A THEORY AS TO THE WEATHER. (Atlanta Constitution.)

A THEORY AS TO THE WEATHER.

(Atlanta Constitution.)

"Do you know where the comet has gone?" asked one of our citizens. "Well," he continued, "I'il tell you that, in my opinion, it hasn't gone anywhere. I think it is here—all about us. We are daily breathing comet, sneezing comet, and feeling comet. We can't see it and probably don't smell it, but when the astronomers lost it I think it was because we ran into it, or it over us, before we knew it. This cold and unsettled weather throughout the world must be due to the presence in our path of a vapor that absorbs or intercepts the heat of the sun. You know some of the savants of the skies said the comet was only a vapor spread throughout a mighty area of space, luminous by absorption or reflection at a great distance from us, but invisible if about us, and contained not enough solid matter to make a handful. I believe we are taking a prolonged comet bath—and I don't like it."
