ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.

Scientific and Aseful.

CANNED pincapple can be greatly improved by cutting the silces in small pieces, adding ugar to it till it is as sweet as preserves, and letting it boil until the pincapple is clear and almost transparent. It is much less awkward to serve and to cat if cut in small pieces, and if prepared in the way recommended no one will suspect you of serving any but pine-apple of your own preserving.

Ir you have any doubt in regard to the age of a turkey or any large fowl, it is a wise precaution to steam it until you can lift the wing from the body with case. Do not stuff wing from the body with case. Do not stuff it before steaming, but two or three stalks of celery may be placed in it, and they will give a delicious flavour to the meat. It is better to use twine than skewers to keep the better to use twine than skewers to keep the turkey's limbs in proper place, there is so much danger of tearing the skin. It should be the cook's aim to preserve the good looks of the fowl as far as possible. If it is well dredged with flour, after it is put in the dripping-pan to rosst, and then little lumps of butter laid on, it will help to give it the desired delicate brown.

To CLEAN PAINT.—When painted work is bacly discolor ed, put a tespo inful of ammonia water into a quart of moderately hot water, and with the ald of flannel wipe off water, and with the aid of fiannel wipe off the surface. Rubbing is not necessary. When the discoloration is not great, the following method in preferable: With a piece of clean fiannel wet with clean, warm water, and then squeezed nearly dry, take up as much whiting of the best quality as will ad-here, apply this with moderate rubbing to the painted work, and afterwards wash the surface with clean mater and my it does with chamolyleather. This method is superior to the use of soap, requires but half the time and labour, and leaves the surface cleaned, looking as good as new. It will not injure delicate colours.

IRISH STEW.—Some persons object to the IRISH STEW.—Some persons object to the stew gravy in which polatoes are cooked, in which case the vegetables of this recipe must be separately prepared and added ten minutes before serving. Take the "best and of the neck of mutton, remove all the lat. (You can always dispose of some clear mutton fat in your starch, as it makes a smoother preparation than wax, even.) Put a layer of beeled and sliced potatoes at the bottom of the stew-pan. Place a layer of unions, sliced in rings, upon the posatoes. bottom de the stew-pan. Place a layer of mions, sliced in rings, upon the potatoer. Pepper and salt the meat thoroughly, and lay that on the vegetables. Then build up with onion and poiato layers. Add half a pint of water. Be sure to moisten the top. Place a weight on the lid of the sauce-pan. Do not left the stew come to a boil. Let it cook for two hours or three, according to the size of your piece of meat. Do not stir it up from the bottom and spoil the looks of the size of your piece of meat. Do not stir it up from the bottom and spoil the looks of the dish, and if you know you have the proper heat, do not waste time by lifting the lid and looking at it.

The season is near at hand for putting seeds of tomatoes and other tender vegetables or flowers for which our Northern summers are too short, in warm, moist, light, rich soil to germinate. Potatoes of early sorts may be had the earlier by bringing the seeds into a warm room three or four weeks before they can be possibly planted. For this sprouting of seeds and tubers only warmth and sufficient moisture are wanted—such warmth, day and night, as the housewife chooses to secure the rising of her dough, or the brewer for the development of the yeast. But as soon as leaves begin to appear the fullest light that clear glass will admit must be added to the The sesson is near at hand for putting seeds clear glass will admit must be added to the other conditions, and the plants must be so thinned by pulling out the weakest, or setting thinned by pulling out the weakest, or setting out part in another bux, and preferably on cubes? sod, as to prevent them shading and weathing each other. Set them in full outdoor light on every opportunity of mild, still air, but don't trust them out over night, or into the garden bed until the soil has become effectually warmed, not till June 16 for the very tender kinds.—Quis quis

TRUSTWORTHY TESTIMONY.

Prominent English Opinions Upon an Important Subject of Great Value to Mvery Meader.

The day for pretenders has passed. Men are judged by what they can do-not by what they say they can do. The reading public of to-day is too judged by what they can do—not by what they say they can do. The reading public of to-day is too discriminating to be long deceived by the spurious If an article have merit it will become popular, if it is unworthy it will sizk into obtains. For years the people of England and Article have the to the severest tental compound of the line when most ambilious claims have been adde. Under such or deals as it has been subjected to, no six every known preparation would have failed. It this one did not in England inouthy United States to-day, it is the most widely snown and popular of all public preparations. In vertication of which note the following:

In September last one of the English foresters of India recurred to London, Eng. utterly broken down and debarred from farther service by reason of what he examining physicians pronounced incurable kidney disorders and Toppy. He was comparatively a young min, and felt depressed over he situation. Incuderally learning however, of the power of Wester's Safe Cure, which has hirrac c. 3 so much extension of late, the began its use. Within three months he was thoooughly restored to health, passed mental evarination as a sound man, and is to-in discharging his duties as well as ever in the trying climate of India!

