to deal with was the trouble between Nova Scotia in 1867, when its members came to Ottawa opposed to Confederation, and determined if possible to sever the connection if not by fair means by violence. It is true there was a difference of opinion in regard to the mode of settling this matter, and whether the B. N. American Act could be amended by our Legislature, or had to be done by the Imperial Parliament. But as to the means there was no difference of opinion. Something had to be done to allay the feeling, and the Government by granting that Province an increased subsidy had allayed that feeling and there was now peace and harmony. He then

North Riding of Wellington.

THE NOMINATION AT ARTHUR.

The nomination for the North Riding of Wellington took place at Arthur Village on Friday, shortly after 12 o'clock. The hustings were erected at the side of the Drill Shed. About five hundred of the electors were present, all parts of the Riding being well represented. The Returning Officer, John Anderson, Esq., Registrar for the North Riding, began the proceedings by causing the proclamation for the nomination, and the writ for holding the election to be read, after which he intimated that he was ready to receive nominations. dw

Dr. Mandley, of Maryboro, came forward and said he had great pleasure in nominating his old friend G. A. Drew. He was a tried man, and for whom he was assured they would work and place him at the head of the poll. He then went into a review of the political record of the last five years, defended the course the Government and Mr. Drew had pursued in connection with the Intercolonial Railway, and speaking in defense of the route adopted declared that Mr. Mackenzie was at first in favour of it. If there was any blame to be attached in this matter the Reformers had to share it with the Conservatives. He maintained that road, now nearly completed, the Parliament had been unable to detect the slightest corruption. He then went into a lengthy defence of the Washington Treaty, and maintained that it has and will continue to bring peace and prosperity to Canada. He also accused the Government of giving the additional subsidy to Nova Scotia, and considered that the outrage done to the constitution was palliated by the necessity for conciliating that Province. Then he gave the Government credit for deepening the canals, building railroads, erecting light-houses, and other great things which justified the Government in the course they had pursued in regard to the Pacific Railway, and prophesied that when that road was built John A. Macdonald would out of our great territory in the West side off half a dozen more provinces, when Ontario would maintain the balance of power, and Toronto become the metropolis of the Confederated Provinces. He thought they could do better than send a man like Mr. Drew to represent them, who had no one to stick into the Local Government. We had he said one missionary here to-day (referring to Hon. Mr. McKellar) whom he charged with having got a registration for his son who was at the time under age. He also accused the Local Government of corrupting members, went into a long tirade about the Government failing to give the county a share of the surplus in consideration of the bonuses granted by the municipalities for the construction of railroads, referred to course to the Protection, and then finished the speech by Mr. Robert Gordon of Arthur, seconded the nomination, and hoped they would give Mr. Drew a "wapping" majority. dw

Mr. Samuel Robertson of Hollis, said he had appeared before the electors 18 months ago to nominate a gentleman for the Local House who was victorious at the election, and he appeared to nominate another gentleman, who he was assured would also be victorious. (Cheers.) He had great pleasure in nominating Col. Higginbotham, who he called under no false colours, who told them plainly what he would do, and who if elected would perform what he promised. Such was not the case with their old representative. He came before them at last election begging for fair play and a fair trial and he had got it. But what was the result? The legislation in which he had been concerned was not calculated to benefit the country, and Mr. Drew taking no thought of that had simply voted to maintain the Government in power. On these grounds it was the duty of every lover of his country to oppose Mr. Drew, and on the polling day he trusted they would roll up a handsome majority for Higginbotham as they had done for McKim. (Cheers.) dw

Mr. William Stevenson, Reeve of Arthur, seconded the nomination. Col. Higginbotham was well known to the people of this Riding, and if elected would give them satisfaction. He hoped they would give him a large majority. Hon. Mr. McKellar was nominated by Mr. Robert Hay, seconded by Mr. McMullen. Dr. Mandley was nominated by Mr. A. Hunt, seconded by Mr. Harper. Mr. Chadwick was nominated by Mr. J. M. Fraser, seconded by Captain Thompson. Mr. Charles Clarke was nominated by Mr. Sheppard, seconded by Mr. Goodall. Mr. J. M. Fraser was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Chadwick. Mr. McKim was nominated by Mr. McMullen, seconded by Mr. O'Callaghan. Mr. A. Hunt was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Rathwell. This closed the nominations. Mr. Drew then came forward and was received with mingled cheers and groans. After remarking that he has been called on first to speak gave his opponent the advantage of replying to him, he referred to the statement Mr. Robertson had made, that he was sailing under false colours. He would appeal to every elector that his colours were the same as those he displayed five years ago, and that he had given no uncertain sound. He went to Ottawa a supporter of the Government. There were no political issues then, Confederation was but on paper, and he reserved the right to vote as circumstances guided him. He had given the Government his hearty support to carry out Confederation. He occupied the same position to-day, and if again elected he would continue to give the Government a warm and hearty support. He would give a few reasons why he thus accorded his support to the Government, and would briefly review the legislation of the past five years. The first great difficulty the Government had to deal with was the trouble between Nova Scotia in 1867, when its members came to Ottawa opposed to Confederation, and determined if possible to sever the connection if not by fair means by violence. It is true there was a difference of opinion in regard to the mode of settling this matter, and whether the B. N. American Act could be amended by our Legislature, or had to be done by the Imperial Parliament. But as to the means there was no difference of opinion. Something had to be done to allay the feeling, and the Government by granting that Province an increased subsidy had allayed that feeling and there was now peace and harmony. He then

