GREATER ST. JOHN FAIR OPENED ON SATURDAY

Some of the greatest of these were in the line of lumber. He was glad to see that the present provincial government was likely to be more careful of this great natural resource than other governments in the past, and that we would continue to be greater exporters of lumber.
He felt that the question of fire protection was one which should receive the greatest consideration. The fire had been too lax in this regard in the past, but he thought the time had come when the building laws of the city could be well changed so as to provide that in future the erection of wooden structures would be prohibited except in Stanley ward. He was prepared to support a law of that nature, for before the city could become an enduring city it should be built of brick or stone or concrete, or of other material which would lessen the ever present fire danger. As long as we built of wood we could not build an enduring city, and there was evidence of that in the disastrous fire which occurred in the city of St. John a few nights ago.

Hon. John E. Wilson.
Hon. John E. Wilson, who represented the provincial government, expressed his regret at the unavoidable absence of Hon. W. C. H. Grimmer, acting premier of the province, who had been prevented from attending through an important engagement. He thought the present government had dealt generously with the matter of exhibitions in the province. They had concluded the grants to exhibitions were in the best interests of the province as in giving the money for such a purpose they aided both the farmers and the manufacturers.
The money from the government grant for exhibitions is intended to stimulate, encourage and educate the farmers of the province to better results in the way of agriculture. The grant made was on a basis of expenditure of the amount of the prize list of the fair. He hoped the exhibition would provide benefit to the farmers and other visitors who would come in and that they would be assisted. He also hoped that it would be beneficial to the manufacturers of the province.

Senator Daniel.
If the city of St. John was to be what they all hoped it would be, there must be a change in the building laws and be agreed with Commissioner Agar that manufacturers will be established in the future must be built of non-inflammable material.
In conclusion, he said he felt sure the government was alive to the necessities of the province and that New Brunswick was about to enter an era of great development which would result in making the province one of the very greatest in Canada.

Hon. J. W. Daniel said he was sure the exhibition would be well responded to. He had assisted at the opening exercises of a number of St. John exhibitions but never had he attended one which was so well manifested such an optimistic spirit regarding the future of the city of St. John.
There was general satisfaction over present conditions and a feeling of the greatest confidence as to the future.
This feeling was general with all and he felt sure that the future was look forward to one that, with satisfied confidence, we believe will be what we expect. It has been customary in the past to boom the west and the speaker had just returned from a trip to the western country, he felt that he should say a word about it.
No one who had not been to the west had any conception of its greatness.
The people there knew they had a great country and were filled with a spirit of optimism and good-will.
This was especially manifest and the country seemed to reflect it. He had seen great and growing cities where a few years ago were villages and a general air of prosperity abroad which he pointed to the greatness of the country.

As Good as the West.
He had found a climate as good as our own but better, and while he found the west was the young man's country, he had also found it a country of hard work. After touring the west and when he came to look back upon New Brunswick, he was more than ever satisfied that we have as good a country as any in the western land. We have better and more varied scenery, better social conditions and a climate which is unsurpassed by anything the west can offer. He was satisfied with New Brunswick and felt sure that the same amount of hard intelligent work put into this province as into the western provinces would yield the results.
This was particularly applicable to the farmers of the province for in no other business had he known of where the chances of pecuniary reward were more certain than in scientific farming.
In the west they talk of the profits of wheat raising and 30 bushels of wheat to the acre is an average yield. Where a western farmer can get a revenue of $30 per acre for his wheat fields when wheat is selling at $1 per bushel a New Brunswick farmer can get $30 per acre for his farm in potatoes.

Major Taylor.
Major Taylor made a brief address. He said the great gathering

Blouquet addresses replete with striking tributes to the character and life of General Booth and garnished with interesting personal reminiscences.
He was an impressive service of song and a large attendance of people in all walks of life, featured the memorial service held in the Opera House yesterday afternoon in honor of the founder of the Salvation Army.
As a testimony to the power of great personality, a spontaneous expression of the esteem in which the speaker was held by the public, the meeting was a notable one, and demonstrated that his death was as sincerely mourned in this city as in other parts of the world.
Major Taylor, commanding officer of the local corps, presided, and conducted the service. The speakers were Ven. Archdeacon Raymond, representing the Anglican denomination; Commissioner Wigmore, representing the Y. M. C. A.; Rev. W. W. Brewer, representing the Baptists; Rev. Gordon Dickie, representing the Presbyterians, and Judge J. G. Forbes, representing the general public.

