

Government should be requested to provide a safe land-range for this purpose, and it is suggested that a Committee be appointed to wait on the General Officer Commanding to solicit his recommendation to the Hon. the Minister of Militia in this respect.

7. At the beginning of the seventeenth year of the Association thankfulness for the past and hope for the future should be the leading characteristics of its members. Good solid work has been accomplished and indications of its recognition are not wanting. "Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery." The other arms of the service are falling into line with similar competitions and it is an acknowledged fact that, although there is still much room for improvement, yet, the Artillery leads the van. Let us continue to hope for better support and increased facilities for the attainment of still greater efficiency.
