REV. R. J. HAUGHTON REPLIES TO STANDARD Declares the Pulpit Should Fearlessly Proclaim the Right and the Truth — A Caustic Observation St. John, N. B., Nov. 24, 1914. Sir—While I have no apologies to offer to any man for my sermon against unrighteousness and dishonesty, preached last Sunday evening, I am convinced that the time is already here for it to be perfectly understood that when the Christian pulpit must remain mute upon the great principles of honest living and righteous government, then will not only individual character but national character and existence as well be in serious peril. One of the greatest utterances of the Greek was made by Pitt when he said: "To this end I was born, and for this cause I am in the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth, not to please men, but to please God."

The Best Quality at a Reasonable Price Eye Insurance That is what the wearing of glasses is. Glasses are worn to protect as well as to improve vision. Many people wear glasses who see as well without them as those who do not wear them. The defect in the eyes, which they can overcome by adjustment of the lenses, which, very likely, they were unaware, until a competent eye specialist told them, it was the cause of headaches, nervousness or other troubles, would cause permanently defective sight or complete blindness unless properly fitted glasses are worn. It's better to be certain than to be sorry. Have your eyes examined now at Sharpes'. If you don't need glasses, you'll be told so. If you do need them, the glasses prescribed will be exactly the ones your eyes require, and the price will be exceedingly reasonable. L. L.
