Rev. Mr. Sinclair, lately from Edinburgh, will take charge of St. Andrew's pastoral work.

At the residence of William West, lot 23, con. 9, London township, on Wednesday evening, the marriage was celebrated of his daughter, Maria Belle, to William George Taylor. About 75 guests were present.
The ceremony was performed by the Rev.
S. W. Muxworthy, of St. Johns. The bride was supported by Miss Jennie Scott, of Telford, and the groom by Mr. A. Langford, of Granville.

After the usual congratulations the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner. The presents were both elaborate and numerous.

Rescued from Drowning.

Messrs. Wm. Eardley and Chas. Thompson went for a row down the river Saturday afternoon. This side of the Cove bridge they passed a little sail boat cutting through the water at a rapid rate. Under the pressure of a high wind. They were looking back at the occupants, two young men named Macbeth and Hunt, in the water in imminent danger of being drowned.
The derelict craft was towed ashore by the occupants of the rowboat, the sail rolled up, and the rescued young men were contained to row up to the city in order to arrest that warmth and circulation which had been temporarily suspended by their cold bath.

Verdict of the Jury.

The inquest on the body of John Morris, the young boy, killed on Saturday morning in the G. T. R. yards, was held in the Police Court before Coroner Smith Saturday evening. The following jury was empanelled: Peter Temple (foreman), Chas.
Halliday, Wm. Barker, A. Johnson, John A. Boppel, Wm. Robinson, E. Altman, Chas. Chammer, J. McKinnon, Wm.
J. J. Allison, John Orchard, Lorenzo Q. Rapley, Chas. Stinson and J.
D. Campbell. In the afternoon the jury retained the remains at the scene of the fatal accident, and the coroner adjourned to 10 a.m. to-morrow.

There was no evidence to show that there had been criminal neglect on the part of any person that gave rise to the death. The following verdict was rendered: "On June 7, A.D.
1890, in the Grand Trunk Railway yard in London, John Morris was accidentally killed by several pieces of machinery falling on him from a flat-car, dislocating his neck." Rev. Dr. Booth at Victoria Hall.

Rev. Dr. Booth, of Erie, Pa., again occupied the pulpit of St. James' Presbyterian Church yesterday in the morning and evening. He preached to large and interested congregations. After the evening service he addressed a meeting at Victoria Hall.
Knowing that you are about to leave our town we desire to express our sincere regret at parting with you who have been so closely identified with us in our work for our beloved church during the past year. As a slight token of our appreciation of your active and self-denying co-operation with us in our work, we have prepared for you a small volume of our sisterly counsel and companionship during the past year. It contains a great many of your own words, and is a most valuable volume of poems and sincerely pray that both you and your family may be tenfold blessed in your new work. Where-ever you go, but may be met by an active church-worker and an appreciated friend.

Mrs. Gilean was completely surprised and overcame, and responded in her usual happy style. Mrs. Gilean leaves Amherst-burg to-morrow morning for Kearney, will remain for some time.

Musical Services.

Special musical services were held in the Dundas Street Central Church yesterday morning and evening. Rev. A. C. Courtice preached an appropriate and eloquent discourse in the morning on the part that music enjoyed in the worship of God. He selected as his text, Psalms, xc, 1-3. After showing the claims of music as a part of the service in the connection of the text, the speaker drew attention to several other instances where its appropriateness was inferred and particularly in John's vision in Revelations. Music was not only an appropriate element, but God's worship would not be perfect without it. The intellectual part of the service appealed with force to the teacher and preacher, but the singing and musical part of the service was what spoke most effectively to the people.

Handsome collections were taken up to defray choir expenses.

hostesses. After all had dined, the dining-room was cleared and dancing commenced in the ball room. The left at 3 o'clock, expressing themselves as well pleased with the old town and the reception they received at the Lakeview. The following extract from a letter received by Mr.
Gilean from W. H. Reidy, secretary of the club, speaks for itself: "The members of this club have requested me to express to you their sincere thanks for the many favors shown them by you, and hope that they will have the pleasure of showing their appreciation in a more substantial way some future time."—[Amherstburg

SOUTH LONDON.

The pastor of the Akin Street Methodist Church is attending the Conference. Yesterday the pulpit was occupied by two talented young laymen. In the morning Mr. C. G. Gorman, and in the evening Mr. C. G. Gorman, both of whom are particularly to the necessity of every true supporter of the church giving according to his means to its maintenance. He strongly believed in the Jewish system of tithing, and urged upon the congregation the necessity of giving one-tenth of a man's income to the support of the Gospel. Mr. N. W. Rowell preached in the evening, and drew some admirable lessons from the life of John the Baptist.

ABOUT HAIR

Editor of the ADVERTISER: Sir,—I have, as you know, for some time advised the ladies of the States a preparation for the hair called "Dr. Doreen's Hair Preparation." I have received some thousands of battering testimonials from those who have used it as to its merits as a restorative of gray or faded hair, also as a promoter of the growth and a certain cure for dandruff.

A great many of my correspondents ask the questions: "Why is my hair turning gray so early?" "Why is my hair falling out?" "As it is the liberty of encroaching on your valuable space, I will not answer every one, but I will answer those who are not so sure that excessive washing and rubbing is injurious to the growth of the hair; this is the case, however. Constant washing and rubbing the scalp and hair causes over-irritation and removes the oily substance which gives strength to the hair; undue heat caused by the use of heavy headgear is also injurious. Anything that will tend to dry up the scalp, or cause the hair to come dandruff, falling out of the hair, gray or faded hair and finally baldness. Of course there are other causes as diseases, hereditary tendencies, etc., but the first mentioned are the main and most common.

Dr. Doreen, an eminent German physician, devoted his life to the study of the hair, and to the world at large, and for years to-day he has been the author of a most valuable and absolutely necessary to the growth of the hair. It is sold by all reliable druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or will be sent on receipt of price to any address.
See that each wrapper bears the seal and signature of the manufacturer, DR. DOREEN,
