

THE NEWSBOYS' FRIEND

Mr. Carley's Annual Treat to the Newsboys.

There are few gentlemen among our merchant princes in the city who enjoy a more widespread and deserved popularity than Mr. Carley, whose mammoth establishment on Notre Dame street, has an almost continental reputation. In all deeds of charity and in every movement tending to the welfare of the city, Mr. Carley takes a prominent place. It has been his custom for some years back to give a treat to the city newsboys, who indeed should feel honored and grateful to their kind benefactor, who has apparently their interests so deeply at heart and last night's joyous assemblage of young people crowded Weber Hall on the occasion of the annual festival. The hall itself presented a very striking appearance, being beautifully decorated with the flags of England, France, the United States and last, but by no means least, the Dominion of Canada. About 7 o'clock the hall was well filled with the little news-boys of both sexes, and soon the rattle of cups and saucers resounded the pleasing fact that tea was ready. It is unnecessary to say that full justice was done to the tempting repast passed before the young people, who devoured the edibles as if they had not tasted food for many a day. The inner man having been satisfied, addresses by prominent clergymen and others were the order of the evening, and to the credit of the boys, and girls too, the remarks of the several speakers were listened to with singular attention and without interruption. Mr. Young, manager of the wholesale department, took the chair, and a very entertaining programme was commenced, the young ladies and gentlemen of the store being the contributors. Addresses were then delivered by Rev. Dr. Norman, the Rev. Prof. Borimbourg, and Rev. Father Monk. The latter after relating his experiences of newsboys and girls in the countries of Europe, spoke of the dangers and temptations which assail them here as everywhere else, and gave excellent advice as to how they should be avoided. He related anecdotes of the life led by the class in great cities, counselled his hearers to avoid evil, and concluded by commending Mr. Carley's generous example as worthy of imitation by our wealthy citizens. The reverend gentleman was vociferously applauded at the close of his remarks.

The Chairman having announced that the Rev. Father Callahan had sent in a letter expressing regret at his absence, the Rev. Mr. Northwick read an original poem on Balaclava. Some more music followed, after which the proceedings were brought to a close by singing the English National Anthem, and reading cheers for Mr. Carley. The boys and girls were then severally presented with a suit of warm underclothing, which will, no doubt, be of great service to them during the coming winter.

At the annual treat given to the newsboys, on Thursday night, by Mr. Carley, Mr. Thomas Brady read the following original poem, written especially for the occasion:—

THE NEWSBOYS.

We have gathered in the army of newsboys here to-night. All filled with joy and gladness, eyes glistening with delight. With generous hearts we greet them, and will cheer them in their work from day to day.

The newsboys of our city they deserve some more especially in winter, with its keen and piercing air. They have bodies, souls and spirits, which may grow with our aid, and pass away unnoticed, if that care is long delayed.

Newsboys they are workers, they toil with might and main. Ours all parts of our city, you can hear the old refrain. Give them their food, and cheer them in their work from day to day.

The newsboys they are youthful, some there are of tender years. What are their aims and stand trembling, with anxious fears? Thinking of a father, or a mother, left behind. Of a brother, or a sister, who to them is dear and kind.

They are anxious that these loved ones should share their little gain. So, with their stock of papers, they on the street remain. Feeling rain and pelting storm, or it may be snow and sleet. They are shivering in their bodies, and icy cold their feet.

They wander through the city while many a lumber fall. So safely housed from danger of the wild and stormy blast. They wander on, accosting the people passing by. With "Daily Witness, Star and Post," the newsboys' constant cry.

Have you ever well considered the newsboy's worth or wealth? Have you ever tried to lighten the woes some hearts must feel? Do you always treat them kindly, and give them words of cheer? Do you help them in their sorrows, and dry the falling tear?

There are precious gems amongst them, yea jewels bright and fair. Though in clad in lonely garments, almost unfit to wear. There are many who, now lowly, will yet to honor rise. From this army young of newsboys, whom many now despise.

There are some men who aspire to great renown and fame. Who wish to leave in history an unforgotten name. Who would have their honors sounded to earth's remotest end. Their glories to posterity, they all would gladly send.

