REWARD FOR A BURGLAR

AN INSULT TO POLICE

So Council Refuse to Offer $300 For Capture of Man Who Shot P. C. Smith.

HAMILTON, March 29.—(Special.)—Ald. Ellis and Applegate, in the city council this evening, presented a resolution offering a reward of $300 for the capture of the man who shot Constable Henry Smith. Mayor McLaren told the aldermen that he hoped they would not pass the motion, as it was like offering a reward to do their duty. The motion was defeated. It was decided not to spend $10,000 on the present fever isolation hospital, and a committee was appointed to pick out a site for a new general hospital. There was no opposition to the appointment of the following: R. Spratt, J. N. Twinn, W. Robson, W. Baylan, G. J. McKewen and P. Malloney. A resolution naming the Hamilton Art School after this year was carried.

The technical committee of the board of education appointed J. G. Witton, principal of the new school, at $2000 a year.

The play of C. W. Bell, Hamilton, "A Medical Mountebank," was given its initial performance at the Savoy Theatre this evening before a crowded house.

There was a lively meeting at the "Folies" school this evening, on the occasion of the annexation of a large portion of Barton Township. Geo. Avery presided and announced that there were three county constables present, who attended the meeting as persons some favored, annexation and others opposed. Those in favor appointed a committee of five to meet the members of the committee appointed by the city council to discuss the terms.

The merchants and property owners in the central part of the city have petitioned the city council to pass a bylaw prohibiting the location of cheap theatres and moving picture shows on the principal streets of the city.

This morning the police magistrate fined Sam Lee Hing, 34 North James-street, and six of the 18 Chinamen caught in the Sunday night raid for each for gambling on the Lord's Day.

Le-Cl. Logie, who has served 20 years in the militia, has received a long furlough.

Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian fight promoter, who is in the city, forwarded to Australia a photograph record of a speech he made at the wedding of his sister in June.

Lawrence Wren, an engineer, was struck by a T. H. and E. express train last night. He was knocked aside by the engine, but was not seriously injured.

W. F. Compton, Halifax, has been appointed organist and choir leader at St. Mary's Cathedral.

Owing to the ice in the east end of the bay, the Macassa was unable to start her "Toronto" trip this morning. Manager Bishop hopes to commence the service either Wednesday or Thursday.

Balsamic Essences

Make Wonderful Cure for Catarrh, Colds, Bronchitis, Throat Weakness.

To cure an ailment in the throat or chest, such as Catarrh or Asthma, it is essential that the medicine be conveyed direct to the affected parts. This is why no other remedy has succeeded so much as the Balsamic Essences, which alone can be breathed in one second to every air cell in the bronchial tubes. The healing vapors of Catarrhones mix with the breath and descend thru the throat, down the bronchial tubes, to the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are saturated with the rich glyceric essences that ease, heal and cure.

Catarrhones has entirely displaced the old-fashioned remedies, such as cough syrups, sprays, tablets and sedative powders. It contains none of the opium, chloral and drowsy narcotics so commonly found in liquid cough and catarrh remedies.

The extraordinary curative power of Catarrhones is well explained in a letter from A. B. Cowan, the well-known restaurateur of Carleton, who writes: "Some time ago I suffered severely from a frightful cold in the head and chest. It was nothing but one continual cough, hawk, headache would not yield even to the doctor's medicines. Hour by hour Catarrhones relieved and by nursing in Catarrhones I have been permanently cured of all trace of Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchial Irritation."

Once you try Catarrhones you'll realize how indispensable it is—the large dollar size contains an indestructible hard rubber inhaler and sufficient medication to last two months. Smaller trial sizes 25c and 50c. Beware of the substitute and imitator of Catarrhones—use the genuine and you'll get cured. By mail from the Catarrhones Company, Kingston, Ont.

BOYS HUSTLING FOR COIN

It's to Enjoy Camp Life This Coming Summer.

Taylor Statten, secretary of the boys' department, Y.M.C.A., on Saturday night received a message from Harry Rylie, on board the "Empress of Britain," "How much money have you?" and on receiving the reply, "Twenty hundred dollars," Mr. Rylie sent a wireless back: "Hearty congratulations, tell the boys I'm proud of them."

The reference is to the money being collected by two rival teams of boys towards the expenses of the boys' summer outing at Camp Couchiching, a hundred miles north of Toronto, and near Orillia. Yesterday the $200 had grown to $500, and the boys will try to make it $2000 by Thursday night, when the contest comes to a close. About five hundred dollars was raised for the same good object by the boys of the "City of Hamilton." Deducting expenses, $433 was carried to the camp fund from this source.

As immediate reward for their efforts, the committee and workers of the boys' club to the number of about a hundred of the city will be entertained by Mr. Albert Williams to a complimentary banquet at his cafe on Thursday evening, when the result of the contest will be made known.

