

The Evening Star

VOL. IX, No. 218

ST. JOHN N. B. MONDAY, JULY 13, 1914

TEN PAGES—ONE CENT

MEANS UNDER CHARGE NOW; POLICEMAN O'LEARY IS DEAD

Gallant Fight Against Effect of Assassin's Bullet Ends At 8.02 O'Clock

Pathetic Scene at Deathbed—Funeral on Wednesday Afternoon; Police and Firemen to Attend—Many Expressions of Regret at Death—Braman's Case

Frank O'Leary is dead. After fighting for nearly a week against the effects of an assassin's bullet, received while gallantly discharging his duty, the policeman died in the general hospital this morning at two minutes after eight o'clock.

Pathetic Scene at Deathbed—Funeral on Wednesday Afternoon; Police and Firemen to Attend—Many Expressions of Regret at Death—Braman's Case with him until he had left on his last long journey. During the early hours of the evening he was visited by Rev. Michael O'Brien of the Cathedral, who sat with him for a few hours and soon after midnight his confessor, Rev. Miles P. Howard, visited the dying man and administered the last rites of the Church. About three o'clock he received the Sacrament of Holy Communion at the hands of Father Howard.

Nothing has so stirred public sympathy and interest for some time than the shooting of Policeman Frank O'Leary and his subsequent battle for life in the hospital. On every side, from the time that the bullet was fired in Braman's home in St. Patrick street, the chief topic of conversation about the streets has been the gallant fight of the policeman for recovery.

His Brave Fight The first few hours were filled with suspense. The report was that O'Leary was in a very critical condition and only a few hours were given the wounded man before death would claim him. After an operation by Dr. W. W. White, in which the flow of blood from O'Leary's wounds was staunch, the patient hovered between life and death for two days, and then came the encouraging report that his condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

On Wednesday until Saturday at noon the hopes of his friends mounted higher and higher as each successive report from the hospital was that the brave policeman was either showing signs of improvement or was at least holding his own. The rugged constitution, the splendid physique and the clean life of the man were beginning to assert themselves, but then the deadly inflammation set in. Then it was only a matter of hours.

His internal organs had been badly torn by the passage of the bullet and although the operation performed by Dr. White was successful, inasmuch as the flow of blood was stopped, the inflammation in the internal organs began on Saturday evening to sap away his strength, and weaken his pulse. All through the night and all day Sunday the heart-beats gradually grew weaker, the end was approaching. All the medical aid and physical endurance in the world could not battle against the conditions that had arisen, and suffering over grew the strength of the patient.

Although he must have been suffering intense pain, no outward sign could be observed by his anxious friends gathered about him, and at 8.02 Policeman Frank O'Leary died as he had lived, brave, strong of heart and courageous.

When it was seen yesterday that the end was gradually but surely approaching, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Leary went to the bedside of their son and remained with him until the end.

Phelix and Pherdinand WEATHER BULLETIN Issued by authority of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, R. F. Stupart, director of meteorological service.

Synopsis—A disturbance of some little energy is centered over the Michigan and is likely to pass directly across Ontario. Very heavy thunder storms occurred in Manitoba during Saturday night, and moderate rains have since occurred in Western Ontario, and the maritime provinces. Extreme heat continues in the west.

Maritime—Fresh northwest and north winds. Fine. Tuesday, north and east winds, fine until night, then rain in western districts.

New England—Forecasts—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, probably showers, moderate variable winds.

EX-CONVICT ATTEMPTS HOLD-UP IN OLD BURVING GRAB IN BROADWAY-LIGHT; BACK IN THE TULIS AGAIN

Richard Powers, an ex-convict from Dorchester penitentiary, was arrested this morning by Policeman O'Neil on a charge of assaulting F. B. McKel and attempting to rob him. Mr. McKel was stopped by the prisoner while going through the grocery this morning and was asked for money. When he was refused, it is said, Powers demanded that he should hand over his watch and chain. This was also refused, and it is said the prisoner caught hold of him and tried to force it from him.

PIECE AGAIN IN THE STAND Says Huerta May Resign at Once

Another Engineer Also Testifies But Does Not Furnish Much of Encouragement for Road Promoters

Johnston and the experts agree. He also remarked generally that a careful comparison of the expert's figures and those submitted by the defence did not really differ so much in several cases. The witness proceeded approving of them after items of the expert's estimates, occasionally classing the allowance as not only fair but generous. In reply to questions as to the propriety of the road after completion to tell absolutely accurately the exact amount of excavations, but they were depending on that method to settle a dispute on the Valley railway. He also said that in this case the experts would have advantage by reason of their cross sections.

Orange Celebration Goes On Without a Clash FAR IN IRELAND Carson at Head of 5,000 Arms Captured by The Customs Officers Are Taken Away From Them—At Derry Cannonade Starts Nationalists Organizing for Defence

Belfast, July 12.—The insistent demand of the Protestant portion of Ulster for exclusion from the operations of the Irish home rule bill, lent added interest to today's celebration of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, which was carried out here with the greatest enthusiasm.

