GREAT SALMON CATCH IN THE BAY LAST NIGHT

Lorneville Fishermen Bring in 400 Fine Fish—A Profitable Season

If anyone who enjoys the delicious, nearly cut of Bay of Fundy salmon—who does not—had been walking along the South wharf this morning he would have seen a sight to make his heart glad. Two fishing boats laden deep in the water were coming sailing up the harbor with the record catch of the season—four hundred large, firm salmon. Last night while the people of St. John were reposing peacefully, a fleet of twenty-seven fishing boats set out from Lorneville with nets trailing to catch the coveted salmon lurking in the waters of the bay. Great was their joy in the morning when they gathered in the spoils and found that they had run into a school abounding in the finest fish, instead of the usual catch of 150-200 had found their way into the nets.

After the fish were brought into the end of South wharf they were hoisted up in a great bucket ten at a time and they will be stored for today. Tomorrow some of them will be sent to dealers in the city and the greater number will be sent out on the west bound trains, some to upper Canada, others to Maine and Boston.

The salmon season this year is reported above the average and since in spite of the greatly increased catch the price remains as high as in other years next winter should prove an untroubled one for the residents of Lorneville.

MR. ANGUS TO CONFER WITH COMMISSIONER

Matter of Sidewalk Platform Which Was Declared an Obstruction

W. M. Angus, manager of Ames-Holden McCready, Ltd., who had been reported for obstructing the sidewalk in front of the warehouse in Duke street with a raised platform, said before the police magistrate this morning that the obstruction was only in place for a few minutes of the day and that similar obstructions were used by merchants all over the city. If the city had the sidewalk in proper repair it would not be necessary to use the device. The magistrate postponed the case until Mr. Angus could confer with the commissioner.

As the city's witnesses were not present this morning the case against W. Malcolm Mackay's chauffeur for violating the traffic law, was postponed till Monday at 9:30 a. m.