Every boy on the winning team, provided he has as many as four subscriptions, will be given an all day automobile trip to Hamilton by the Lake Shore-road, returning by way of Dundas, Erindale, Cooksville, etc. The five boys will give a two weeks' holiday at Camp Couchiching.

Man Found in River, Not Drowned, But Hit Over Head.

WINDSOR, March 29.—(Special.)—The body of John Conway of Amherst, Ontario, was found in the river in eighteen inches of water on March 19, was exhumed to-day, and viewed by a coroner's jury. Dr. W. Brien of Essex, who conducted the postmortem, gave evidence that there was no water in the lungs, and that Conway was not drowned. He described the man as having a right eye as indicating that deceased died from the shock of a blow.

It is generally supposed that Conway, who had been drinking, got into an altercation with some companions and received fatal injuries, his body afterwards being thrown in the river.

The inquest was adjourned until Friday, and the crown will be asked to investigate.

THIS WEEK AT THE THEATRES

At the Princess.

"Mlle. Mischief," Miss Lulu Glaser's present vehicle, with its music from the fertile brain of Composer Carl Zieheer, and its book adapted for American consumption by the hardworking Sydney Rosenfeld, pleased an exceptionally large audience at the Princess last night. It wasn't the operetta which exerted the magnetic power so much as the prospect of again beholding Miss Glaser, she of the dashing presence and infectious laughter. It was discovered with much satisfaction from pit to gallery that she is quite as charming in her fechtigly Austrianish way as in the "Dolly Varden" days. Her every appearance was greeted with applause, which rolled up into such a volume at the end of the second act that she was constrained to speak a few words in acknowledgment.

The score is rather more limited than is usual, quality rather than quantity in the numbers being apparently aimed at. The music is graceful and airy, with conspicuous dash in several refrains, and an unconventional melody reminiscent than is commonly the case. Messrs. Kraatz and Von Sterk, who collaborated the libretto for this original production in Vienna, probably gave Mr. Rosenfeld a few anxious moments in reflecting to what extent the score would stand up to the demands of the stage. As it stands there is something of the abandon remaining, but not sufficient to prove fatal.

The exigencies of the plot, which is evolved with considerable cleverness and more coherence than is the custom, require Miss Glaser to don male attire and a very debonair youth she makes. She has a thousand little tricks of voice and gesture which accord with the unconventional nature of the role. Her singing is of the spontaneous and natural order, and she sings with the ease and naturalness of a bird. She has surrounded herself with very capable artists. Locally she honors belong to Gertrude Donell and Ethel Irons as Mimie and Lola respectively. Among the male members of the cast, particularly good comedy work is performed by Alexander Clark as the elderly Mr. Murrish, with Frank Farrington as Sergeant Dubois, William Rossell and Roy Atwell seconding his efforts. Miss Blanche Weaver was no less artistic as the conventional Mrs. Dover and Miss Marie Madden did the best of her kind in the comparatively colorless role of Hyacinth Warren, the governor's betrothed.

John Radford, the governor, was finely played by Frederick Truesdell. His presentation was thoroughly realistic, without undue emphasis. Eugene Ormonde made a remarkable character study of the role of Pietro Garvon, and Thomas L. Coleman as Walter A. Dover, the real power behind the scenes, showed the same quality of reserve. Riley Chamberlain also revealed true grip of the conventional but good-hearted citizen in the role of Andrew Murrish. The minor roles were all satisfactorily filled. Taken all over and notwithstanding its occasional crudities, "The Unbroken Road" is a strong play, with a searching moral, which cannot fail to be taken to heart by all who visit the Royal Alexandra, when it will be presented during this week, with a matinee on Saturday only.

At the Alexandra.

On the first appearance here of Mme. Bertha Kalich in "Marta on the Lowlands," she was at once recognized as an actress of remarkable dramatic power. Her art, altho strongly emotional, owed nothing to extravagance either in accent or gesture, but rather to the subtle sense of reality with which she pervades her whole representation. This perhaps owes something to the effort towards expression in an acquired tongue, but more to the natural interpretative ability of the artist, which, even after that limitation, is of exceptional range and excellence.

"The Unbroken Road" which Mme. Kalich presented last night at the Royal Alexandra has real gripping power, was sufficiently evidenced by the influence it exerted over the large audience, whose tension was only relieved by the numerous strikingly epigrammatic remarks which enliven the dialogue.

While "The Unbroken Road" shows distinct signs of immaturity in the dramatic art, taken as a whole, it testifies to the author's sensibility to the

"Gene" Poster Under the Ban

Devil Shocks the Censor

played, was the dictum of the guardian of the people's morals, whose objection was centered in the suggestion of His Satanic Majesty, printed in brilliant red, in the picture.

