This periodical goes into the schools, colleges, libraries and households of our country, and has become an educating power.

Its readers have multiplied until it now has the largest circulation of any magazine of its character in the world.

The quality of its subscription list is exceptional—an array of well-known names representing the wealth, scholarship, taste and refinement of the United States, with notable additions from Canada, England, France, Australia and South America.

Its contributions are timely and diversified, from the pens of the ablest and most agreeable writers, and they deal with every problem in American history, from the most remote period to the present hour.

The signs of promise of this popular magazine were never so conspicuously observable as at present; each month marks an advance, and shows an increasing interest among the people of America in history and its literature.