Sir Edward Carson rode at the head of some 5,000 Orangemen, accompanied by the usual life and drum bands and including a sprinkling of brethren from the British colonies as they marched across the streets in the Unionist section of the city of Belfast to Drumcree, where a great open air meeting was addressed by Sir Edward and other leaders.

The Nationalist quarter of Belfast was carefully avoided and on no occasion during the procession did the rival factions come into contact. So little did the authorities expect trouble, that they failed to take any steps to clear the streets of the city of Belfast to Drumcree, where a great open air meeting was addressed by Sir Edward and other leaders.

A great crowd of tourists came to see the Valley road and to hear the speeches, which were a prelude to resolutions calling on the Ulster leaders to take what steps they considered necessary to prevent Ulster coming under the authority of the Dublin parliament.

A Significant Reservation. Sir Edward Carson was the hero of the day. His bearing and his portrait, were worn by practically every man in the procession, while great canvases spread across the streets in the Unionist section of the city bore his likeness. It is regarded as significant that in recent interviews Sir Edward Carson is quoted as saying that the only condition of his exclusion of Ulster, "for the present" while the more remote action of the Unionists must, in his opinion, depend on the way the Dublin parliament treats Protestants in the other provinces of Ireland.

Throughout Ulster and notably in Londonderry, extensive precautions were taken by the authorities against possible clashes between the organized forces of the Musquash lodges. The celebration of the day opened this morning with a parade, which was followed by a picnic this afternoon and this evening, and the day will be fittingly closed with a ball, given to the visitors by the Musquash lodges. There will also be a ball in Lorneville, and it is expected that a large number of people from the city and surrounding districts will be in attendance. The ball will be given by Mount Pleasant Lodge.

On Sunday morning, half a dozen powerful gasoline launches put out from shore towards the Konaigata Maru, with the evident intention of carrying the Hindus ashore. The immigration department guards in a launch close to the vessel, armed with rifles drove the Hindus back to shore.

Tragedies in Montreal Water Wings Displaced, Boy Nearly Drowns, Mother Lost Trying to Save Him—Another Mother and Daughter Die

Montreal, July 12.—Mrs. William J. Laverty of 480 Manoe street, Montreal, was drowned at Bal Morin yesterday, while trying to rescue her eleven year old son from drowning in the city two automobile.

Exceptionally tragic were the deaths of Mrs. Wm. Demers, 1618 St. Dominique street, and her two year old daughter, yesterday. The child struck a lighted feather in an oil can, there was an explosion, and the little girl was dead in a short time. The mother was an invalid, having been operated upon recently. In attempting to save her child she over-exerted herself, the wound was reopened and she died three hours afterwards in the hospital.

Montreal, Que., July 12.—Arthur Caron, of Cote St. Paul, was killed and three others were injured this morning, when an automobile of the fire department collided with a large touring car in St. Catherine street. Caron rounded a corner as the fire auto dashed up. It was a head-on collision. District Chief Arthur Mann was in the fire auto and lies in the hospital with his chest crushed and several ribs broken.

Death of Miss Brand There will be sincere sympathy for relatives because of the death of Miss Annie Brand, eldest daughter of Joseph and Ellen Brand of Norton, which occurred early this morning in the General Public Hospital. Miss Brand, who was in her twenty-first year, was the subject of one of the operations in the surgical clinic held by Dr. Armstrong of Montreal, which started Saturday afternoon from St. Louis, all but one landed again before they had covered two hundred miles.

INQUIRY POSTPONED. The police investigation to be conducted by W. B. Chandler, K. C., has been postponed until July 27.

Sub-Secretary Makes Announcement In Vera Cruz WILL LEAVE COUNTRY "Save Capital From Capture and Perhaps Sacking," Reported Words of Mexican Dictator—London Newspaper Says His Game is Up

Sub-Secretary Makes Announcement In Vera Cruz WILL LEAVE COUNTRY "Save Capital From Capture and Perhaps Sacking," Reported Words of Mexican Dictator—London Newspaper Says His Game is Up

Vera Cruz, July 12.—To save his country from the horrors of civil war, and his capital from capture and, perhaps, sack by a victorious army, General Huerta intends to resign the provisional presidency and leave Mexico. This statement is made by Roberto Esteva Ruiz, Mexican sub-secretary of foreign affairs, who yesterday reached Vera Cruz from Mexico City, on his way to Europe.

Huerta, he said, will surrender the government to Francisco Carranza, the new minister of foreign affairs, who, in turn, will step aside when the time comes. Just when the change will come, Esteva Ruiz said he did not know. He was convinced, however, that Huerta would lay down his power during the coming week, and it would not surprise him, he said, if his resignation were announced today. Carranza, he added, was suggested as provisional president by the American delegates at the Niagara Falls mediation conference and agreed to by Huerta's delegates, and the South American mediators, while the Constitutionists indicate that Carranza would be the provisional president than the real president, to be named later.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.

Dr. W. W. White, who is in charge of the patient's care, said that he had a fighting chance. He said that the patient's condition was improving and that he had a fighting chance.