Opera House Draped.
The Opera House was draped with the mourning colors of the Army, and on the back of the stage was hung a large oil painting of the general.
The Army band was in attendance, and on the stage in addition to the speakers were a number of prominent citizens, including Rev. David Hutchinson, Rev. L. A. McLean, Dr. Thomas Walker, A. W. Robb, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Rev. Wm. Lawson.
The proceedings were opened by the band playing. Prompted to glory and this was followed by a hymn, O God Our Help.
Rev. M. F. McCutcheon then led in prayer. He thanked the Creator for giving them the soldier of the cross to pay tribute to whose memory they had gathered together, but who still lived incarnated in the spirit and thoughts of those who caught the inspiration of his great personality.
Led by the band of the Army the congregation then joined in singing Shall We Gather at the River; after which Adjutant William Cummins read a Scripture lesson from Rev. 7: 3-17, these present readings about the alternative verses. This was followed by a vocal duet, "Summoned Home," rendered by Miss Bessie Lane and Bandmaster Hockaday.

Major Taylor.
stirred his heart; it was a great tribute to the founder of the Army. The meeting had been arranged in rethe most practical way. The service of fitting the lands for profitable working not only assisted the newcomers, but tended to provide an opportunity for our own people as well.

The Classes of People Needed.
There were three classes of people who were needed for the development of the Province of New Brunswick.
First, he favored the repatriation of our own people who had left the province in the past, and who, he believed, could be easily induced to return to it when they saw the opportunities awaiting them here. In this connection he thought much good work could be done among the French speaking people in the eastern states.
Then there were the deserving people of Great Britain. He believed they should be brought here to assist in the building up of the Province.
Institutions of which Canada is already so proud. Thirdly, the men for the hard pioneer work are needed, and for that he thought immigration should be directed from the thrifty peoples of northern Europe.

He hoped to see an active propaganda to develop the resources of the province through the co-operation of the Province of New Brunswick, and he believed such co-operation would be closer now than ever before. There is no better province in Canada than the Province of New Brunswick, and yet in spite of the opportunities existing here we are importing from $400,000 to $500,000 of foodstuffs annually exclusive of flour, which should be grown here.
Out of an acreage of 17,000,000 acres in the province, there are less than 1,500,000 reclaimed from the forest and less than 1,000,000 under cultivation. Compared with the land which is carrying a population of millions of people in northern Europe, we have no poor land, but one great need of the province was more education for the farmers. Something is being done along this line by the government, as much, in fact, as the revenues will allow. Attention was given to the formation of agri-

The Lieutenant Governor.
Lieutenant Governor Wood was then called upon to formally open the exhibition. He referred to the fact that it was the first occasion on which he had been called upon to perform such a duty and continued as follows:
"This exhibition by the Exhibition Association of St. John city and province, has become one of the established institutions of the province. It began its corporate existence in 1889 and after meeting and overcoming many difficulties, its career of upwards of twenty years, I am glad to know is at present in a most prosperous condition.
The last year was one of the most successful in its history."
"The time appointed for holding the exhibition this year is too early to enable the farmers to display the fruit, grain and root crops of the present season's growth. The exhibit which will be made, will however, show the capability of this province of producing crops of this character of a high standard of quality."

Crops are Backward.
"The spring has been a backward one and the unusually wet weather has interfered with the harvesting of the hay crop. This crop is an important one and promised to be an unusually good one but owing to the wet weather the time of harvest, considerable loss will be entailed. The same cause will no doubt injure the potato and root crops, especially where the land is low or poorly drained. The pastures have been very good, stock is in good condition and dairy interests should have a successful year. I understand that the number of entries for this portion of the exhibition will be about the average."

