Strathroy Age:—"Word has come from Mount Airy, North Carolina, U.S. announcing the death there on Oct. 4, of Thomas Fawcett, in his 81st year. Deceased was a member of a prominent Strathroy family in the early days of this town. He and his brother, William, were well known as contractors, conducting a planing mill and erecting many of our larger buildings in the memorable boom days. He was a brother of Mrs. Manfred Rapley of this town." Mr. Fawcett conducted a private bank in Watford for several years prior to 1888.

The week beginning on Saturday, October 28th, is Canadian Book Week. The Ontario Library Association asks all Public Libraries to assist, during this week, in directing the attention of readers to Canadian literature. The Watford Library has considerable Canadian literature on its shelves. Some recent additions are poems by Bliss Carman, Robert Norwood, Robert W. Service, Duncan Campbell Scott and Dr. Drummond; a life of Lord Strathcona by Beckles Wilson; Skelton's "Laurier"; and "Life and Times of Sir A. T. Galt"; "Correspondence of Sir J. A. MacDonald" by Pope; Grenfell's "Labrador Doctor." These, besides many books of fiction by Canadian authors, are recommended to readers for their use during Canadian Book Week.

It was decided to have the members of the executive meet the town council at its next meeting with reference to the War Memorial. The satisfactory report of the committee for local relief was read. Plans were made for a dance to be held in the Armory on the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 25th. It was decided to meet in the basement of the Public Library to make quilts and collect and pack articles of warm clothing for the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario. A committee was appointed to arrange for the High School prizes. Mrs. Luckham invited the Chapter to her home for the November meeting. Refreshments were served and the meeting closed with the National Anthem. —Sec.

Friday last was the day set by the Women's Institute to receive donations of clothing etc., for the fire sufferers of Northern Ontario. The response to the call was far beyond expectations. Two large boxes and a bale were packed. There were 11 quilts, 3 pairs blankets, pillows, 24 pairs shoes, 2 fur coats, 2 sets furs, also dozens of caps, scarfs, sweaters, mitts etc. A good supply of warm clothing of all kinds for men, women and children, and a particularly liberal supply for babies. Some of this was new and all in excellent condition. There were also towels, soap etc. The Institute thanks most sincerely every one who contributed to the work. A sum of money was handed in and this is being used to make up quilts to send. Several tops have already been donated and members of the Institute are asked to come to the Public Library on Friday afternoon of this week to quilt. Any articles of warm clothing which may have been overlooked before will be thankfully received at the Library on Friday and sent with the quilts.

After all bills are paid the Women's Institute have a small surplus from the School Fair.

Orville McKnight, at one time a resident of Wyoming, met with an accident while on duty in the S.S. George Washington, which resulted in his death. The ship had just left harbor in Germany when he fell down a short stairway. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the hospital, where he lived but nine hours. The doctor pronounced his death due to concussion of the brain.

After 36 hours illness little Frances Bayley, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bayley, Camlachie, passed away on Friday morning at 4 o'clock. Wednesday afternoon she came in from play, apparently well, but later awoke from a sleep showing signs of illness. Dr. Brown was summoned during the evening and found that the child had developed acute laryngitis. Saturday he had Dr. Wilkinson of Sarnia, meet him, and the two physicians inserted a tube in the wind pipe to aid the patient's breathing, but despite all that could be done, death overtook her after a distressing illness. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bayley and three sisters and one brother survive her.

The funeral was private owing to the nature of the disease. The sympathy of the community go out to the bereaved parents.

LAMBTON RURAL DEANEARY MEETING

One of the most successful meetings in the record of the rural deaneary of Lambton was that held Tuesday in St. George's Anglican church Sarnia attended by clerical and lay delegates from the parishes of the county. The Rev. F. G. Newton of St. John's church, rural dean, presided at the sessions.

The outstanding feature of the proceedings was the enquiry by the members of the laymen's association into the financial condition of the deaneary and the satisfactory announcement that the 1922 budget would be probably met one hundred per cent. Practically all parishes reported this gratifying condition of financial affairs, and in one or two minor exceptions assistance will be given.

There are fourteen deanearies in the diocese of Huron, and in the last three years Lambton deaneary has led in financial return, a state of affairs which is highly satisfactory to the parishes included and is due to the very excellent organization.

The laymen's session was held in committee with F. W. Willson chairman, and at the same time the clerical and women's auxiliary sections were in committees considering routine matters which come up for consideration at every annual meeting of the deaneary.

At 3 o'clock a joint session of the three sections met, and the following officers were elected: the Rev. Mr. Potter, Wyoming, secretary-treasurer of the deaneary, Mrs. F. G. Newton president of the deaneary auxiliary and Mrs. A. J. Chester treasurer.

Two very interesting papers were read, one by the Rev. Mr. Brown of Sombra, formerly engaged in missionary work in the Solomon Islands who gave the meeting an excellent idea of mission conditions prevailing in those parts, and another paper by the Rev. R. C. Pitts of Petrolia who was formerly associated with the mission work in Northern Ontario.

Mr. Pitts gave a graphic description of the fire of 1916 saying however, that the recent fire with its tragic results was far more appalling than its predecessor. From his familiarity with the fire-stricken area the speaker was able to give a most interesting review of the situation.

He spoke also of the potential wealth of New Ontario giving the opinion that the majority of the people of Ontario had not yet begun to appraise the vast resources of the northland.

Supper and lunch were provided in the parish hall by the members of the ladies' aid to whom a vote of thanks was recorded in hearty manner. At the supper a short toast list was given, the Rev. F. G. Newton giving the toast to the rural deaneary, Charles Egan of Petrolia responding with a pleasing address. The four members of the deaneary, the Rev. D. W. Collins, of St. George's church, the Rev. R. C. Pitts, Petrolia, the Rev. J. H. Hosford of Watford and the Rev. Mr. Larter of Alvington were toasted the Rev. Mr. Hosford and Rev. Mr. Pitts replying. George H. Gabler proposed a toast to the ladies and F. W. Willson responded.

The general opinion of clerical and lay delegates, expressed at the close of a busy day, was that the 1922 deaneary meeting was of the greatest satisfaction to all concerned.
