She addressed the assistant stage manager, who also was looking at his timeplece. Holding it up he replied, "It is only twenty-seven minutes past." The lady gave a second glance, and remarked in an even but final voice, "You are wrong."

This was conclusive and in a few moments in response to the call, all who had been loitering about the wings were on the stage ready to begin rehearsal.

Story of Play.

The story of "The Runaway" is that of a pretty Breton girl, Colette, who makes her home with two old aunts and into whose life romance enters with the coming of a certain artist. The little Breton girl follows him to Paris and to his studio, and there innocently, but none the less surely, involves him thru her presence, in a series of interesting situations. The play ends like the fairy story in marriage and wedding bells, but when it is presented on Thursday night, the brightness, smoothness and verve which are sure to be features of the performance, will represent many hours of hard COBALT, Aug. 15.—(Special)—Frank Dunn, who broke jail at North Bay eighteen months ago, was smartly captured by Constable Robert Sharp here at 7 o'clock this evening. Miss Haswell's Charma.

Colette is described as having blonde hair and blus eyes, and Miss Haswell has these qualities all ready, nature's free gifts. Then she has what someone has described as "perennial girl-hood," and when she plays Colette it is not hard to imagine the sixteen-year-old peasant girl present in reality and in truth. The use of creams on the face sometimes causes hair to grow. You can avoid the risk of acquiring superfluous hair by avoiding cosmetics and using mercelized wax instead. There is nothing better for any condition of the skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive cuticle. The latter is naturally replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy complexion, full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to discard a freckled, tanned, over-red, blotchy or pimpled skin. Get an ounce of mercelized wax at any druggist's and apply nightly like cold cream, erasing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation.

The ideal wrinkle eradicator is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution brings almost instantaneous results.

China Resents Great Britain Forcing the Importation of Opium.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—(Can. Press.)— Lieut.-Gen. Chang, delegate of the National Opium Prohibition Union of China, who has been in England for three months endeavoring to induce the British government to release China from her obligation to receive any more Indian opium, started today for China to report to Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai the failure of his mission. In a statement issued to the British public today Gen. Chang said: "Our people are deadly in earnest in their efforts to rid themselves of the opium evil, and they cannot help feeling resentment against a country which is forcing upon us the very article by which we were degraded and disgraced. It is intolerable when we reflect we are sacrificing millions of revenue and hundreds of lives in struggling against enormous difficulties that a foreign country should force us to receive for two or three years longer the poison we so earnestly are striving to stamp out."

The lieutenant-general concluded by appealing to the British friends of China "to do their utmost to induce the British government to join with us in removing the root of wrong and in promoting righteousness in the world."
