of its new proclamation to the Boers seems to have taken a hint from Botha's letter to Steyn. In writing, he said that by prolong-ing the war "not only will our nation be "destroyed, but it will be considered that "our leaders erred. All hope of a continua-"tion of national sentiment will be destroy "ed." Expatriation, then, will come as a hard hit to the commandos of Boths, Viljoen and Smutta. It gives those who care for the future welfare of their people a reason for surrender which they cannot easily con-scientiously set aside even at the dictate of Mr. Kruger. Should they continue after this they will be wilfully leaving their people leaderless and terminating their own not un-promising careers. The clause is milder plies to lesders, and does not threaten the burghers. The second clause of the ultim atum is most reasonable. To such an extent have the English respected the rights of private ownership that only the other day they had to announce that any land that they would need to give to British settlers would have to be bought. Burghers, then, still have the right, on being captured, to demand their farms. This will come as a surprise to many of them. No one, even the most ex-treme pro-Boer, can attack the jusice of making the fighting burghers pay for the maintenance of their deserted families. If the Boers hold out after the proclamation comes into effect, the British Government will not long be in want of land. It is turious, and in a way unjust to the British tration camps have not been made a charge cargo was insured.

-The MONITOR was in error last week in stating that the services in St. James' (hurch were taken by Rev. Mr. Harley. Archdeacon Jones, of Windsor, was the reverend gentleman whose addresses were so much appreciated, Mr. Harley being unable to be present, as was expected. him to immediate surrender, he might pos-sibly consider it his duty to see that it got into the hands of his fighters. Unless it has an effect on this small party of leaders, it is not likely to do more than get some land for the British settlers.

to be present, as was expected. —Rev. Dr. Begg, formerly of Kentville, occupied Gordém Memorial pulpit last Sun-day morning and evening and preached two very interesting and scholarly discourses. While in Nova Scotia Dr Bogg was regard-ed as one of the strongest men in the denom-instion. He is now the pastor of a large and influential church in New York state. It is expected that Dr. Begg will occupy the pul-pit of the Presbyterian church next Sunday. —Burglars antered Biohard Shinley's store The Canadian Fast Line. (St. John Globe.) The Liverpool Journal of Commerce has issued a small reader in regard to the alleged investment of the Canadian government in respect of a fast line service. Our Liverpool facts already known. It makes the observ-ration that as the Canadian route is the shortest it is bound to become the popular one, but "diversion of the best paying pas-senger traffic from the New York route will be gradual." It is foolish to build up theory upon hopes of diverting travel from New York. No doubt with necessary facili-ties for the people travel will increase, but the central position of New York will every proven any can divert and the service, but they are not willing to do it by any private or pay to help carry passengers at less cost thas a so helf eaver ment is not to demand the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry the very fastest steamers, but boats which, while they make a good run, may also carry for fue government is not to demand the scropean core is a very short on this government subsidizing such a line, as it can propounded.
