

was one of the most remarkable incidents of the war.

ST. NICHOLAS, from the same house, is the favorite childrens' Magazine. The February number is full of descriptions, and stories, and innocent amusement. The story of London Bridge, with 12 pictures, and occupying as many pages, is worth the price of the book.

MISSIONARY ADVENTURES IN AFRICA. An interesting pamphlet of 32 pages, printed at the Witness office, Montreal, for the C. C. Foreign Missionary Society. It consists of letters and journals of Rev. Walter F. Currie, the young energetic and well-known Congregational Missionary from Canada. Nothing could more stimulate Christian giving in this direction—while at the same time benefitting the churches themselves—than the circulation of this pamphlet. The Secretary of the C. C. F. M., Rev. Edward M. Hill, 143 Stanley Street, Montreal, can supply them.

LAND, LABOR, AND LIQUOR. We again draw attention to this volume, by the pastor of the Listowel Congregational Church, so long and favorably known as an eloquent and powerful lecturer of the Temperance League, the Rev. William Burgess. The author has succeeded in making the best book we know, for facts and arguments on the economic, social and moral destructiveness of drink, and the corresponding advantages of temperance. He has 29 chapters, and 6 Appendices. He starts off thus, with his first few chapters,—Our national resources—Our national wealth—Labor—Productive and non-productive labor—Destructive labor—Labor expended in liquor-making destructive—What Capital is—Capital misdirected—Destruction of food—and 20 more chapters equally interesting, on land, wages, co-operation, markets, pauperism, etc., etc.

The author says, my first object was to answer the call for reliable facts and Canadian statistics. For several years past I have felt the need of such a handy volume as would fill the place of a text-book for temperance reformers, especially on the subjects relating to labor, capital, trade, etc. Those who want facts and arguments to combat the specious appeals of the liquor interest on "taxes," "trade," "capital," etc., will here find all they want. We should like to see it in every house. Willard Tract Depository, Toronto; or the author, Listowel: $1.00. Offered as a premium for new subscribers to this magazine. See cover.

THE MISSIONARY REVIEW OF THE WORLD contains eight distinct departments, viz.: I. The Literature of Missions. II. Organized Missionary Work. III. Correspondence and General Intelligence. IV. International Department. V. Progress and results of Missionary Work; Monthly Bulletin. VI. Monthly Concert Service. VII. Statistics of the World's Missions. VIII. Editorial Notes on Current Topics. One can see at a glance that a Review, ably conducted on so broad and comprehensive a plan, with the co-operation of scores of the best informed and most devoted friends of missions all over the world commends itself to pastors and Christian workers, and all who work for the coming of Christ's kingdom.

The High Literary Character of the Review. Each number contains 6 or 8 Review missionary articles of the highest interest. The February contains a masterly paper on Japan, by Prof. Knox, of the College at Tokio; an intensely interesting Biography of Africa's Martyr Bishop—Hannington—by Dr. Pierson; a valuable article on the Evangelical Alliance's recent grand Conference at Washington, and another on the Crisis of our Country; "The Progress of Islam," and a remarkable paper on American Missionaries in China.

This Review is unsectarian and world-wide in its scope. It has editorial correspondents at every great centre, and gives the latest information from every field. "It is the grandest and most inspiring of all missionary publications," says The Christian at Work.

Published by Funk & Wagnalls, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York. $2.00 per year; 25 cents per single number.

For the Young.

WINGED WORDS.

If words were birds,
And swiftly flew
From lips to lips
Owned, dear, by you,

Would they to-day
Be hawks and crows,
Or blue and true
And sweet? Who knows?
