The first produces seems of very frequent occurrence. The first produces were produced for the Pourth Regiment of Close for the Pourth An English paper says : ,-

Besides the additional naval force, siwo regiments of cavalry, including the Scotch Greys, and five regiments of infantry, with a full battalion of the rifls brigade, are ordered to be embarked immediately for the East, and first class steamers will convey them instant ly to their destination. In a short time the Anglo French army in the East will amount to 150,000 men, the flower of the English and French armies. The Turks have at least 150,000 good troops on the line of the Danube, making, with the Austrian forces 600,000. If we further add the Prussian army, which will undoubtedly be called out with the enemy, there will be more than a million of fighting men to cope with the Russians, setting aside the armies in Asia. nd the naval squadrons in the Baltic and Black seas.

Business matters in Great Britain are satisfactory. The Board of Trade Returns for the month ending June 5, and the Tables for the month ending July 5, had been pub-lished. They are fraught with much interest. They prove that notwithstanding the war, the commerce of the United Kingdom has not been in the least shaken, and is in a most satisfactory position. A comparison of the trade returns for those of the correspond-ing period of 1853, shows an increase of £409,457 in the declared value of exportafirst five months of the present year over the past year. Metals, Hardware, Coals, &c., are amongst the articles which have exhibited the greatest improvement; the fallen off is in Cotton and Woolen Goods. The quanity of commodities imported shew a censi-derable increase, not only in Breadsfuffe, but in Tea, Coffee, Cocon, Sugar, &c., luxuries of the working classes. Wines ex-hibita decrease. The Revenue returns shew decrease on the quarter of £812,789 -Money was easier, and the rates of discount were to be reduced. Newbrunswicker.

Colonel Mantequaffel arrived 6th at Berlin from St. Petersburg, with Czar's reply to Prussia; this reply is in courteous terms, stating that Czar will consent to resign his exclusive protectorate over the Greek Christians, if Turkey will accede to a joint protectorate of the five powers.

Czar will evacuate principalities when the Western powers evacuate Turkey; but he will retain a strong military position in Moldavia, as provisional security. Czar also sent Col. Isakoff to Dresden, with friendly autograph letter to King of Saxony and other Sovereigns who were represented in the Bamburg Conference. Meantime hostilines continue, and fighting is reported from Bal-tic, Black Sea, Danube and Asia Austri-ans have entered Wallachia, and French army is embarking in English ships at Cher-leurs for Einland bourg for Finland.

From the Quebec Gazette. MR. EDITOR,-Having been solicited both publicly through your journal, and privately, as well by individuals as by members of my own profession residing in the country, par-ishes, to give them my mode of treatment of cholera, I am induced to comply with these repeated requests, knowing that it may be of service in cases at least in which the members of the profession have no fixed plan of Lireat cholera like every other their own. I treat cholera like every other disease, symptomatically and constitutionally; and in the way of medicine I keep three formulæ of pills constantly ready made and marked No. 1, 2, and 3, which I use as follows. When looseness of the bowels comes on, which is an invariable symptom and so long as the stools are dark coloured, been sull give a No. 2 pill every second hour, until disease.