But here, friends, in this city, is a work that all can do. Where many who have riches, but the words they are few. Let everyone remember that, by deeds of kindness, love, they can win a name and glory in the mansions blest above.

BREVETTES

The River Rhine is rising rapidly. Outrages are becoming very frequent at Pueblo, Mexico. No extra clerks are to be employed at next session of the Quebec Legislature. The Industrial Home at Newmarket, Ont. will be completed in about three weeks. The University of St. Petersburg has been closed, owing to disturbances by the students. The insurance of Grant's shoe factory, Quebec, recently destroyed by fire, amounts to $42,500. Nearly 300 men are employed in rebuilding Bddy's mills, match factory, machine shop, &c. The Dominion Government has decided to become owners of the Lakefield dam for canal purposes. The rumor that B. Battery, at present stationed at Kingston, was to be removed to British Columbia is contradicted. Nearly all the lumber mills on the St. Croix river, N.B., are hung up on account of the extremely low condition of the river.

LETTER FROM TORONTO.

THE COUNTRY MANIFESTO—ADDITIONERS' AND GENTLEMEN'S NEWSPAPERS—THE PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS—HON. C. F. FRASER—THE CATHOLIC VOTE—DEALING WITH A C.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

Toronto, Nov. 21. The protest against the manifesto of Messrs Smith and Donohoe, which appeared in the press this week, has not created a sensation, though it has made a good impression. It is mainly and simple, and covers the entire ground it was intended to cover. Nor does it forget to take in Manifesto Number One, issued previous to the general election for the Dominion Parliament. But what the signatories complain of principally is that while the organ of their party was from day to day vilifying the head of their Church in this Province, they never raised their voice in his behalf or used their influence with the Mail to stay the current. As a matter of course, this last manifesto has received the cordial and unanimous abuse of the Conservative press. The Mail is severe on the signatories, and indulges in personal abuse of each separately, as if the character of the signatories had anything to do in reality with the logic of their protest. It says they are not representative, as how could they seeing one is an auctioneer, a second a painter, a third a license inspector, and a fourth a member of the Provincial Board. The Mail is very foolish in pursuing this policy. We cannot all be Cabinet Ministers and Senators, and as we cannot, might not one as well be an auctioneer as a lawyer or a grocer. And besides the Mail forgets that the Hon. Mr. O'Donohoe was himself an auctioneer in his time, and to his credit be said, is not at all averse to be reminded of it. But then what is your exact? Is not the Mail a paper written by gentlemen for gentlemen?

We shall have manifestoes and counter-manifestoes enough and to spare from now until next February, when it is expected—pretty sure indeed—the Provincial elections will come off. And all those documents are clearly issued to gain the Catholic vote, the unfortunate Catholic vote, which the politicians think can be secured by the highest bidder. The Evening Canadian of yesterday uttered a truth when it said it was Protestant bigotry created such an anomaly as the Catholic vote in this Province; but it does not follow from this that it should be at the disposal of every one that assumes leadership, or the General Hewson's of the press. Under present circumstances, there is little doubt that the Mowat Government will receive the great bulk of the Catholic vote, if for nothing else for the way it held itself erect on the "Marmion" question. Among Catholics, as among other creeds, there are hard shell Liberals and Conservatives, who seldom change their opinions, if indeed they have opinions to change, but then there are also independent men, who have a conscience and intelligence and do what they think right, irrespective of party. It is in this last class of Catholics who will support the Mowat-Fraser Administration, for the reason is the best Government the Province could give, and also for the reason that it will not trundle to anarchy by passing an Orange Incorporation Act. If the Mowat Government were turned out tomorrow, it is probable the Ontario Catholics would have no representative in the Cabinet. I don't know where they could find one, and if they did he could hardly replace the Hon. Mr. Fraser. Were it not for this gentleman, the Catholics of Ontario, of Canada, would have been insulted by Orange Incorporation ten years ago. He fought against that proposed iniquity with all his eloquence—and he is an eloquent speaker. I remember the excitement attending his speech as if it were only yesterday it was delivered. He is a man of fine physique, and was then at least a very young man, and as he stood in his place in the Local House and hurled his biting sarcasms at the Conservatives and at the civil and religious liberty folks, we felt the fate of the bill was sealed. It was truly a magnificent speech, and stamped Mr. Fraser at once as one of Canada's foremost orators. I have heard them all, and consider that the three most finished speakers in Canada are Blake, McDougall and Fraser, in the order named.

