SOME MARKET PRICES

Sugar Down But Molasses Higher
—Today in the Country Market

It will be pleasing news to the housewife to know that the price of sugar is on the decline. The market is reported weakened and a further drop is expected. Particularly raw sugars have been on the downward trend for several days, and the reduction in refined grades took place this week.

The drop in price is said to have been caused to a great extent by the promise of a large crop of sugar from Cuba and Europe. As a general rule the molasses market falls or rises with the sugar quotations, but this is not the case at present, for stocks of fancy Barbados are none too plentiful and the price has gone up slightly. Reports from Barbados are that no more supplies can be had there as stocks are about exhausted. The last time we have seen large receipts of molasses at this port by steamer, but the price has risen.

There has been no change in flour for some time, although it was expected that, following the increase in Ontario patents a few weeks ago, there would be further jumps. Recent western advices to local wholesalers are that the crop will be well up to last year's average despite losses sustained throughout the winter in the wheat belt.

Beans are all decidedly scarce and reports from Ontario say that there are none to be had there. So scanty is the supply that it is thought the trade will have to depend upon foreign sources. The country market today was rather poorly stocked with farm produce, dairy goods or meats, largely owing to the prolonged spell of wet weather. The roads are in a bad condition and the rains have washed heavy rut through the mud, with treacherous holes in some places. A fair quantity of goods was received by express. Prices remained about the same. All kinds of meat still stay high, while dairy goods, butter, eggs and cheese are on the easier trend. There is little poultry to be had.

POLICE REPORTS OF MANY KINDS

The following have been reported by Sergeant Caples for doing a meat and fish business in the city without a license: Walter S. Knowles, City road; William Magee, Charlotte street; W. T. & J. SUNNY LAMB TO FREDERICTON

"Sunny" Lamb, Marathon pitcher, has been released, much to his liking. He has been signed by Fredericton and leaves on the evening train. The only reason given for his release is that his size is against him, but as a rule good things come wrapped up in small parcels. There is only one "Sunny" Lamb, and all wish him the best of luck and know he can succeed.

DUE HERE SOON ON LITTLE WALK OF 25,000 MILES

Ed. Lamberth of Seattle Has Been At it Since 1911 And is Near Turning Point

St. John is the turning point on a 25,000 mile walk which Edward F. Lamberth of Seattle is making on a wager. "Oklahoma Ed," as he is known on the road, started from Seattle on January 1, 1911, and has been traveling ever since. He started southward making New Orleans his objective point. Coming north he arrived in Boston on May 21, and is now on the route to St. John. Judging from his previous pace he will reach here about the middle of June. While in Boston he visited the office of the Boston Globe, which published the following interview with him:

Ed is a picturesque pedestrian. He wears a khaki suit, canvas leggings and a sombrero that would make a Maypole quit after the first dance. Ed's sombrero is a millinery masterpiece, so far as decoration goes. As a hat it serves its purpose admirably, but the dainty little ribbons of red, white, blue, green and pink which Ed has sewed on for ornamentation create a splash of color like a wall-paper drummer's sample book.

There is an added attraction on Ed's bill. It is "Jack," a fine specimen of English bulldog, which trails along faithfully and quietly in a manner which shows both are fast friends.

Ed says his father, who lives in Oklahoma, has promised him $20,000 if he walks from Seattle to the Atlantic coast and return between Jan. 1, 1911, and 6:30 p. m., Sept. 30, 1912. When he landed in this city yesterday Ed had walked since New Year's day, last year, 12,389 miles.

"I've had 5,000 chances to get married, since I started. The most of the offers came from Virginia, but I've had a lot each state."

"I shall use 500 pairs of shoes before I get through. These include those I've worn in the last nine years. I've been walking steady for nine years, and now I've got away with 461 pairs and covered in the neighborhood of 85,000 miles in that time."

"I eat nothing but cereals and sweet milk, and only twice a day eat that. Jack, my dog, eats raw meat. I smoke about eight cigarettes a day. The kind of shoes I wear are only for long walks. They weigh two and a half pounds."

"I've worn out ten regular suits of clothes and five suits of khaki since I started from Seattle. I don't carry any baggage, only my credentials in this little book."

"How do I get along and pay expenses. Well, I'll tell you. I ain't advertising nothing and I ain't allowed to beg, borrow or steal. I can work, and I have worked at different places, 'cause I'm a plumber and a fitter, and I can show you my union card."

"Another way I have of getting money is that I take a finishing nail, any thing from an eight-penny to a 30-penny; and I can bend it with my teeth into an odd-fellow's three link chain. I can bend a quarter together double with my teeth. Ed is out to break the world's record, which was set by an Italian named "Nick" Corbham, who covered 25,000 miles in thirty-six months. Ed says he has got "Nick" beaten already, he feels sure. He will cover the same distance in thirty-two months, he declares.

FORMER SUSSEX MAN MEETS BROTHER AFTER FORTY YEARS APART

In the "Savannah Press" of recent date was published an account of the reunion of two half brothers one of whom, Rowland Crawford, lived in Sussex for many years before moving south. The other is Harry J. Wood who is now manager for the Fleischmann, Yeast Company in Savannah. They have been living in the same city without knowing their relationship. Mr. Crawford is manager of the Singer Sewing Machine Company there.

They were re-united last week after forty years apart. They had last seen each other in Halifax, N. S., where they were born. Mr. Wood who is now fifty-two years of age was then only nine, while his brother is now sixty-four. Their mother married twice and the brothers had drifted away from their old home. Through Miss Eunice Crawford, daughter of Rowland Crawford, they were brought together last week, after she had inquired of Mr. Wood if he had a brother of that name.

ANOTHER THEATRE PLAN

It is possible that St. John may have another amusement enterprise in addition to those already under way. During the last few days W. J. Fraser, of Fraser, Fraser & Co., has been consulted by people anxious to secure possession of his dry goods store in Charlotte street, which was burned out last Sunday. A substantial bonus has been offered for the lease but Mr. Fraser was planning to occupy the store with his clothing business and he has not yet given a definite answer. It is understood that the building is wanted for a moving picture theatre for which it might be well adapted.
