

SCHMITZ &amp; ZUMPT'S CLASSICAL SERIES—(Continued.)

From Prof. J. J. Owen, N. Y. Free Academy.

With your classical series I am well acquainted, and have no hesitancy in recommending them to all my friends. In addition to your Virgil, which we use, we shall probably adopt other books of the series as we may have occasion to introduce them.

From Reginald H. Chase, Harvard University, Mass.

I have taken time to give the two Grammars a particularly careful examination, and I was not surprised to find them equally admirable in plan and execution with the other works of your series. They are precisely what I have been longing for. My pupils have provided themselves with them, and they will hereafter, in common with the other volumes of the series, be required as text-books with all my scholars. In our Latin school no others will be allowed.

From Prof. A. Rollins, Delaware College.

I regard this series of Latin text-books as decidedly superior to any others with which I am acquainted. The Livy and Horace I shall immediately introduce for the use of the college classes.

From Prof. A. C. Knox, Hanover College, Ind.

Having examined several of them with some degree of care, we have no hesitation in pronouncing them among the very best extant.

From Prof. R. N. Newell, Masonic College, Tenn.

I can give you no better proof of the value which I set on them than by making use of them in my own classes, and recommending their use in the preparatory department of our institution. I have read them through carefully that I might not speak of them without due examination, and I flatter myself that my opinion is fully borne out by fact, when I pronounce them to be the most useful and the most correct, as well as the cheapest editions of Latin Classics ever introduced in this country. The Latin and English Dictionary contains as much as the student can want in the earlier years of his course; it contains more than I have ever seen compressed into a book of this kind. It ought to be the student's constant companion in his recitations. It has the extraordinary recommendation of being at once portable and comprehensive.

Among the various editions of the Latin Classics, Schmitz and Zumpt's series, so far as yet published, are at all times preferred, and students are requested to procure no other.—Announcement of Bethany College, Va.

But we cannot forbear commending especially, both to instructors and pupils, the whole of the series edited by those accomplished scholars, Drs. Schmitz and Zumpt. Here will be found a set of text-books that combine the excellences so long desired in this class of works. They will not cost the student, by one-half at least, that which he must expend for some other editions. And who will not say that this is a consideration worthy of attention? For the cheaper our school-books can be made, the more widely will they be circulated and used. Here you will find, too, no useless display of notes and of learning, but in foot-notes on each page you have everything necessary to the understanding of the text. The difficult points are sometimes elucidated, and often is the student referred to the places where he can find light, but not without some effort of his own. We think that the punctuation in these books might be improved; but taken as a whole, they come nearer to the wants of the times than any within our knowledge.—Southern College Review.

BAIRD'S CLASSICAL MANUAL.

THE CLASSICAL MANUAL; AN EPIHOME OF ANCIENT GEOGRAPHY, GREEK AND ROMAN MYTHOLOGY, ANTIQUITIES, AND CHRONOLOGY. Chiefly intended for the use of Schools. By the Rev. JAMES S. F. BAIRD, T. C. D., Assistant Classical Master, King's School, Gloucester. In one neat royal 12mo. volume. Price in extra cloth, 50 cents; half bound, 55 cents.

This little volume has been prepared to meet the recognized want of an Epitome which, within the compass of a single small volume, should contain the information requisite to elucidate the Greek and Roman authors most commonly read in our schools. The aim of the author has been to embody in it such details as are important or necessary for the junior student, in a form and space capable of rendering them easily mastered and retained; and he has consequently not incumbered it with a mass of learning which, though highly valuable to the advanced student, is merely perplexing to the beginner. In the amount of information presented, and the manner in which it is conveyed, as well as its convenient size and exceedingly low price, it is therefore admirably adapted for the younger classes of our numerous classical schools.

Although issued but very recently, this little work has commanded universal approbation; and its immediate introduction into a large number of our best educational institutions, sufficiently proves that the author has succeeded in filling a vacancy among our classical text-books.

From Prof. J. S. Hart, Principal of the Philadelphia High School.

"Baird's Classical Manual" is an admirable compend of the knowledge most indispensable to the student of Greek and Roman antiquities.

From Prof. F. B. Spear, Madison University, N. Y.

I am persuaded, from the examination which I have given it, that if a class were to be drilled upon such an "Epitome" as this, nothing better would lay a foundation for a full and accurate knowledge of the Geography, Chronology, Mythology, and Antiquities of the Greeks and Romans.

From Prof. R. W. Newell, Masonic College, Tenn.

I cannot help thinking that in none of your works have you so effectually provided for the wants of the poor student as in this.

From Reginald H. Chase, Harvard University.

That invaluable little work, the Classical Manual, has been used by me for some time. I would not on any account be without it. You have not perhaps been informed that it has recently been introduced in the High School of this place. Its typographical accuracy is remarkable.
