Extraordinary Revelations Regarding the Intercolonial.

How the Government Line Was "Worked" in the Tupper Interest.

Export Duty May Be Imposed On Saw Logs, Pulp Wood and Ores.

Ottawa, June 12 .- The most important event of yesterday afternoon was

d, and the House, Liberals and Conservatives alike, expressed concurrence by applause. There will not be unanimous consent, however, for Mr. Charlton, who holds very strongly the views that export duties injure the country imposing them more than that against which they are directed, gave notice of his intention to oppose the granting f the power. Mr. McCleary, of Welland, was pulled up with a sharp turn by Mr. Mc-Mullen. He started off in full cry to blame the Government for dismissals on the Welland Canal. Mr. McMullen had been waiting for him for some time, and when Mr. Cleary got through he rose and told that gentleman he had been himself one of the beneficiaries of the Welland Canal in the past. Between 1885 and 1895 Mr. McCleary had drawn from the Dominion treasury $104,141 for lumber supplied to the canal without any tender other than the first. McCleary denied this strongly. Mr. McMullen promised that if both them lived he would prove his statenent next session before the public acounts committee. There is nothing mproper or illegal, in supplying mawhile profiting by it to the extent of

The House did little or no business Blair protested that he had made comparatively few dismissals, and had in the debate were inclined to censure the Government for not giving the Conervatives cause for all their cry about acket with equanimity until after 1 'clock, and then let out on his pponents, and on their methods of rating the Intercolonial. These deils as obtained by a commissioner apinted to investigate certain charge against officials are scandalous in xtreme. In Mr. Blair's words, oad carried people on unlimited passor limited only by the capacity of he printing press to produce them These passes were distributed by housands on the indorsation of the Conservative election committees. Fourteen books had been found, but here were many missing. He hoped o be able to penetrate a little deeper nto the mire of this political outrag what he had already discovered was enough to show that Sir Charles Tupper and his friends should forever hold their peace. On looking at the evidence and the report he found that ere transported on passes n Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in connection with the election of 1896. On 203 passes 430 people were permited to travel; on 157 passes 312 people vere permitted to travel, and on 97 Benjamin Shaw-Wood is permitted to travel. There were 1,427 passes missing lieutenant, provisionally, Surgeon-Maof whatever. He knew that Sir Charles retired.

Tupper did not do things upon a small Twenty and he was constrained to beeve that it was owing to the colossuske attributes of the honorable gentlenan that such an extensive system of railway passes had been entered upon. BIG DEMAD FOR SHINGLES. Upon the Intercolonial Railway there was a gentleman named Mr. Charles Tupper Hillson, a nephew of Sir Charles Tupper. Great powers were conferred upon Mr. Hillson by the Intercolonial system, probably because his family relationship gave him a better status. The gentleman holding the investigation had discovered among he papers that were accessible to him the election there arose an unac-countable demand for shingles. He point demanding 50,000 shingles, and from still another point there would 1 company, vice Zavitz, retired. arrive an instantaneous demand for 75,000 shingles. These demands for shingles went on increasing just preceding the election. Such an unusual and unprecedented demand for shinestrous of contracting for supplies, for the cal year 1897-98, for the following institutions, gles excited the curiosity of the nission, investigating the matter, and he discovered that by an understand-ing between the chief engineer and Mr. Hillson it was agreed that a de-mand for shingles meant a demand for passes. This ingenious method was adpted to prevent the knowledge of the latter becoming public, and to enable these gentlemen to carry on their conspiracy against the railway.

Dr. Landerkin-That was Foster's nome market. Mr. Blair said that the knowledge of these things made it difficult for him o deal with these people in the lenier way in which he had endeavored treat them. He was sure that all men ers of the House would admit that r only in the interest of the country b effort to make an improper use of th railway service should be discounten anced. Mr. Blair sat down amid lou Ministerial applause.

Discovery of the San Jose Scale in the Niagara District.

Prompt Action by the Ministers of Agriculture.

Grimsby, June 12.—The deputation sent by the Dominion and Provincial Ministers of Agriculture to investigate the presence of the San Jose scale in an orchard near Niagara, in response to the request of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, report that they have found this scale in large numbers. They say that unless prompt measures are taken for the immediate destruction of this terrible pest, it will erial without tender, but the humiliating thing is that Mr. McCleary sat in ern and Western Ontario, and utterly thing is that Mr. McCleary sat in Local House and denounced, with party friends, the practice there, profiting by it to the extent of growers present, and a unanimous regrowers present, and a unanimous regrowers.