It is surprising what a hold the independence idea is obtaining in the affections of the people of Ontario, who are in this respect far more advanced than those of the other Provinces. New Brunswick perhaps excepted. Quite a number of papers countenance the independence ticket here in Toronto, and not one opposes it boldly, except the Mail, whose editors are all dukes and earls, or should be. The Telegram, the World, the Evening Canadian, a whole host of weeklies, advocate independence as the only means of keeping Canadians in Canada and making the country what nature intended it, "Great, glorious and completely free of foreign domination from the Atlantic to the Pacific." The excitement over the disallowance veto has not yet subsided. Ontario sees an ally in Manitoba for State rights, and is determined to retain it. Hence, the Globe and other Grit organs are doing all they can to fan the flame and embarrass the Dominion Government. A good many Conservatives are with the Manitobans in their struggle for what they consider their just rights. Every one is anxious to know now the clever manoeuvres of Sir John will escape from this newest difficulty, some enthusiastic Tories having, no doubt, but that he will make the troubles in the Northwest revolve ultimately to his own advantage, fulfilling all about the pitcher which was carried to the well once too often. It is stated in reliable quarters that Sir John's intellect is not as clear and bright as it used to be, and that he made the last of his grand coups in seventy eight. Indeed it is a fact that the N. P. was not an emanation from his brain, and that it was only after a good deal of hesitation he accepted it at all.

There is nothing in the local line to relate. The city is prospering and there is very little poverty observable.

WESTGATE, THE SELF-CONFESSED MURDERER.

Kingston, Ja., Nov. 14.—Inspector Morrow of the Dublin Metropolitan Police Force, and Joseph Fairhead, formerly mate of the ship "Gladstone," at Caracas, arrived here from Southampton on the 4th of November. A magisterial investigation was held at Spanish Town on the 6th inst., into the charge of murder at Phoenix Park in May. A warrant was produced by Detective Morrow from the Dublin Metropolitan Magistrate, with depositions, for the arrest of Westgate, the confessed murderer. The prisoner was remanded back into custody, the Police Magistrate informing him that he would not be surrendered for fifteen days, during which time he would have the right to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. The prisoner made no statement. He was not defended by counsel.

CATHOLIC NEWS.

THE BODY OF BISHOP DE HELLANDERE WAS BURIED AT VINCENNES, IND., ON THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 23RD. THE BISHOP DIED IN HIS CASTLE IN FRANCE LAST MAY. HE WAS FORMERLY A FRENCH COUNT.

The consecration of the new Archbishop of Halifax will probably take place in St. Mary's Cathedral in that city. Dr. O'Brien, Archbishop elect, will not remove to Halifax until after the arrival of the Pope's bull, which is expected in a few days.

Archbishop Lynch on November 23rd celebrated the 23rd anniversary of his elevation to the episcopate. During the morning Bishop Jamot of Peterboro, Cleary of Kingston, and O'Mahoney of Toronto, waited upon His Grace. In the afternoon he entertained the bishops and priests of the diocese of Toronto.

Father Martin, O. M. J., from Paris, who is the assistant of the Superior-General of the Oblate order, arrived in Ottawa on Tuesday, and is at the Ottawa College; his mission on this continent is to visit the different establishments of the Oblate order in America. He has already been to British Columbia, and after his work is over in Canada, he will go to Texas.

Yesterday morning, November 21st, the feast of the Presentation of the Virgin Mary, was the second anniversary of the consecration of the Right Rev. Dr. Cleary, Bishop of Kingston. At 8 o'clock a grand Pontifical Mass was celebrated. Bishop O'Mahoney of Toronto, Bishop Jamot of Peterboro' and over forty priests of the diocese attended. A banquet took place at the Episcopal Palace afterwards.

