DUNLAP, COOKE & CO.

The exhibit of these banner furriers in the heart of the main building is a thing of great attraction. The public is quick to discriminate between what is meritorious and what is feeble and frothy. So many have been attracted to the exhibit that the fur garments not only catch the artistic eye, but stand the most minute inspection on their merits; hence their growing patronage as well as their ability to retain patrons once they transact business with the house.

Fred M. Sproul, of Hampton, told the press his most interesting incident in Dunlap, Cooke & Co's exhibit than in anything else he had seen in the building and grounds. It was a revision to the old fur manufacture house. As a resident of this part of the Dominion he was proud to note this demonstration of what maritime brains and energy could accomplish.

PRICE WEBBER PRAISED.

VITAGRAPH PICTURES DELAYED.

Cameras Missed Connections and St. John Will Not Be Photographed Till Tomorrow

It was expected that the photographic of the American Vitagraph Moving Picture Company would commence work in this city today. A programme was arranged and all was in readiness for the work which was to begin at 11.30, when the Victoria school children in a fire drill would be taken. The programme for the day had to be abandoned, however, as Mr. French, the company's photographer, wired Meyers Cohen that there had been some delay in transferring the cameras across Boston from one depot to the other and that the train connection had been missed. Consequently he could not get here till 11.15 o'clock this evening. In consequence of this the programme has been revised as follows:

Thursday—8.30 a. m. — Carriage at Dufferin Hotel to start taking the public buildings, including post office, city building, custom house, library, King square, Queen square, Old Burial ground, etc. 10.10.30—Falls at high water. 11 to 12—Panoramic view of city and harbor from Fort Howe. 12 noon—King street and any unfinished public buildings. 1.30 to 4.30—Horse show and exhibition.

Friday—7.45 to 8.30—Prince Rupert and St. Croix swing out from piers 10 a. m.—Fire department responding to an alarm, teams to come down King street to Prince William, where pictures will be taken. 11 a. m.—Interior and operations of saw mill (Cushing's) on the river. 1.15 p. m.—Fall with ship going through at half tide, to start on engine station at station, stop at Falls, thence to Bay Street, where the Victoria school children will be taken. 2.30 to 4.30—Royal Kennel Club Yacht Club have arranged to have some of the yachts in action near the club house at Millville.

Monday—Details of programme have not yet been arranged, but there will likely be a fire drill of the school children at Victoria school and the balance of the day will be spent on the river, going as far as Fredericton.

Officer Totten last evening received an invitation to visit Miss Harding's house on Brussels street. When the officer arrived he found there a gentleman who insisted that he was going to take possession of the premises, but the officer persuaded him that it was more healthy outside.

WITH ADVERTISERS.

Dowling Bros. report a great increase in the sale of ladies' cloth coats, jackets and cloaks. Their purchases for this fall exceed by many thousands of dollars the selections for any previous season. Consequently they have an adequate stock to cope with what promises to be the biggest season in the history of their business. This increase in business shows better values, better satisfaction and better service in every way. Their stock includes tourist coats, opera coats and handsome tight fitting jackets—almost everything from the simplest to the ultra fashionable.

Heard, Morrell and Sutherland, Charlotte street, are showing a very large range of ladies' and children's fall and winter coats. Exhibition visitors are invited to examine the new styles even if they do not wish to purchase.

TRAIN DELAYED.

Suburban residents along the line of the C. P. R. complain of the train service this morning. The incoming train was very late and from Westfield down all who boarded the train had to stand. The delay, it is said, was occasioned by the fact that the rush was so great at the Fredericton ticket office that the train had to be held while the tickets were being sold. One gentleman told the Star this morning that there should at least have been one more car to the train.

EVIDENCE AGAINST OSCAR WRIGHT

Witnesses Tell of Seeing Him Strike the Fatal Blow Without any Provocation.

SUSSEX, Sept. 21.—The preliminary examination of Oscar Wright was concluded yesterday afternoon, when Charles A. Coates, who was on the stand in the morning, was further questioned. Describing the first attack on McKnight, he said that Ira and Oscar both pushed him (McKnight) over in the ditch.

Alex. McPhail went to the help of McKnight. Ira and Oscar then went to the shop door. Oscar's step-mother used a long pole to strike him over the hands and kept him from entering the shop. McKnight was standing by, with Alex. McPhail and the witness Oscar and Ira Wright and Walter Mitten crossed the road to them, and Oscar said, "If it is fighting you want, we'll give it to you." Then he struck McKnight in the face and knocked him down. Describing the first attack on McKnight, he said that Ira and Oscar both pushed him (McKnight) over in the ditch.
