

McGILL UNIVERSITY, MONTREAL,

FACULTY OF MEDICINE.

FIFTY-FIRST SESSION, 1883-84.

The Collegiate Courses of this School are a Winter Session, extending from the 1st of October to the end of March, and a Summer Session from the end of the first week in April to the end of the first week in July.

Founded in 1824, and organized as a Faculty of McGill University in 1829, this School has enjoyed in an unusual degree, the confidence of the Profession throughout Canada and the neighboring States. One of the distinctive features in the teaching of this School, and the one to which its prosperity is largely due, is the prominence given to Clinical Instruction. Based on the Edinburgh model, it is chiefly bedside, and the Student personally investigates the cases under the supervision of special Professors of Clinical Medicine and Surgery.

Among important changes in the past few years may be mentioned: The provision for systematic practical instruction in Gynæcology; the thorough re-modelling of the Department of Practical Anatomy on the plan of the best European schools; the establishment of an extensive Physiological Laboratory, with well arranged courses, and the establishment of a Demonstration course in Morbid Anatomy.

Matriculation.—Students from Ontario and Quebec are advised to pass the Matriculation Examination of the Medical Councils of their respective Provinces before entering upon their studies. Students from the United States and the Maritime Provinces must present themselves for the Matriculation Examination of the University, on the first Friday of October, or the last Friday of March.

Hospitals.—The Montreal General Hospital has an average number of 150 patients in the wards, the majority of whom are effected with diseases of an acute character. The shipping and large manufactories contribute a great many examples of accidents and surgical cases. In the out-door Department there is a daily attendance of between 75 and 100 patients, which affords excellent instruction in minor surgery, routine medical practice, venereal diseases, and the diseases of children. Clinical clerkships and dresserships can be obtained on application to the members of the Hospital staff. With its out-door and special departments, this Hospital offers by far the largest field in the Dominion for clinical instruction and study.

University Dispensary.—This was established four years ago for the purpose of affording to senior students practical illustration in Diseases of Women, and has proved very successful. Two other special departments have been added, viz., Diseases of Children and Diseases of the Skin.

Clinics.—The clinical teaching is conducted in the wards and theatre of the General Hospital, daily, throughout the Session. Ample opportunities are afforded to the Student to investigate the cases, medical and surgical.

The Dissecting Room is large, well ventilated, and abundantly provided with material. The Demonstrators are skilled teachers, trained in the best anatomical schools of Europe, and are in attendance daily from 10 to 12 a.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m.

Requirements for Degree.—Every candidate must be 21 years of age, have studied Medicine four years, one Session being at this School, and must pass the necessary examinations. Graduates in Arts of recognized Universities, and Students who produce evidence of having studied a year with a physician subsequent to passing the Matriculation Examination, can qualify for examination after attendance on three Sessions.