briefly referred to the Intercolonial Railway, to the admission of British Columbia and the building of the Pacific Railway. He claimed for the Government that they had entered on the construction of these great railroads without increasing taxation, which fact was a good guarantee and evidence that the affairs of the country were well managed. On all these measures he had voted with the Government. There were other votes which had been misrepresented and distorted, and which from the way they were explained looked bad on the face of them, (hear, hear) but when he explained them, the people were satisfied he had done right. (Ironical cheers.) It was impossible for him to go over and explain all these votes, as it would occupy more than the hour allotted to him to speak. He would rather call their attention to broad facts, which would afford sufficient evidence that the course the Government which he supported had pursued was wise and judicious. The Government had been able to carry out their measures without increasing the taxes on the necessities of life, and only a month ago they had taken the tax of tea and coffee. For these reasons he supported the Government. They had established a Confederation on a sure basis, and done their work well. He then went on at some length to defend the course of the Government on the Washington Treaty, and in regard to the Pacific Railway said they had been grossly misrepresented. With regard to the Washington Treaty, he said he had not got all we asked were going to cut off our nose to spite our face. (Laughter.) The Opposition say we should not have given anything, but when the Lower Provinces were satisfied with its provisions, they were not to be placed in no worse position than we were before. (Cheers and groans.) With regard to the Pacific Railway they were told that the Government voted thirty millions away for the work, that part of it went for secret service money, and that he got part of it. (A voice so you did.) He had voted against this road the first session it came up, as then the Government had no tangible scheme to lay before the House. But when they came down with their scheme last session he supported it, for the Government had built without one cent of the Local Government. We had he said one missionary here to-day (referring to Hon. Mr. McKellar) whom he charged with having got a registration for his son who was at the time under age. He also accused the Local Government of corrupting members, went into a long tirade about the Government failing to give the county a share of the surplus in consideration of the bonuses granted by the municipalities for the construction of railroads, referred to course to the Protection, and then finished the speech by Mr. Robert Gordon of Arthur, seconded the nomination, and hoped they would give Mr. Drew a "wapping" majority. dw

Mr. Samuel Robertson of Hollis, said he had appeared before the electors 18 months ago to nominate a gentleman for the Local House who was victorious at the election, and he appeared to nominate another gentleman, who he was assured would also be victorious. (Cheers.) He had great pleasure in nominating Col. Higginbotham, who he called under no false colours, who told them plainly what he would do, and who if elected would perform what he promised. Such was not the case with their old representative. He came before them at last election begging for fair play and a fair trial and he had got it. But what was the result? The legislation in which he had been concerned was not calculated to benefit the country, and Mr. Drew taking no thought of that had simply voted to maintain the Government in power. On these grounds it was the duty of every lover of his country to oppose Mr. Drew, and on the polling day he trusted they would roll up a handsome majority for Higginbotham as they had done for McKim. (Cheers.) dw

Mr. William Stevenson, Reeve of Arthur, seconded the nomination. Col. Higginbotham was well known to the people of this Riding, and if elected would give them satisfaction. He hoped they would give him a large majority. Hon. Mr. McKellar was nominated by Mr. Robert Hay, seconded by Mr. McMullen. Dr. Mandley was nominated by Mr. A. Hunt, seconded by Mr. Harper. Mr. Chadwick was nominated by Mr. J. M. Fraser, seconded by Captain Thompson. Mr. Charles Clarke was nominated by Mr. Sheppard, seconded by Mr. Goodall. Mr. J. M. Fraser was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Chadwick. Mr. McKim was nominated by Mr. McMullen, seconded by Mr. O'Callaghan. Mr. A. Hunt was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Rathwell. This closed the nominations. Mr. Drew then came forward and was received with mingled cheers and groans. After remarking that he has been called on first to speak gave his opponent the advantage of replying to him, he referred to the statement Mr. Robertson had made, that he was sailing under false colours. He would appeal to every elector that his colours were the same as those he displayed five years ago, and that he had given no uncertain sound. He went to Ottawa a supporter of the Government. There were no political issues then, Confederation was but on paper, and he reserved the right to vote as circumstances guided him. He had given the Government his hearty support to carry out Confederation. He occupied the same position to-day, and if again elected he would continue to give the Government a warm and hearty support. He would give a few reasons why he thus accorded his support to the Government, and would briefly review the legislation of the past five years. The first great difficulty the Government had to deal with was the trouble between Nova Scotia in 1867, when its members came to Ottawa opposed to Confederation, and determined if possible to sever the connection if not by fair means by violence. It is true there was a difference of opinion in regard to the mode of settling this matter, and whether the B. N. American Act could be amended by our Legislature, or had to be done by the Imperial Parliament. But as to the means there was no difference of opinion. Something had to be done to allay the feeling, and the Government by granting that Province an increased subsidy had allayed that feeling and there was now peace and harmony. He then

briefly referred to the Intercolonial Railway, to the admission of British Columbia and the building of the Pacific Railway. He claimed for the Government that they had entered on the construction of these great railroads without increasing taxation, which fact was a good guarantee and evidence that the affairs of the country were well managed. On all these measures he had voted with the Government. There were other votes which had been misrepresented and distorted, and which from the way they were explained looked bad on the face of them, (hear, hear) but when he explained them, the people were satisfied he had done right. (Ironical cheers.) It was impossible for him to go over and explain all these votes, as it would occupy more than the hour allotted to him to speak. He would rather call their attention to broad facts, which would afford sufficient evidence that the course the Government which he supported had pursued was wise and judicious. The Government had been able to carry out their measures without increasing the taxes on the necessities of life, and only a month ago they had taken the tax of tea and coffee. For these reasons he supported the Government. They had established a Confederation on a sure basis, and done their work well. He then went on at some length to defend the course of the Government on the Washington Treaty, and in regard to the Pacific Railway said they had been grossly misrepresented. With regard to the Washington Treaty, he said he had not got all we asked were going to cut off our nose to spite our face. (Laughter.) The Opposition say we should not have given anything, but when the Lower Provinces were satisfied with its provisions, they were not to be placed in no worse position than we were before. (Cheers and groans.) With regard to the Pacific Railway they were told that the Government voted thirty millions away for the work, that part of it went for secret service money, and that he got part of it. (A voice so you did.) He had voted against this road the first session it came up, as then the Government had no tangible scheme to lay before the House. But when they came down with their scheme last session he supported it, for the Government had built without one cent of the Local Government. We had he said one missionary here to-day (referring to Hon. Mr. McKellar) whom he charged with having got a registration for his son who was at the time under age. He also accused the Local Government of corrupting members, went into a long tirade about the Government failing to give the county a share of the surplus in consideration of the bonuses granted by the municipalities for the construction of railroads, referred to course to the Protection, and then finished the speech by Mr. Robert Gordon of Arthur, seconded the nomination, and hoped they would give Mr. Drew a "wapping" majority. dw

Mr. Samuel Robertson of Hollis, said he had appeared before the electors 18 months ago to nominate a gentleman for the Local House who was victorious at the election, and he appeared to nominate another gentleman, who he was assured would also be victorious. (Cheers.) He had great pleasure in nominating Col. Higginbotham, who he called under no false colours, who told them plainly what he would do, and who if elected would perform what he promised. Such was not the case with their old representative. He came before them at last election begging for fair play and a fair trial and he had got it. But what was the result? The legislation in which he had been concerned was not calculated to benefit the country, and Mr. Drew taking no thought of that had simply voted to maintain the Government in power. On these grounds it was the duty of every lover of his country to oppose Mr. Drew, and on the polling day he trusted they would roll up a handsome majority for Higginbotham as they had done for McKim. (Cheers.) dw