India!

J. D. Henry, Esq., a near neighour of the late Thomas Carlyle, Chelsea, S. W. London, Eng, became very much emaciated from long continued kidney and liver disorders, the treatment he had sought from the vast medical authorities working only temporary results. He then began the use o Warner's Safe Cure, and in May 35th last, declared: "I am now feeling physically a new creature. A friend of mine to whom I recommended the Safe Cure for kidney, liver, and various diseases, also speaks of it in the highest terms."

R. C. Sowerby, Helensburg, N. B., was obliged to relinquish his professional duties because of a severe kidney and liver complaint. After using a doren boxiles of Warner's Safe Cure he easys: "I am to-day better than I have been for twenty years, and I cheeffully recommend the Safe Cure to all who are suffering from these diseases."

Mr. William Joses, 16 Wellington street, Camborne, E. g., apys that he was thoroughly treated in St. Bar. holonew's Hospital, London, kng., for urinary districters and weakness. He used Warner's Safe Cure and he says: "I am like a new man." It cured film of notigestion, troubles of the bowels, a cessivarination and nervous prostration. He adds "I was fixing various medicines for over two years from the thest doctors, and all in vain, but sifer taking Warner's Safe Cure for only four weeks, I was brought from death to life."

Mrs. E. Game, 125 Broad Street, London, W., Eng., auffered for years from female weakness, skin cruptions and impure blood, but after using Warner's Safe Cure, she tays: "My health is better now than it has been f-r years."

H. F. West, Esq. 16 Burton Crescent, W. C., Lon on, from his own experience "strongly recommends Warner's Safe Cure to all persons suffering from kidney and liver complaints, as the best semedy known."

Mr. Henry Maxted, r Pennsbury Private Road, Wadsworth Road, London, Eng. was cured by Warmer's Safe Cure of enlarged liver which produced humbness in his left leg. with a dend heavy feeling and duriness on the right side of his head "I have recommended it," he says, "to several of my friends, most of whom have derived great benefit from it."

my friends, more of whom have derived great benefit from it."

Mr. V. Claikson. Harrington Villas, Spital, Chesterfield Ling., used Warner's Safe Cure for liver complair t. dispep 12, flatulence, vomiting of bile, and mental depression. January 15, 1833, he writes. "After using the eighth bottle I feel better than for many years. It is an invaluable medicine."

Mr. J. Hiscock, station master, Taff Vale railway, Nargation station, was cured of atoress of the kidney, Railculous of vonce, discharge of pus. etc., by thirteen bottles of Warner's Safe Cure. "I had long and faithfully tred some of the ablest medical men in South Wales, in vain, one of them remarking that medical science has failed to find a rainedy for confirmed kidney desease. The Safe Cure dissolved and brought away about two ounces of stone, I can never praise the Safe Cure too highly."

highly."

Air. Rubert Patten, New Delaval, Eng., was much overcome by severa Inflamma ion f the bladder "I had to urinate about every five or ten minutes with great pain and suffering. My water was full on matter and blood. Both kidneys and liver were affected, and in addition I had a bad cough and heart trouble, (II presuanably the secondary off ct of the kidney and bladder disorder)." He says that after cump h s bladder, kidney, and liver trouble by Warner's Safe Cure, his "cough and palpitation are online time."

sifter curing h s bladder, kidney, and liver trouble by Warner's Safe Cure, his "cough and palpitation are quite gone."

William Simpson, Eq., Daughty Mill, Kukaidy, N.B. suffered for years from Bright's disease of the kidneys and consequent dropsy. His body wa dreadfully and lien. His appetus was fickle, he was full of rheumatic peins, his rase burned in passing, and was full of muccus and brick dust sediment, h spulse was weak, his heart was irregular in its action, his beathing was very much impaired—in short, he had all the paigful symptoms of that dreadful dis order. He spent's weeks in the Royal Lefimary of Edinburgh, under the skill of the best physician, who, having exhaused all agencies at their command, discharged him "at incurable." He says: "I passed water every hour, d.y., and night, having great pain while doing so. It was neally white as milk, with albumer, and when it stood for an hour, the droosit was a quarter of an inch thick in the bottom of the versel." When in this d sparate condition, ha began to use Warner's Safe Cure—the only kown specific for Bright's disease of the kidneys—"I have used twelve by ties," he says, and his health is so restored that he adds. "I bleis the day when I read that Bright's disease was curable and for so little cost."

The fullowing persons of quality in Lond m and other peris of England are a few of the thousands who have used and have commended Warner's Safe Cure, the great specific for kidney, liver, un'oury female, and bright's diseases:
