SCORES GOT OFF LUCKY IN WRECK OF LIMITED

Had Train Left Track a Few Seconds Earlier the Loss of Life Would Undoubtedly Have Been Appalling.

The most extraordinary feature of the wreck of the International Limited, near Newcastle, on Friday afternoon, was the fact that it occurred 30 seconds earlier the loss of life would undoubtedly have been appalling.

Thirty seconds before the accident happened the eastbound local from Toronto cleared the track, and that 30 seconds saved the lives of many.

Thrown From Seat. Horace J. Staley, of Kingston, who was one of the passengers, said he was sitting in the first seat facing the way the train was going, and suddenly the smash came.

As soon as I knew that the train had come to a permanent stop I hurried out of the door. I don't suppose it was more than ten minutes after when there must have been a hundred farmers gathered in carts, buggies and automobiles, with cameras, taking pictures of everything in sight.

Mr. Staley said he thought he was lucky getting off with a lame back and a cut finger, and he never wanted to go through such an experience again.

Car Demolished. R. W. Higginbottom, 11 Laurier-st., Toronto, said that the wonder to him was that the majority of his fellow-passengers were not killed.

OUTSIDER WINS HAMILTON DERBY

Guaranteed, three-year-olds, 14 miles: 1. White, 120 (Dugan), 5 to 1, 2 to 1 and out by two lengths.

There were several different announcements of just who would start in the Derby. The field was finally announced, including the two Derby winners, Gov. Gray and Meridian, also Nauson, Pagod and White. Hildreth withdrew both Zeus and Novelty, and Schilling was given the mount on Nauson.

The sixth race proved an easy victory for Baby Wolf, who beat Sir Alvecost out three lengths, making most of the pace. In the early stages he showed dazzling speed, and carried King Avondale along his horse.

The first run of the meeting came on the seventh day, when the boys entered his field for speed and won in a leading way. Baby Wolf was entered for $500, and won by a margin of 1 1/2 lengths.

SEVENTH RACE—Purse $500, for 3-year-olds and up, 5/8 furlongs: 1. Baby Wolf, 10 (Byrne), 2 to 1, 4 to 5 and out by two lengths.

Youngsters Provide Good Sport and Big Crowd See Good Races—The Results.

The Juniors of the Toronto Canoe Club held their annual field day Saturday afternoon. The lovely day, with the bay like a millpond, made the occasion an ideal one.

The family was happy today. Clondeaux was especially joyous. He is a great admirer of baseball, and described his family and departure as follows:

"The score is 24 to 0 (he meant none of the children had died), thirteen singles, four two-baggers and a triple. Now we make a home-run."

NEW YORK, June 17.—(Special.)—In a fight over an estate of $100,000 which is being heard by Surrogate Fowler, Miss Adelia A. Crawford of Brooklyn, who is trying to break the will of Mrs. Alice E. Benjamin, charges that a nurse, a physician and a minister were in a conspiracy to influence the testatrix to make them the chief beneficiaries.

Altho Mrs. Benjamin died on March 20th last, and the will was signed on Nov. 15, 1910, the testimony in the case involves the actions of the contestants as far back as the spring of 1907. At that time Miss Laura Calvert, a nurse from Toronto, Canada, was engaged to care for Mrs. Adela Archer, Mrs. Benjamin's mother.

Stole From Postery. "The author of genius," said William Dean Howells, at a dinner in New York, "expresses the thoughts of his generation has all along been thinking—but thinking silently and perhaps, a little mistily."

At His Loss. "I assure you madam, I am selling you this expensive article at my own loss, for you are getting it at cost." "Yes, I know and at the cost of your veracity."—Baltimore American.

His Native Tongue. "I don't want to forget his native language while fooling about that convention."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

PREFERENCE IN THEORY BUT RECIPROCITY IN PRACTICE

LONDON, June 17.—At a luncheon of the Constitutional Club, presided over by A. J. Balfour today, Sir Wilfrid Laurier told the big gathering of British statesmen and over-seas patriots that the reciprocity agreement between Canada and the United States need cause no alarm to anyone.

to any other land, but that did not mean that it should treat with her alone. Whatever privileges were granted to other countries would be given equally to England.

In Canada, he added, "the policy of British preference has been bolstered to the top of the mast and there it will stay whatever Great Britain does or does not do."

SUMMER SHOWER OF MONEY SURPRISES GATE TENDER

MELROSE, Mass., June 17.—James Walsh, a Boston and Maine Railroad gate-tender, had the surprise of his life late last night, when just as a Boston express was passing, he was showered with money.

The money was placed in the station safe, and early today the owner came and claimed it. He explained that he had been seized with an attack of car sickness, and had put his head out of the window for air, when his wallet fell from a pocket. $500 of three railroad men received $5 as a reward.

GRAFT CHARGES AILED AT WORKS ENQUIRY. Kiscock and McGill Examined Regarding Alleged Misappropriation of City Property.

The works enquiry was resumed before Judge Winchester Saturday morning, when evidence was taken regarding charges of graft against one of the department's employees.

D. B. Kiscock, who admitted using city men and material in his own work, was represented by J. M. Godfrey, Mr. Godfrey-examined the foreman.

"You have no consciousness of guilt in employing this man McGill?" he asked.

"None whatever." "This matter of material you used?" "It didn't amount to a row of beans."

"And the sheeting wouldn't be worth more than a dollar, and the work was done when you had almost nothing to do?" "Yes."

"You had to lay Cochrane off, and to get revenge he went to Mr. Rust and told." "Yes."

"Mr. Rust fined you one week's pay and you were laid off for a week?" "Yes."

"You have been pretty well punished." "I think I have."

McGill Gives Evidence. John McGill, Kiscock's employee, was called. He told of going to the city hall while working on Kiscock's house to get his wages.

"No limit now," replied Judge Winchester. "According to your evidence you were in a conspiracy to defraud the city," said counsel.

"I was working for this man, and I thought I had a right to do it," replied the witness.

"You know that this was dishonest," said Mr. Godfrey. "You were an accessory to the crime, if crime there was."

Mr. Godfrey pleaded the statute of limitations and asked: "Is there any limit to the inquiry?" "No limit now," replied Judge Winchester.

John Walsh was supplied with two rights of glass and some frames by Kiscock, but was aware that he didn't know they were city property.

Denied Conspiracy. Mr. Kiscock returned to the stand and denied that he had entered any conspiracy with McGill to defraud the city.

"You just deny his story in bits?" "Yes."

John R. Wood, a property owner on Ossington-avenue, who has complained for years about the nuisance from sewage carried across his land, was called.

"You have a complaint against the city?" asked Mr. Drayton.

"Not now," said he. "They are fixing it."

Mr. Wood also complained of discourtesy by the board of control in refusing to hear his appeal to build a sewer to do away with the nuisance.

He also found fault with the methods of repairing roadways after making cross cuts.

"Why did you bring the water out of its natural course thru my property?" asked Mr. Wood.

"Because you wanted the nuisance from sewage carried across your property?"

A Presentation. A presentation was made last evening to Miss Ida M. Gilmore, secretary of the E. O. T. Club, on board the motor-boat Lenore, by the members of the club, the occasion being the approaching marriage of Miss Gilmore.

The address was read by Miss Louise M. Jermain, treasurer of the club, and the present consisted of a beautiful cut-glass vase. Miss Gilmore responded fittingly, after which the party enjoyed a delightful sail on the lake for a few hours.