Mr. William Stevenson, Reeve of Arthur, seconded the nomination. Col. Higginbotham was well known to the people of this Riding, and if elected would give them satisfaction. He hoped they would give him a large majority. Hon. Mr. McKellar was nominated by Mr. Robert Hay, seconded by Mr. McMullen. Dr. Mandley was nominated by Mr. A. Hunt, seconded by Mr. Harper. Mr. Chadwick was nominated by Mr. J. M. Fraser, seconded by Captain Thompson. Mr. Charles Clarke was nominated by Mr. Sheppard, seconded by Mr. Goodall. Mr. J. M. Fraser was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Chadwick. Mr. McKim was nominated by Mr. McMullen, seconded by Mr. O'Callaghan. Mr. A. Hunt was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Rathwell. This closed the nominations. Mr. Drew then came forward and was received with mingled cheers and groans. After remarking that he has been called on first to speak gave his opponent the advantage of replying to him, he referred to the statement Mr. Robertson had made, that he was sailing under false colours. He would appeal to every elector that his colours were the same as those he displayed five years ago, and that he had given no uncertain sound. He went to Ottawa a supporter of the Government. There were no political issues then, Confederation was but on paper, and he reserved the right to vote as circumstances guided him. He had given the Government his hearty support to carry out Confederation. He occupied the same position to-day, and if again elected he would continue to give the Government a warm and hearty support. He would give a few reasons why he thus accorded his support to the Government, and would briefly review the legislation of the past five years. The first great difficulty the Government had to deal with was the trouble between Nova Scotia in 1867, when its members came to Ottawa opposed to Confederation, and determined if possible to sever the connection if not by fair means by violence. It is true there was a difference of opinion in regard to the mode of settling this matter, and whether the B. N. American Act could be amended by our Legislature, or had to be done by the Imperial Parliament. But as to the means there was no difference of opinion. Something had to be done to allay the feeling, and the Government by granting that Province an increased subsidy had allayed that feeling and there was now peace and harmony. He then

briefly referred to the Intercolonial Railway, to the admission of British Columbia and the building of the Pacific Railway. He claimed for the Government that they had entered on the construction of these great railroads without increasing taxation, which fact was a good guarantee and evidence that the affairs of the country were well managed. On all these measures he had voted with the Government. There were other votes which had been misrepresented and distorted, and which from the way they were explained looked bad on the face of them, (hear, hear) but when he explained them, the people were satisfied he had done right. (Ironical cheers.) It was impossible for him to go over and explain all these votes, as it would occupy more than the hour allotted to him to speak. He would rather call their attention to broad facts, which would afford sufficient evidence that the course the Government which he supported had pursued was wise and judicious. The Government had been able to carry out their measures without increasing the taxes on the necessities of life, and only a month ago they had taken the tax of tea and coffee. For these reasons he supported the Government. They had established a Confederation on a sure basis, and done their work well. He then went on at some length to defend the course of the Government on the Washington Treaty, and in regard to the Pacific Railway said they had been grossly misrepresented. With regard to the Washington Treaty, he said he had not got all we asked were going to cut off our nose to spite our face. (Laughter.) The Opposition say we should not have given anything, but when the Lower Provinces were satisfied with its provisions, they were not to be placed in no worse position than we were before. (Cheers and groans.) With regard to the Pacific Railway they were told that the Government voted thirty millions away for the work, that part of it went for secret service money, and that he got part of it. (A voice so you did.) He had voted against this road the first session it came up, as then the Government had no tangible scheme to lay before the House. But when they came down with their scheme last session he supported it, for the Government had built without one cent of the Local Government. We had he said one missionary here to-day (referring to Hon. Mr. McKellar) whom he charged with having got a registration for his son who was at the time under age. He also accused the Local Government of corrupting members, went into a long tirade about the Government failing to give the county a share of the surplus in consideration of the bonuses granted by the municipalities for the construction of railroads, referred to course to the Protection, and then finished the speech by Mr. Robert Gordon of Arthur, seconded the nomination, and hoped they would give Mr. Drew a "wapping" majority. dw

Mr. Samuel Robertson of Hollis, said he had appeared before the electors 18 months ago to nominate a gentleman for the Local House who was victorious at the election, and he appeared to nominate another gentleman, who he was assured would also be victorious. (Cheers.) He had great pleasure in nominating Col. Higginbotham, who he called under no false colours, who told them plainly what he would do, and who if elected would perform what he promised. Such was not the case with their old representative. He came before them at last election begging for fair play and a fair trial and he had got it. But what was the result? The legislation in which he had been concerned was not calculated to benefit the country, and Mr. Drew taking no thought of that had simply voted to maintain the Government in power. On these grounds it was the duty of every lover of his country to oppose Mr. Drew, and on the polling day he trusted they would roll up a handsome majority for Higginbotham as they had done for McKim. (Cheers.) dw

