PRICES WERE EASIER ON LOCAL MARKET

Dressed Hogs Were the Feature Today—Hay Was Very Plentiful

Despite the fact that this is a regular market day, there was a rather small turnout on the local market. The produce dealers, who usually form a conspicuous part of the market, were noticeable by their absence.

The prices as a rule today were somewhat easier. Dressed hogs were probably the feature of the market this morning. There was a fair supply this morning, and the demand was very strong. The ruling price was $11 25.
There was a fairly good supply of hay offered, but as yesterday's prices were inclined to be easier, and a good deal of hay was offered then, this morning the price did not go above $15, some good loads sold as low at $14. Straw remained rather easy, with a light supply. The price prevailing was 37 for eat straw and $7 50 for wheat

Oats remained at about the same figare, between $1 12 and $1 20. There was a good demand.

There was little dairy produce offerand no change in price was noted. a.m.—American stocks in London are firm Other prices remain as follows: Grain. $1 02 to $1 05
