LIVES SPARED BY MIRACLE.

Careless Blasting Endangers Severa and Causes Considerable Damage. Careless blasting has brought several human lives very close to extinction at Kamloops during the past few days and wisely the council of that city are now moving toward compelling safer and saner methods by the oftending contractors. In one case last Wednesday, the child of J. J. Johnston was playing with a little stool in its father's yard. It left the small seat for a moment in fesponse to the mother's call and almost simultaneously an immense rock nurtied through the air and reduced the baby's seat to splinters. The child of Mr. Scribner was frightened into convulsions by a rock coming through the roof, and Mrs. Cooper suffered so severe a shock that she is still in a critical condition. Among the residences damaged were those of J. J. Johnson J. F. Smith, T. Wilson, Cooper and Scribner, In some instances the rocks were carried through the roof leaving large holes, while the side of one house was completely torn out. Careless blasting has brought sever-

Mayor Lindemark, manager of the Revelstoke.

Mayor Lindemark, manager of the Revelstoke Lumber company, testified before the Timber and Forest commission Saturday that the fire ranging system of the provisions requiring the taking out of permits by settlers for the settling of Tires have been most beneficial. Fire could easily be kept out entirely with a complete and efficient system but he suggested that the lumber companies choose deputy fire wardens to act under the permanent district wardens, so as to insure the obtaining of practical men. He considered the present provincial tenure unsatisfiatory and uncertain, being a great drawback and leading to the slaughter of timber. The rental he thought toologis, but the royalties would be increased and this should be done in fixed periods. The cost of properly cleaning up limits of debris after logging he gave as under $10,000.

C. R. Skene favored government regulations as to cutting, under competent officials and everything should be cut down to ten inches on the stump.

J. M. Kellie believed in the perpetuity of license where the land is only fit for timber. A nominal rental of $5 or $10, after a man had paid for two or three years, would be beneficial to the province and the operator. In ten or twelve years, he considered, the royalties would be greater than all the rentals. The present reserve he looked on as a good thing for all concerned.

WORKERS ARE WANTED

A number of inquirers who are seeking information from the Vancouver Island Development League labor are under the impression that only "well fixed" folk are wanted here. The league is anxious to correct this impression, and points out that all those desirous of settling on the land, who only possess a little capital, are welcome, and have every chance of "making good."

Extracts from a typical letter received recently will illustrate the point in question. A writer says: "Do you want only "well fixed" folk, or can honest willing English folk come and make a home on Vancouver Island?"

"What time of the year is it best for a man with limited means to come?"

"Can we purchase small blocks of land, say about 10 acres"