Winnipeg, the capital of Manitoba, has made wonderful strides during the two past years, and the Catholic Church is keeping pace with its progress. Two new churches are to be erected at once. A few Sundays ago the pews in the present church were let, and the front seat, which holds four persons, brought the annual rent of $85, or more than $17. Fifty-one pews, containing four seats each, brought $2,600, or something over £520. Such returns are, to say the least, very striking evidences of prosperity.

The Prince of Naples was last week confirmed and received his First Communion from the hands of the Archbishop of Milan, assisted by the Archbishop of the Cathedral of Monza, where the ceremony took place. His Royal Highness, who was accompanied to the altar by his godfather, Prince Carignano, pronounced the words of the profession of faith, "By the grace of God, I will live and die in the Christian and Catholic faith," with much earnestness. King Humbert and Queen Margherita were present, and the entire Court was in attendance.

According to the Roman Correspondent of the Paris Monde, the following is the true story of the Emperor of Austria's projected visit to King Humbert. The Emperor diplomatically expunged Leo XIII. as to how His Holiness would regard a visit to the King at Rome. The Holy Father replied that it would grieve him, whereupon the Italian Government was informed that the Emperor could not visit the King at Rome. The Italian Government replied that it was content with the expression of his desire to return the King's visit, and that it could not assign any other place than Rome for such a visit.

Mgr. Grondin, of the North West, who recently paid a visit to Montreal, gives an interesting account of the missionary work among the red men of the North-West, in which His Lordship has been engaged for the last 28 years. There are two chief institutions upon which His Lordship bases his hopes for the future success of the enterprise; an asylum conducted by the Grey Nuns of Montreal, and an industrial school kept by the Oblate Friars. The former institution cares for the Indian children of both sexes, while in the latter the boys are taught different occupations, especially the tillage of the soil. In the opinion of Bishop Grondin, the quickest and surest means of civilizing the savages is to adopt the children at a young age and keep them until they are in a condition to marry. His Lordship intends to ask the Government to relieve the Indians brought up in his institutions of the disabilities which hinder them from becoming full citizens.

At the Bon Pasteur, Montreal, on Thursday morning, November 23rd, the following ladies took the veil.—Guillelmine Bachand, Rouse's Point, in religion, St. Marie de Saint Louis; Rose Delima Landreville, Saint Paul de Joliette, in religion, Sister Marie de l'Epiphanie; Marie Louise Desrosiers, Lanoraie, in religion, Sister Marie de la Visitation; Henriette Fanning, Saint Gervais, in religion, Sister Marie de Saint Medard; Rose Delima Rouleau, Saint Laurent, Montigny, in religion, Sister Marie de Saint Joseph du Sacre-Coeur; Sophie Connolly, St. Pierre de Darham, in religion, Sister Marie de Saint Marc. The following were received as lay sisters.—Rose Delima Merolet, Fort Jackson, in religion, Marie de Saint Clement; Celestine Tangway, Saint Vallier, in religion, Marie de Saint Jannis; Anna Astrault, l'Epiphanie, in religion, Marie de Sainte Eulalie. Mgr. Fabre presided at the ceremony, Father Pou, S. J., preaching the sermon.

Among the guests at the banquet given to the Lord Mayor of London on Friday evening last at the Town Hall, Liverpool, the Right Rev. Monsignor Fisher, replying to the toast of the Bishop and clergy, said—I thank you worship very much for comping my name with this toast. I am not ashamed to belong to the Church of the poor, and I confess in this large assembly that the great bulk of the poor of this town are of the religion of which I am a minister. No one, therefore, laments more than I do when I see the records of their deeds; but I am not disheartened, and I am not cast down, and the more I see of their intemperance and wickedness, the more I see to bring out of my storehouse to work in the cause of this unhappy people (applause). I have taken a great interest in the working of the Elementary Education Act, and I have been the means of building a great number of schools for the education of Roman Catholic children, and I have had the pleasure and the gratification to bring distinguished persons into Liverpool to show that which had been done, and I believe that we can show in this town an institution, viz., the Training College of Liverpool, which is unequalled in the kingdom. I am proud to be received among you to-day as a guest. I will conclude with the words of the Roman orator, "Laudari a laudato viro." I thank you for the honor done me; it will be a spur to me for future exertion (applause).

