The Way We Sell Shoes

is remarkable enough to be told about and repeatedly emphasized. There are lots of stores with handsomer appointments, and lots of them swinging more style, but when it comes to downright good shoes at downright low prices we lead the trade. You buy them for just what they are, without any falsehood or exaggeration. The newest styles, the most complete range of sizes, and the finest qualities are here as you want them, and the stock is full of abounding interest. Suppose you take the trouble to see the

- New Styles in Shoes at $1.50
- New Styles in Shoes at $2.00
- New Styles in Shoes at $2.50
- New Styles in Shoes at $3.00

All regular goods at regular prices. Small quantities of bargain shoes we never advertise. Broken lots go on to the bargain tables in the shoe section and are gobbled up in a hurry. The great selling makes broken lots and bargains are always current. The every-day quantities on those bargain tables would set most advertisers wild with the cheap rhetoric of a shoe sale.

Solid Shots of Fact

are upsetting traditional notions in regard to ready-made clothing. Gentlemen are getting to comprehend our interest in the business. Never before have Suits and Overcoats been as well made for the money. The stock we're showing is brand new, and values range about like this:

No old goods here, no old styles, and no inferior goods. We're watching the interests of customers and putting Clothing on the same level as Dress Goods or Millinery. Ours are different from the common hum-drum sorts. The Overcoats we're selling get the reputation of being merchant tailored, and no store in the land can give better clothing for the money.

THE MONTREAL AND OTTAWA RIVER CANAL.

A glance at the map of Ontario discloses the fact that by far the shortest waterway from the upper lakes to Montreal lies by way of French River, The Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal far outclasses the proposed Georgian Bay Ship Canal as a saver of time and distance.

The shortest navigable waterway to the sea-board by the Ottawa River were discussed at the time when the present route via the great lakes was being advocated. It was a matter of doubt at that time which of the two routes would be chosen. The Ottawa system had its strong supporters, but the Welland route was finally decided upon.

There was no necessity for proceeding with the upper and shorter route. As the settlement of the Northwest increases, the demand for transportation is increasing, and it will become more pressing question. The establishment of a northern waterway to Montreal would be of immense importance to the back country, while the cheapening in transportation that it would effect would be highly acceptable to the Northwest, and the cities of Ottawa and Montreal would likewise benefit largely from its construction.

THE TRADE SITUATION.

From the Daily Bulletin.

The trade situation at Montreal is not greatly altered since a week ago. The unusually high weather, of an Indian summer character, still acts unfavorably to the active disposal of heavy dry goods, and wholesalers consequently do not report a sorting business as very brisk in these lines, though a fair proportion of orders for spring goods are being booked. Some other mills, in addition to those noted last week, have given notice of an advance in knitted underwear. In groceries there is a moderate distribution, principally in small orders; there has been a dearth of currants and raisins, which are advanced in price, but new supplies are just at hand. October has been a quiet month in the metal trade and improvement is hardly calculated on this fall, but values show no tendency to drop. The laboring trade is poor. Rain continues to be badly wanted in many country parts.

The milder weather is detrimental to trade interests, and in a measure it has worked adversely with regard to the wool trade. The business in community. While there is a hopeful feeling prevailing among merchants in Toronto, the trade of the week has been somewhat unsatisfactory. Orders in most lines have been for very small quantities, and the market has not yet been broken to any extent. The slow movement of grain accounts for the heavy arrivals of wheat and flour. Merchants, however, report these as satisfactory, but renewals are still very numerous. The cotton trade is quiet, and as a rule are unchanged this week.
