FITZSIMMONS ARRESTED.

FITZSIMMONS ARRESTED.

New York, Sept. 21.—Fitzsimmons, the puglist, was arrested this afternoon on a warrant charging him with a misdemeanor in arranging a prize fight in this city. An indictment has been returned against him by the grand jury. Fitzsimmons was arraigned in the General Sessions Court this afternoon before Judge Fitzgerald. The court room was crowded. Fitzsimmons' manager, Martin Julian, stood beside him, but he had no counsel. The indictment was read, and Fitzsimmons was asked if he wished to plead. After a whispered conversation with Julian, he pleaded "Not Guilty." The judge then held him in $1000 ball. Fitzsimmons secured ball and was released. Corbett has also been indicted, but has not yet been arrested.

When James J. Corbett was seen at Asbury Park late this afternoon regarding Fitzsimmons' arrest, he was very much surprised, and declared that the whole business was a shame. He said that he did not want to be arrested, but that fear of such a contingency would not prevent him from going to New York if he had urgent business there. Corbett is keeping up his training for his fight with Sharkey.

To-day was delightfully bright and cool, but the attendane did not exceed 2500. The game began at 11.55 o'clock. The Australians had one wicket to their credit of their second innings, and Giffen and Kelly, the not-outs of Saturday, went to bat at the opening to-day, and Kelly merely held up his wicket, while Giffan did the hitting. After the latter had 14 to his score he lifted a short into the hands of Bowler Baily and ended the innings for 180. With the 192 of the first innings, this gave them a grand total of 372. The Philadelphians in their first lanings had scored 123, and thus required 250 runs in their second innings to win the match.

It was not expected by the local admirers, nor by the players themselves, that this large score could be attained, but when Patterson and Noble, the first batters, began to roll the score upwards to the forties there were many who became hopeful that they might at least approach the double century. When 42 was reached Noble raised a high one off Trott's bowling, which Hill caught near the ropes, Noble retiring with a well-earned 31. Play was then suspended for luncheon.

Soon after luncheon Patterson's stumps were upset by one of Trott's slow ones. Biddle followed, and had barely settled himself at the wicket when another of Trott's slow breakers went through his stumps. A few moments later Behlen, who had scored but three, raised one to deep square leg, which was caught by Gregory. This was four wickets down for a total of 51, and it now began to look as if with Trott's deceptive slow balls and Giffen's speedy work the hundred point would not be reached. This feeling became more and more prevalent as the new batters came up and returned quickly with very small additions to the team's total, the eighth wicket going down for the measily total of 73 runs. Clark, however, was an exception to the rule, and, although he came in fifth to the bat, he held his po

Stearns & Co. have not during the present season maintained a racing team on the National Circuit, the closing of the season finds a large percentage of the speedlest men in America mounted on "Yellow Fellows," a forcible demonstration of the fact that the Stearns racer possesses speed qualities. Of the men who are now winning races on Stearns bicycles in every part of the country, Tom Butler of Cambridgeport, the international champion, stands at the front. Butler's marvelous record has been unparalleled in racing annals, and experienced racing men and trainers are at a loss to explain how he can even hold his own against men so much stronger and hardler than he appears to be. Whatever the explanation may be, be it heart, or brain, or brawn, Butler continues to win races, and unless all indications are wrong he will be the man of the year for the season of '97.

Almost as notable have been the successes of young Earl Kiser of Dayton, another boy not out of his teens. After defeating the two fastest men in Europe. Kiser comes back to America and defeats the entire field of America cancks. Kiser has been ridding the "Yellow Fellow" for three years or more, and several world's records made on this machine now stand to his credit.