A telegram announces that H. Bally Harrison (of Tilsonburg, Ont.), English setter dog (London) won the free-for-all stake at the Eastern Field trials, run during the past week, on quails, at High Point, North Carolina. The entries for this stake were very numerous and from the best kennels in America. This is the first occasion on which this valuable prize has been brought to Canada.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR.

There are three points in this case, may it please your honor, said the counsel. In the first place we contend, that the Kettle in dispute was struck when we bore it; secondly, that it was who when we returned it; and thirdly, that we never had it. "Sole logic might appear ridiculous but for the fact, that the remarkable evidence produced in some of the gr at murder and "scandal" cases which have had legal ventilation in this country during the past few years, was of no less an edifying and conflicting nature. In strongest contrast to this many sided kind of testimony, are the following emphatic and uniform statements made by well known business men of Evansville; to a reporter of the Journal who was commissioned to get their opinions and experience relative to the article in question, and of which such astonishing reports are appearing in many of our leading exchanges. Mr. Charles Laval, proprietor of the Prescription Drug Store, Cor. Locust and Third Streets, upon learning the nature of the writers visit, said that his sales of the St. Jacobs Oil were large and always increasing. That very many people to whom he had sold the article, called and reported it to be the most excellent remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, &c. "We can safely say that St. Jacobs Oil has effected within the past year, more cures than any other treatment we have ever sold," were the words of Messrs. Isaac & Felling, 613 Main Street. Mr. Frank S. Mueller, whose store is at 925 W. Franklin Street, cited the case of Mr. Henry Klenck, who for four years suffered with Rheumatism, which was cured by the use of two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil. At the Canal Drug Store, Mr. G. A. DeSouchet, was pleased to say that all united in claiming it the best liniment they ever used. There was a growing demand, and a number of his customers had called to testify to specific cures. Learning that a member of the well known firm of Kerr & Moran, proprietors of the boarding stable 216 Locust Street, had had experience with the article, a visit was made to the fact that a few applications of the St. Jacobs Oil cured him of an attack of Rheumatism, causing him to feel like a new man. Mr. George Knott, with the Eagle Ice Co., experienced the same happy results from a bottle of the Oil in a case of Rheumatism, which had troubled him for six weeks. Mr. W. Weber, Druggist at 630 Main Street said, that the St. Jacobs Oil could be recommended with a clear conscience for the prompt alleviation and cure of all the various painful ailments which could be reached by an external remedy. Similar testimony was received at all the different places visited, among which were the Farmer's Drug Store of E. A. Hilly, 515 Fulton Avenue; and L. W. Deuser & Co., Cor. Second and Seymour Streets. It should be stated, that our fellow citizen Mr. J. Bertelsen, Upper Second Street, from his personal experience, recommends the St. Jacobs Oil as the best article of its kind.

Such endorsements as these, carry no double meaning; there is but one inference; and so has been well said by the Chicago Times after interviewing some of its leading citizens, "they should be enough to satisfy the most skeptical, of the wonderful, almost miraculous properties contained in these little bottles."

FATAL AFFRAY.

Nowick, Ont., Nov. 20.—The residents of Hawtry, southeast of this point, are greatly excited over a fatal affray which occurred there on Friday evening last, the victim being one Daniel Budd, blacksmith, aged about 48, who carried on business in Hawtry. G. O. Shirton, a young man of questionable reputation, hailing from Dunnville, came to Hawtry lately to work at Schooley's mills. He confined his operations, however, to drinking more or less heavily, and on the evening in question Budd and Shirton appear to have been drinking somewhat heavily. Another bottle of whiskey was purchased, and soon afterwards the neighbors heard them fighting together in the backstreet shop. Later on, the door opened suddenly, and Shirton issued therefrom, Budd clinging to his feet. Shirton was seen to kick or push with his feet, while Budd was on all fours. Shirton left him, and on the arrival of Mr. Armstrong and some boarders from the hotel, Budd had breathed his last. The inquest held by Dr. Carroll closed this afternoon, and Shirton was committed for trial on the charge of murder.
