News of Maritime Province Men In the War

School of Instruction. A school of instruction for officers of the 104th Battalion began at Sussex on Wednesday. Provisions have been made for captains, lieutenants, and non-commissioned officers' courses.

On Saturday night nine non-commissioned officers will go to Sussex from Fredericton for courses of instruction. They are: Sgt. Major H. Pearson, Sergeant C. L. Dougherty, C. W. Armstrong, W. H. Irvine, W. E. Parsons, E. O. Brewer, M. Levesque, W. McCloskey and A. McCusker.

Personal Notes. Robert Boyce, formerly Bugler with the Guards at Amherst, has been transferred to the 104th.

Waverly W. Folkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Folkins of Millstream, who has been in Calgary, Alta. for the past three years, enlisted for overseas duty and is now in Ottawa training with the Royal Canadian Engineers.

York County Recruits. One recruit, James Hunter, a well-known coachman enlisted at Fredericton Wednesday with the 104th Battalion. This week Mr. Hunter's eldest son, Guy H. Hunter, enlisted with the 104th Battalion and is now at Sussex.

The month of November proved one of the biggest recruiting months in Fredericton since the war began, 101 men being sworn in at the local recruiting office during the month. All of these recruits were for the 104th and 140th. There were 89 recruits enlisted during the month of October. The largest number of recruits secured in one day was twenty-five, over twenty of this number were during the big recruiting meeting held in the Opera House on November 19th.

Another series of meetings at various places throughout the County of York is now being planned and Sgt. Major Brewer will probably hold some recruiting meetings next week.
