FINANCES ARE CONCERN OF RED CROSS OF N. B.

President F. T. Short Presents Situation At Meeting Here

REQUIREMENTS OF YEAR ARE STATED

View Expressed That There Should Be 10,000 On Membership Roll

The matter of finances was the subject of discussion at the quasterly meeting of the New Brunswick division of the Red Cross Society in the depot here on Friday afternoon when F. T. Short presided. In his first address as president, he said this year was a very important and critical year for the division. The excellent work done in the province during the last five years had been accomplished through the generosity of grants from the head office. No other province had received or asked for such generous assistance. The grant fro mthe central office for the year 1926, was $9,000, solely for the home nursing and junior Red Cross.

REQUIREMENTS STATED.

For the use of maintaining our office and supplying the needs of the hospital committee, he added. "We have to depend on our own resources. The finance committee, which has recently been enlarged by two members, R. T. Wright of the Saint John branch and Mrs. W. A. Harrison of the hospital committee, has gone carefully into the matter and find that the minimum amount required for the current year is about $5,000, slightly more than $3,000 for the expenses of the office and $1,800 for the hospital committee." He said there should be 10,000 members.

Miss Jessie Lawson was appointed to represent the division at the National Conference on Education and Citizenship in Montreal, April 5 to 9.

FOR THE SOLDIERS.

A gift of $5 from Miss Frances Stetson towards the fund for a new typewriter was gratefully received.

Mrs. Leonard Tilley reported that the hospital committee had discussed ways and means as the division would allow the committee only $500 this year. Expenses, she said, must total $100 a month. Motor drives and property bag distribution had been discontinued temporarily as there was only $92.37 on hand and $300 of the $500 had already been received. Newspapers and a package of cigarettes a week was the extent of the present giving and the Easter treat would be a card and a package of cigarettes. Flowers were sent for three funerals. Mrs. Tilley said there were now 85 soldier patients in River Glade, 30 in East Saint John and 90 in Lancaster. Mrs. W. H. Shaw said she and Mrs. F. B. Ellis had been weekly visitors for 10 years to the hospital and it was a mean business to go without being able to take gifts.

Mrs. Foster suggested newspapers and cigarettes might be given if publishers and tobacconists were spoken to. Local branches she believed would be glad to give Easter gifts for the hospitals as they had done in other years.

C. B. Allan said the central council could live at its present rate of expenditure for 10 years. He did not think the province could expect an additional grant from the central council.

The consideration of hospital committee financing was referred to the finance committee for action.

RELIEF WORK.

The relief department sent out 297 garments to fire sufferers, soldiers' dependents, and to the port nursery at West Saint John. During the last two months they sent relief to four soldiers' families in the province, and the donation sent to the port nursery was to be used for the little European children, many of whom were very scantily clad for winter.

SEWING WORK.

The sewing committee reported from January 1 to March 1, 467 garments had been cut out at the depot and sent to the branches to be made up. Also 271 skeins of yarn have been sent out.

The number of garments received at the depot was 376. The cutting was done by a committee consisting of Mrs. Walter Allison, convener; Mrs. Sherwood Skinner, Mrs. M. A. Pooler and Miss E. Gilbert, who were most faithful in attending each week.

Hartland branch reported 24 members enrolled, gifts of garments for local relief, the local hospital and the divisional emergency supply.

Mrs. Foster reported Fredericton branch was doing sewing, and had a tea to care for the rural cemetery soldiers' plot. There were 28 members enrolled.

YOUTHS ARE UP ON 2ND CHARGE

Alleged Two of Trio Paid Another Visit To Vogue

Detectives Tell of Tracing Dresses and of Statment By Prisoner

George Stafford, John Beckwith Jr. and Edward Greer were in the Police Court this morning the two latter for preliminary hearing on a second charge of having broken into the shop known as the Vogue on March 2-3. Stafford was not charged in connection with this break, the robbery being charged against Beckwith and Greer.

Detective Biddiscombe, conducting the prosecution, asked that the accused be remanded until Wednesday so that evidence on the charge of breaking into the Arnold Department Store laid against Beckwith could be arranged for. This was done.

Police Sergeant Scott gave evidence of finding boards torn off the window of the Vogue shop late the night after the fire and then calling the detectives. A skirt was found in the snow below the window.

Detective Kilpatrick related that he had gone to the store at 101 Charlotte street with Detectives Biddiscombe and Ganter and had found Sergeant Scott and policeman McIlheney re-nailing the boards. They then went to the house occupied by Greer's family and receiving permission to search the cellar, found a fur coat with grey trimmings and blue cloth coat with fur trimming. Both coats were quite wet. The officers then proceeded to 811 Prince Edward street where Beckwith lives and searched the place and found another fur coat, also wet. Beckwith was found sitting on the floor in the kitchen.

Detective Ganter corroborated this evidence.

MORE COATS TRACED.

Detective Biddiscombe then told of following track from the rear of the Vogue shop to the tennis courts near Trinity church and found two coats in the snow near a stone wall. He said that when they found the coats at the Greer home they were in the coal bin. The coats smelled strongly of smoke and were quite wet. The detectives then arrested Greer and sent him to the police station.

Detective Biddiscombe told the court of the questioning given Beckwith next day. Beckwith had admitted that he had sold a dress to a man in Brunswick Place. When questioned as to why he had stolen petty articles from the Arnold Department Store, the accused had said that he intended getting clothes, but found he could not get into the part of the store where they were kept.

SAVE FORESTS PLANS ARE AFOOT

New Brunswick Committee In Canada-Wide Movement Named

Saint John is Represented—Some of Proposals of Central Committee

Already plans are afoot for New Brunswick's share in a nation-wide "Save-the-Forest" campaign under the direction of L. S. Webb, chariman of the provincial committee and of the Forest Service section of the government Department of Lands and Mines.

The provincial committee being selected to initiate and carry out the details of this year's comprehensive program is of widespread personnel and several new territorial additions are yet to be made. The committee is at present composed of Mr. Prince of the Department of Lands and Mines; Angus McLean, Baturst; J. L. O'Brien, Speaker-elect of the new legislature; William E. Golding, vice president of George McKean & Company, Limited, lumber merchants of this city; Mrs. H. F. McLeod, of Fredericton, provincial head of the I. O. D. E. and Walter H. Golding, manager of the Imperial Theatre in this city.

ALL-CANADA EXECUTIVE

At an organization meeting of the national Central Standing Committee held at Ottawa last month, the all-Canada executive was chosen as follows:—Chairman, J. A. Gillies of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association; vice chairman, Clyde Leavitt, chief fire inspector of the Board of Railway Commissioners; secretary, D. Roy Cameron, associate director of forestry. Each province selects its own executive committee on details, as New Brunswick is already doing.

SOME PROPOSALS.

The proposals emanating from the central committee for 1926 campaign include the best features of the 1925 work, such as newspaper publications, public speakers, radio broadcasting and quite a comprehensive use of the mails, cancellation stamp, commercial news services, teachers and students' publications, house journals, mail stickers, moving picture trailers, children's pamphlets, gummed labels, desk blotters, personal letters to people, special supplements, etc.

A novelty scheme for focussing the attention of the populace on the subject has been mooted in the form of a free tag day for every city in Canada. In fact if the plans now under consideration by the national body and the various provincial units are carried out, the lesson of forest conservation and fire prevention—after years of educational propaganda—should be pretty well taught, in the opinion of those having the matter in hand.
