HON. MR. MARCHAND'S POLICY.

---

Mr. Flynn says I have no policy. We have a policy and the electors have a right to know what that policy is. If I am called to power by the verdict of the people on the 11th of May, I promise that no boodlers or speculators of the public monies shall get inside my cabinet. We will practise real economy. We will cut off the dead branches, discharge all needless employes, refuse all gratuities or bonuses until we shall have established a real surplus. There will be no extraordinary expenses with us. The revenue of the year must be made to cover all the expenses of the year, and if we have a surplus it will be divided to benefit two objects—education and agriculture. Hon. F. G. Marchand in speech at Shawville.
