

Ye happier children, who below
 Still share a father's love,
 Remember, earthly love is taught
 To lead to things above.

Remember, when ye court his smile,
 Or prattling climb his knee,
 Ye have a Father ever near,
 More kind, more good than he.

Give Him a love as fond and free,
 As fully trust his might,
 Hold converse with him day by day,
 And with as great delight.

For household duties, loves, and joys
 Losses and cares are given,
 To train the sons of God to reach
 Their Father's House in Heaven.

 33.

HALLOWED BE THY NAME.

Hallowed be our Father's name,
 In the hall and in the cot ;
 Holy hearts, delight to honour ;
 Lips profane repeat it not.

Hallowed be our Saviour's Name,
 Of the high and of the low ;
 Every mouth declare His praises,
 Every knee before Him bow.

Hallowed be the Spirit's Name,
 Fount eternal, gentle Dove ;
 Him all Christians inly cherish,
 Hear His voice, and learn His love.
