The Mail's Slanders.

The Mail's Slanders.

Any one who has read the disgraceful attacks and malignant slanders of the Mail on Hon. Mr. McKellar and Rev. Mr. King, in connection with the Elgin Association, will heartily endorse all that is said in the following scathing rebuke administered to that unscrupulous sheet by the Hamilton Times. In the whole history of Canadian journalism, we do not recollect such another case, where men of character, reputation and honesty, have been persistently and systematically slandered in the foulest manner, their every act and word in connection with this matter twisted and perverted, and in some cases falsified, and all their benevolent efforts for the good of the poor blacks made to appear as if prompted by selfishness, and for the purpose of raising money to be afterwards appropriated by themselves. We are glad to see that scarcely one of the Conservative papers have backed up the Mail in its disgraceful and revengeful attacks, so that it stands almost alone in its unenviable notoriety in its persecution of a political opponent and an unoffending philanthropic minister of the gospel. The Times says:—

"We do not believe that, in the whole history of journalism, anything more in-

The Times says:—

"We do not believe that, in the whole history of journalism, anything more infamous than the course pursued by Macdonald's hired slanderers towards the Hon. Mr. McKellar was ever exhibited.

There is a malice in it that is inhuman—a coarseness that is brutal—an untruthfulness that is dispraceful. In the men who indulge in it, we have the Darwinian theory reversed. Not brutes developed into men, but men developed into brutes. In their reckless fury they have dragged into the newspaper arena an honored minister of the gospel, whose life has been a record of unselfish usefulness—who has labored with a hallowed zeal on behalf of an oppressed and suffering people—who has beggared himself in his devotion to a philanthropic cause. Against this man, who has sacrificed everything for the good of others, they have forged the most atrocious calumnies—manufactured charges of fraud and embezzlement, and have heaved on hum securious and and after the company had done full instice to the excellent supper provided by Mr. Caphlen, he proposed the health of Mr. McLeod in very appropiate terms. He referred to Mr. McLeod's early connection with the organ and melodeon noniness in Guelph, to the energy and and perseverance he had always manifested in extending it, and to the large share of the work he had performed in making that business what it to day is in Guelph. He spoke also of the kindly relations which had subsisted between the employees and Mr. McLeod, to their regret at the severance of the connection between them, and concluded by wishing him, in his own behalf and that of the iemployees, all success and happiness in his new sphere of labour. He then, n name of the workmen, presented him with a handsome silver hunting watch, purchased from Mr. D. Savage, and read the following address:

DEAR SIR,—On retiring from the position you have occupied during the past three and a half years, we beg your acceptance of the accompanying token of our esteem and respect. We trust that the same success will attend you efforts in your new sphere, as has followed your undertakings during your residence in Guelph.

Against this man, who has sacrificed everything for the good of others, they have forged the most atrocious calumnies—manufactured charges of fraud and embezzlement, and have heaped on hum scurrilous and ribald epithets. And all for what? All because Mr. McKellar at one time game thing rations assistance in his philanthropic efforts, and by blackening him they hope to divert some of the stain to the character of Mr. McKellar. They seek to degrade the character of a Christian Minister, so that if possible through them they can strike at the fair fame of a political opponent. No more atrocious offenee against decenory, good tacte, and morality was ever before perpetrated in a Christian community."

The Herald is getting very much excited over the coming Municipal Elections, and is particularly anxious to know whether or not Mr. Massie intends to run for Mayor. It has never got over his xrst great victory when he ran for Reeve against Mr. Chadwick, and whipped him by a handsome majority. Since the eventful day to the defeated aspirant—or rather since this same aspirant got control of the Herald—it has manifested a remorseless desire for reveage by bitter, personal and unjary of the serve that of the received of the population of this town in the town of the search of the serve did in the great bulk of the ratepayers. The animus of these attacks are too apparent to have any injurious effect, for they only serve to show to what length disappointed ambition will sometimes impel a man in his desire for revenge, which have only served to make Mr. Massie more oppulared to have any injurious effect, for they only serve to show to what length disappointed ambition will sometimes impel a man in his desire for revenge, which have been time and the present present present present for they only serve to show to what length disappointed ambition will sometimes impel a man in his desire for revenge.

Let the Herald possess its little soul in patience Mr. Massie, no doubt, will declare his intentions at the proper time. Whether he runs for Mayor, or whether he retires altogether from the Council through press of private business, he deserves the thanks of the people of this town for the valuable services he has rendered it, not only for the faithful discharge of his duties, but for his successful efforts in giving to Guelph a reputation and position which it never before at tained.

For the present we leave the matter, feeling assured that the rateracy refeling assured that the rateracy will, at the proper time, fix on the right man for Mayor, and elect him too, without asking or caring whether or not the Herald is in favor of him.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Mail says that ar Archibald has pressed the acceptance of his resignation as Governor of Manitoba on Sir John Macdonald, being unwilling to return to that country, and it is rumoured that his resignation has been accepted. It is also rumoured that the vacant office has been given to Col. W Coffin, of late years their of the Ordnance lands branch of the State Department at Ottawa. It is also stated that the appointment of the gentlemen to compose the Executive Council for the North-west territory has engaged attention, and that the name of those selected will be made public within a short time.

We notice that the New Store, advertised as having a Manufacturer s Stock of Dry Goods to rush off, is creating a panic among the stores in Town. We would advise all who wish unheard of bargains to call at once, for if the slaughtering in prices be kept up for a little longer, the whole Stock must be grabbed up. Mr. Knowles, the Agent, is having a tremendous rush for his goods. The public are not slow to take advantage of the great bargains he is oftering. His business place is at the Alma Block. The South Bruce Reform Association met on Monday at Riversdale, when the attendance was fair considering the stormy weather and the state of the roads. A deputation was appointed to confer with the West Durham Reform Association, regarding Hon. Edward Blake's seat in the Commons. The proceedings throughout were characterized by unanimity and good feeling. Much satisfaction was expressed at the reconstruction of the Ontario Cabinet with Hon Mr. Mowat as Premier, and rejoicing at Mr. Blake's restoration to health, and at his safe return to the country.
