WOMEN ORGANIZE FOR UNION GOVERNMENT

Strong League Formed to Help Solve the Problem of Labor During Period of War.

The meeting of the Women's Union Government League for the purpose of completing organization and election of officers was well attended yesterday afternoon, Mrs. L. M. Hamilton presiding. Officers elected were: Honorary presidents, Lady Pellatt, Mrs. N. W. Rowell; president, Mrs. L. A. Hamilton; vice-presidents, Mrs. A. M. Huestis, Mrs. Campbell Meyers; secretary, Mrs. Macdonald; assistant secretary, Miss Grace Hunter; executive committee, Miss Church, Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, Lady Eaton, Mrs. Wall, Mrs. R. H. Cameron, Mrs. Sidney Small, Miss Hart, Miss L. Doyle, Mrs. C. Boulton, Mrs. A. B. Ormsby, Mrs. G. Lindsey, Mrs. J. Bruce, Mrs. Seagull, Mrs. Edith Lang, Mrs. McCaig, Mrs. R. S. Wilson. The presidents of organizations for union government automatically become vice-presidents of this organization.

It was decided to hold week-night mass meetings and also to have Sunday evening meetings in the theatres. The details of these meetings to be left to the executive committee to work out. Mrs. Cameron told of the machinery already set in motion and it was decided that the league should co-operate with the ward system of getting into touch with the women voters.

Mrs. Stobart spoke about the great energy wasted in able-bodied women knitting socks and sweaters when there was a great work awaiting them in the national service scheme, and she suggested that the women of Canada proceed to establish tribunals for women. According to the plan outlined every woman would have a tribunal when these local tribunals found.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four-ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and you need not how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

SETTLEMENT MADE WHILE JURY IS OUT DEBATING

Breach of Promise Case Settled for Thousand Two Hundred Dollars After Evidence Was Taken.

While the jury in the assizes yesterday was deliberating on the amount to award Miss N. Dvoretzky in her suit against Samuel J. Birtbaum for breach of promise, a settlement was arranged by the parties, and Mr. Justice Hodgins had the jury recalled. It was agreed that the defendant pay plaintiff $1200. Defendant's counsel then withdrew all statements which may have reflected on the plaintiff's character and both parties signed an agreement freeing each other from all claims. Later one of the jurymen stated that the jury had agreed to award the plaintiff $3500.

Miss Dvoretzky stated that while she was acting as a kindergarten teacher in a Jewish school on Simcoe street in April, 1916, she met Birtbaum who is a young Toronto barrister, and after a short courtship he had agreed to marry her on May 29 of the same year. She had in the meantime purchased her wedding trousseau and was ready to be married when the engagement was broken off. A short time before this she had canceled a position she had obtained in Detroit, and had suffered pecuniarily as well as in health on account of the engagement being broken off.

Miss Dvoretzky said that she was 19 years old last August and that at the age of 14 she had left her home in Russia to go to Palestine, where she spent three years in a seminary preparing to be a teacher. Peter White, K.C., who appeared for the plaintiff, wished to submit evidence to show the social standing of Miss Dvoretzky in Russia, but his lordship refused to allow him to do it. He also stated that the village in which Miss Dvoretzky's parents were living was in the hands of the enemy.

The case was tried in the assizes last January and the plaintiff was awarded $5000, but the verdict was upset in the appeal court on the grounds that the amount was excessive.

"This girl, only 18 years of age at the time, was much too young to contemplate matrimony," said J. M.
