CARVELL FAVORS LOW WHEAT PRICES

Speaking at Kingston, Says on This Depends Drop in Cost of Living.

Kingston, Feb. 15.—In addressing the Trades and Labor Council this afternoon, Hon. F. B. Carvell, minister of public works, dealt with the unemployment problem. He stated that the number of unemployed in Canada was not so great as public men a few months ago feared it would be, but the number was likely to increase if employers and employees, not to their utmost to keep the wheels of industry running. With the object of providing work the governments of Canada, Dominion and provincial, were spending huge sums of money. The minister was glad to state that there was comparatively little labor unrest in the country. He hoped that the industrial peace would continue, if there were no disputes, strikes or lock-outs for the next six or eight months, Canadian industry would be able to adjust itself to the new conditions. The speaker urged a closer understanding between labor and capital.

Wages Never As Low.

It was possible in event of the manufacturer not getting as much for his goods as he did in war times, that wages would have to come down, but they would never be as low as they were in pre-war days. The manufacturer was entitled to fair, but not excessive profits. But the minister did not see how the wages could come down until the cost of living took a drop and the cost of living would not decrease materially until wheat became cheaper. He declared that the government should discontinue the fixation of price, and that wheat should be thrown into the open market.

Give Locomotive Order.

The farmers, who he said, had made tremendous profits during the war, should be satisfied with a dollar and a quarter, or a dollar and a half for their wheat, instead of the present fixed price of two dollars and a quarter. The speaker stated that the day of machine politics had gone by as the result of the war, and that the common men would have a hundred times more say in the management of the country than they had in the past. During the course of his speech, Mr. Carvell announced that the government had given the Kingston Locomotive orders for twenty-five additional locomotives, which would be sufficient to keep the works running until June.

Mr. Carvell dealt with the transportation question at the civic dinner which was tendered him Saturday evening. The natural way, he said, for the grain to come from the Canadian west was the water route. He thought that the obstructions in the St. Lawrence route could be overcome by the ingenuity of man; the expenditure of a large amount of money. Regarding the proposal to bring six hundred foot vessels, taking twenty feet of water from Lake Ontario to the sea, he said a tremendous sum of money would be required to carry out this undertaking, but with the execution of this proposal, probably two million horsepower would become available. He considered that there must be a point of transhipment for grain. This point, he said, must lie somewhere between Kingston and Prescott, and the government would secure data as to the best possible location. In regard to harbor improvements at Kingston, the minister was non-committal.
