Jan. 23, 1917. Dear Friend Mac: A few lines to tell you that I am feeling O.K., having gain-ed about 15 pounds since I came here. The boys are all fine. While out today I met Frank Lukeman. He was out with a squad getting coal. Buzz Baillie paid us a visit last night with his gang. They came in one door and out the other. They wrecked our hut in about one min-ute. Buzz headed it, playing a violin. They sure are a great crowd. I had a surprise handed me Sunday.

They sure are a great crowd. I had a surprise handed me Sunday. Punch Brodbent called to see me. He looks fine-and as stout as ever. He is on a ten-day pass from France. He and Angus Duford called. We had a great fanning bee. Some of the players that are over there got a great raking over. Another of the boys in the person of Tacky Laderoute—he played for the Na-tionals. you remember him—went over 9-16. He is with the C.A.S.C. He has some great tales to tell about France. He told me that Nick Neville is in England wounded.

It is said Fulton asks $10,000 for his services. Frank Mudkern, the promoter, has offered him $5000, but is expected to compromise at $8000.

DEMANDS INCREASE

George Burns of the Detroit Tigery, who is holding out for more money, has little reason to kick. Two years ago he was hurt. The club had him taken to a hospital and paid expenses for an opera-tion that New Orleans physicians said was necessary. Then the club sent its own physician south to look after the player and bring him to Detroit. Presi-dent Navin paid all bills during the sea-son, and after the close of the baseball year a Philadelphia physician was en-gaged to look after Burns. His charges were $150. The whole expenses Totaled more than $1000. Burns missed fifty games that year, and was not himself when he did play but he got all his salary, besides the ex-penses. When he batted. 286 last season, he received a bonus of $600. The figures of the contract offered him for this sea-son are several hundred dollars more than what he pulled down last year, but in spite of all this, Burns is attending indignation meetings of the union and calling for more money. to 5. out. 3.