This is the first time that the Princess Theatre literature has been "up against it," and this will explain why next week's show will be advertised on the billboards in plain type instead of by colored type.

"It's just not a nice picture," said the inspector last night, when asked about it.

Yes, verily, but the woe of the Press-Agent are many when he strikes Toronto.

The Enterprising Publicity Gentleman ahead of Ziegfeld's "Soul Kiss," which comes to the Princess next week, got an unexpected shock yesterday when Police Inspector James Stephen told him to entrust the tricky task of judging what is and what is not immoral in poster art, declared with all the emphasis at his command, that the window bills advertising Mlle. Gene wouldn't do.

"Not a one of them must be dislike so many kids of a jovious temperament, and of such brisk dispositions that they prance thru the performance as if set upon springs.

There is little Miss Janet Priest, not bigger than a Brownie, who, in the character of the street waif, Nonnie (short for Anonymous), and in the midst of the galloping trim, manages somehow to grip your sympathies, and without any apparent attempt at the pathetic, wins your consideration and her emotion that you find yourself intensely interested in her love affair with Izzy Levi, the owner of that valuable violin. Izzy, like Nonnie, is without home or friends in this country, having come, tagged like a bit of freight, from far-off Russia, bringing with him only his Stradivarius, his love for home and his ability to conjure the sweetest strains from that rare old instrument, the gift of his father, Tommy Tatters.

Tommy Tatters is another appealing youngster, splendidly played by warlike Joe Ken, and he, with Bill Duff, the tough fat boy; charming, generous, and demurely polite, with all the millionaire mamma and devoted sire; Sassy Little, the good-natured busy-body; J. Boston James Perry; Miss Edna Fear, Carl Daschund, with his Limburger and his dim novel reading hold-up kids, Timmy and Jimmy, and a score of others, give a cheery, high-spirited interpretation of this love story of school days that ought to make a most unusual demand upon the attention of patrons of the theatre.

"School Days" is a very handsomely presented by the various clever plays of the company. The Dancing Devils, a pony ballet of the most discriminating and graceful, represented by eight exceedingly vivacious and pretty girls, and the dancing boys, are among the striking features that have a dramatic interest and skill between the regular incidents of the story. The ensembles are brilliant, in a sense, and highly picturesque, while the musical numbers, many of them original, and the dances all give artistic life and an added air of jollity to as bright and exhilarating a musical farce as has been presented in the past. The success of the production has not been in many a day.

Miss Janet Priest, as Nonnie, is excellent, and in her singing and dancing, as well as acting, she is a most artistic and well-deserved applause yesterday. Herman Timmer, as Izzy Levi, is good, and divided honors with Miss Priest in the role of the miserly father, as Tatt's, is an untouchable comedian, and makes this part one of the most entertaining of the story. John Jones, Isaac Berwick, Ethel Kelly, Agnes Lynn, Daniel Murphy and others of the company acquitted themselves with rare ease, cutting up bravely toward the success of the performance.

At the Gayety.

"Whirl-I-Fun" is the title of the first sketch on the program at the Gayety this week. Andy Lewis and his Mardis Gra Beauties are the company. Geo. Cummings proves himself to be an excellent entertainer. The chorus is composed of 24 girls, and 13 men. The voices are ensemble, and the music is as the music is bright and breezy a light opera effect is produced.

At Massey Hall

It was an encore concert at Massey Hall last night, when Mme. Emma Eames and Emilio de Gogorza furnished a not too numerous audience with a ballad program of pleasant and enjoyable quality. Mme. Eames is one of the handsomest of prima donnas, and if the program was not heavy on one side, and if she showed a disposition to let her voice, and even if some critics thought she occasionally sang flat, it did not interfere with the gratification and interest of the audience. Mrs. Gogorza was the better performer of the two, his reputation may not be so wide, and it was in the duets that she shone most brightly. Her "Crude Perche" was finely and dramatically rendered and the voices blended exquisitely. In the encore the audience were given a most brilliant bit of duo singing. The "Trovatore" duet, "Mira Aerte" was also finely dramatic.

At Shea's

Shea's may be said to have two headliners this week, and it is hard to say which is best. "La Petite Revue" the old idea of the marionette theatre, is presented by Charles Lovenberg, in a novel form, with a clever script of singers. Imitations are given during the course of the day, including Calve, Anna Held and Eva Tanguay. The second part introduces a scene from the ever fresh "H. M. S. Pinafore" the concluding act, entitled "A Slumbering Serenade," may be cataloged as garden wall music.

At the Star.

There is a merry-go-round of mirth, madness and merriment at the Star theatre this week.

The first satire, "Gay Congo Island," brings out some fine singing, excellent dancing, and a most artistic and original production. The second, "The Three Armstrongs," executed some very clever tricks on the bicycles.

"On the Frontier," is the name of the second burlesque in which Miss Croix