Mr. William Stevenson, Reeve of Arthur, seconded the nomination. Col. Higginbotham was well known to the people of this Riding, and if elected would give them satisfaction. He hoped they would give him a large majority. Hon. Mr. McKellar was nominated by Mr. Robert Hay, seconded by Mr. McMullen. Dr. Mandley was nominated by Mr. A. Hunt, seconded by Mr. Harper. Mr. Chadwick was nominated by Mr. J. M. Fraser, seconded by Captain Thompson. Mr. Charles Clarke was nominated by Mr. Sheppard, seconded by Mr. Goodall. Mr. J. M. Fraser was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Chadwick. Mr. McKim was nominated by Mr. McMullen, seconded by Mr. O'Callaghan. Mr. A. Hunt was nominated by Mr. English, seconded by Mr. Rathwell. This closed the nominations. Mr. Drew then came forward and was received with mingled cheers and groans. After remarking that he has been called on first to speak gave his opponent the advantage of replying to him, he referred to the statement Mr. Robertson had made, that he was sailing under false colours. He would appeal to every elector that his colours were the same as those he displayed five years ago, and that he had given no uncertain sound. He went to Ottawa a supporter of the Government. There were no political issues then, Confederation was but on paper, and he reserved the right to vote as circumstances guided him. He had given the Government his hearty support to carry out Confederation. He occupied the same position to-day, and if again elected he would continue to give the Government a warm and hearty support. He would give a few reasons why he thus accorded his support to the Government, and would briefly review the legislation of the past five years. The first great difficulty the Government had to deal with was the trouble between Nova Scotia in 1867, when its members came to Ottawa opposed to Confederation, and determined if possible to sever the connection if not by fair means by violence. It is true there was a difference of opinion in regard to the mode of settling this matter, and whether the B. N. American Act could be amended by our Legislature, or had to be done by the Imperial Parliament. But as to the means there was no difference of opinion. Something had to be done to allay the feeling, and the Government by granting that Province an increased subsidy had allayed that feeling and there was now peace and harmony. He then

briefly referred to the Intercolonial Railway, to the admission of British Columbia and the building of the Pacific Railway. He claimed for the Government that they had entered on the construction of these great railroads without increasing taxation, which fact was a good guarantee and evidence that the affairs of the country were well managed. On all these measures he had voted with the Government. There were other votes which had been misrepresented and distorted, and which from the way they were explained looked bad on the face of them, (hear, hear) but when he explained them, the people were satisfied he had done right. (Ironical cheers.) It was impossible for him to go over and explain all these votes, as it would occupy more than the hour allotted to him to speak. He would rather call their attention to broad facts, which would afford sufficient evidence that the course the Government which he supported had pursued was wise and judicious. The Government had been able to carry out their measures without increasing the taxes on the necessities of life, and only a month ago they had taken the tax of tea and coffee. For these reasons he supported the Government. They had established a Confederation on a sure basis, and done their work well. He then went on at some length to defend the course of the Government on the Washington Treaty, and in regard to the Pacific Railway said they had been grossly misrepresented. With regard to the Washington Treaty, he said he had not got all we asked were going to cut off our nose to spite our face. (Laughter.) The Opposition say we should not have given anything, but when the Lower Provinces were satisfied with its provisions, they were not to be placed in no worse position than we were before. (Cheers and groans.) With regard to the Pacific Railway they were told that the Government voted thirty millions away for the work, that part of it went for secret service money, and that he got part of it. (A voice so you did.) He had voted against this road the first session it came up, as then the Government had no tangible scheme to lay before the House. But when they came down with their scheme last session he supported it, for the Government had built without one cent of the Local Government. We had he said one missionary here to-day (referring to Hon. Mr. McKellar) whom he charged with having got a registration for his son who was at the time under age. He also accused the Local Government of corrupting members, went into a long tirade about the Government failing to give the county a share of the surplus in consideration of the bonuses granted by the municipalities for the construction of railroads, referred to course to the Protection, and then finished the speech by Mr. Robert Gordon of Arthur, seconded the nomination, and hoped they would give Mr. Drew a "wapping" majority. dw

Mr. Samuel Robertson of Hollis, said he had appeared before the electors 18 months ago to nominate a gentleman for the Local House who was victorious at the election, and he appeared to nominate another gentleman, who he was assured would also be victorious. (Cheers.) He had great pleasure in nominating Col. Higginbotham, who he called under no false colours, who told them plainly what he would do, and who if elected would perform what he promised. Such was not the case with their old representative. He came before them at last election begging for fair play and a fair trial and he had got it. But what was the result? The legislation in which he had been concerned was not calculated to benefit the country, and Mr. Drew taking no thought of that had simply voted to maintain the Government in power. On these grounds it was the duty of every lover of his country to oppose Mr. Drew, and on the polling day he trusted they would roll up a handsome majority for Higginbotham as they had done for McKim. (Cheers.) dw