It is pleasantly situated and very commodious cently acquired. The style of building is plain but effective, and of the Gothic order -the windows are arched and beautified in the upper portions with stained glass. The Pulpit and Reading Desk are within the Communion, and are chaste and elegant pieces of workmanship. The orchestra' is disconnected from the congregation, and we may add, notwithstanding the newness of the effort, that the Choir promises not to be surpassed by any other in the city. The Rev. Mr. Bullock will be the officiating Curate. The chapel is as yet destitute of a bell and organ, to supply both of which will well become the liberality of the Churchmen of Holifax .- Halifax Times.

THE PRAYER FOR THE MAINTENANCE OF PEACE AND TRANSCILLITY .- "O God, whose never failing providence ordereth all things both in heaven and in earth; we Thine on worthy servants most humbly beseech Thee to continue Thy favour to this land, and to premestic divisions. We acknowledge, O Lord, that if Thou wert to deal with us after our sins, or reward us according to our iniquities we might most justly have fallen under Thy wrath and indignation. For in our prosperty we have too much forgotten Thee; other lords besides Thee have had dominion over us; we have offended against Thy holy laws, and have not glorified Thee, in whose hand our breath is, and whose are all our ways. Thou hast said in Thy Holy Word, that when Thy judgments are upon the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn rightcourness; and now we beseech Thee so to incline the hearts of the people of this land that they may bear one another's burdens, and follow the things that make for peace, and have love one towards another. And do Thou, Loid, of thy great mercy, restore to us such prosperity that we may not sow much and bring in little, but that Thou mayest bless us in whatsoever we set our hand unto; and that our people may cat their own bread with quietness. Above all, teach us so to acknowledge Thee, the Author and Giver of all good, that we may live in Thy faith and fear, setting our affections on things above, and seeking first. Thy heavenly Lingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord; to whom, with Thre and the Holy Ghost, he honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE REPEAL .- The Marquis of Lansdowne, in answer to the Earl of Ellenborough, in the House of Lords, on the 17th of April, expressed himself to the following effect: 6 The Noble Earl had alluded to another subject to which he must also advert, as it was most important, that upon it there should be no mistake. The Noble Farl had not said he supposed, but when he intimated that a belief existed on the part of others, that it was possible the Covernment might come to some compromise on the question of the Repeal of the Union-he gladly seized the opportunity of most distinctly stating, there could be none. (Cheers.) He wished it to be distinctly understeed that that was not only the opinion and the intention of Her Majesty's Government, but it was their aim to arrest all those attempts to subvert the whole Government of the country; the interests of England, the interests of good government, and the maintenance of the Union were inseparable. The rumour was neterly and wholly without foundation, although it had been sedulously propagated by the very parties who were fomenting rebellion repapers by the Cambria arrived in Ireland. THE ORLEANS FAMILY.—On Saturday, April the 1st, the Duke and Duchess of Nemours and family arrived at Coblentz, by the steamer-from Cologne. The Duke immediately set out in a hackney vehicle for Ems, but his family remained at Coblentz. The Duke returned late at night accompanied by the Duchess of Orleans. The latter returned to East during the night, but the Duke de Ne-mours and his family started in the morning by the steamer Duc de Nassau, belonging to the Dusseldorf Steam Company. The affair at Rouen would seem to have been much more serious than the telegraphic report would lend one to conclude: lighting from Thursday to Saturday, and some fears then that it might be renewed. National Guard and regular troops were dispatched from Paris to put down the insurrection. The opening of the National Assembly is described as follows:

" Paris was filled with troops. At 12 o'clock the members arrived in groups, and were saluted with cries of Vive la Republique. In the pro-cession to the Chamber, the members of the Provisional Government walked two and two. At 14 the Government entered the Hall of Assembly amidst military salutes. The Provisional Government having taken their seats on the left of the hall, M. Andry de Puyseveau, the senior deputy, took the chair as Provisional President, whilst the six youngest members took their places as temporary secretaries. The president having declared the sitting to be opened, M. Dupont, (de l'Eure) as president f the Provisional Government, ascended the tribune, and addressed the assembly; having done so at considerable length, and amidst much applause, the Provisional Government, he said, now laid down its authority, and delivered it into the hands of the nation.—A president will probably be elected to day.—Paris is tranquil, and the whole proceedings were conduct-

At Cairo, a Meeting of the leading natives was held, and a deputation sent to Abbas Pasha, to interest him in the redress of their grievances. They were attended by such a demonstration that fair promises were made but four of the principal speakers having been subsequently sent for, they were charged with treason and hanged next morning outside the walls. Since then there had been great excitement and dissatisfaction.

The road will then be built to Meredith Village, and from thence to Plymouth and Rummey, in the course of the present year. It is the purpose of the company to eventually continue the road at least as far as the volley of the Connec. ticut, at Haverbill .- Alb. Argus.

To those who are acquainted with the un-rivalled advantages of the water power created y the Welland Canal, and to which Thorold chiefly owes its existence, it may be proper to say that the village is situated on the summit of the great chain of mountain which borders Lake Outario, and is upwards of three hun-dred feet above its level, and commands a magnificent view of the surrounding country. It is four miles south of St. Catherines, and even miles west of Niagara Falls. Its elevated position, pure air and good water, render it a desirable and healthy situation. The ponulation is about one thousand souls, and it has five excellent Flouring Mills-three of which were built last season. Hen Majestr's Birth Day.-It was intended to celebrate yesterday, the 24th of the month, being the anniversary of our Sovereign's birth, by a parade and feu-deoie of the Garrison on the Esplanade, and the inhabitants generally looked forward to the occasion with great desire, calculated as it was to gratify the loyal feeling of their hearts, especially at the present time, when traitorous attempts at rending the Empire asunder are seeking for sympathy even in this part of the British possessions. The day, however, turned out so rainy that no parade could take place. A royal salute was fired at noon, by the Artillery.