Natural Resources Developed.
"There has been marked progress in the development of the natural resources of the province. The discovery of natural gas in the county of Albert promises to contribute very greatly to the general prosperity. Its utility in furnishing light, heat and power at a low cost has been demonstrated. The present indications justify the belief that it exists in such quantities as will attract to this province a number of the larger manufacturing industries. The discovery of iron in the county of Albert, and development of the mines will greatly benefit the northern part of the province. The active working of the Grand Lake coal fields on a large scale will benefit the central portion of the province. The construction of the St. John Valley Na-Dro-Co-Dyspepsia Tablets will be of great benefit to the county of the C. P.
R. at Fredericton, will be of great benefit to the whole province. The large expenditure to which the Dominion government is committed at Courtenay Bay, and the works already underway on the C.P.R. on the west side of the St. John harbor will afford greatly increased accommodation for shipping and the export and import trade of the province, which has shown a satisfactory increase in the past year, and will increase and the St. John will take its rank as one of the chief commercial seaports of the Dominion."

The Province Prosperous.
"The census taken by the Dominion government during the last year shows but very small increase in the population of the province. In the older settled portions, with the exception of the cities, there has been no increase.
In some sections the population has actually decreased. It is not, however, fair to measure the prosperity of the country by the increase of its population. Its prosperity depends not so much upon numbers, as upon the industry and progressive spirit of its people. During the last few years there has been an entire revolution in the conditions under which we live. Better implements and labor-saving appliances have come into general use among the agricultural and laboring classes and improved machinery has been introduced in connection with all manufacturing industries. One mile under present conditions can produce more than ever before. The farmer, the mechanic and the laboring man are better rewarded for their work, and if industrious and frugal, contribute more to the wealth of the community in which they live than they could do under the conditions which existed in former years."

Although our province has not increased in population, its people were never more prosperous than now.
This exhibition will demonstrate this fact. Besides the increase of the population of the prosperous condition of the country, its mission will not be entirely fulfilled unless it is educational. It should show to those who visit it, who have done well, that they are not perfect, that others are doing better, and by adopting other methods they may do better. Exhibitions of this character bring our people together in such a way that each sees the improvements and profits by the ideas of all the others. No one should leave this exhibition without acquiring some knowledge that will prove useful to him hereafter."

He then declared the exhibition formally opened.
During the evening the 62nd band was present and rendered several choice selections.

His Honor Judge Forbes recalled that many years ago he and General Booth had been elected the vice-presidents of the Bible Society. He thought the life of General Booth was a wonderful incentive to Christian effort.
There were thousands of men and women in this city who never entered a church. The Salvation Army had undertaken to reach these people, and it was doing it. But it was not enough, that the Army should carry the Gospel to the masses. The churches should join in the crusade.
His Honor spoke appreciatively of the tribute for all of us, and joined in the tribute to his memory.

Major Taylor then, on behalf of the Army, briefly thanked the speakers, and added that their words would be an encouragement and inspiration to the officers and soldiers. He spoke of the great responsibility resting upon Bramwell Booth, and invoked the prayers of the audience on his behalf.
The benediction was pronounced by Rev. L. A. McLean, and the meeting was brought to a close.

Continuing the speaker referred to some of the personal characteristics of the general. He was an itinerant.
He was granted a privilege never enjoyed by John Wesley, who said the world was his parish. He was permitted to go around the globe, carrying his message to all nations. He preached with the zeal and enthusiasm of the Apostle Paul. General Booth was a wonderful extemporaneous speaker.
He had a ready wit, and was fairly noted with the consciousness of his message. He had a radiant energy.
He poured forth his words that roused the conscience and made men see visions.

General Booth was indifferent to criticism and not particular in regard to grammar or rhetoric. He was as frank and open in his words as in the rule of his officers throughout the world.
Another thing that distinguished him was that he was filled by the Holy Ghost. He had acted as much under the inspiration of the spirit of God, as the men who wrote the scriptures of old.

Rev. Gordon Dickie.
Rev. Gordon Dickie said General
Booth was a great man in every sense of the word, a man of kindly qualities, to whom honor was certainly due. As representative of the Presbyterian church, he had pleasure in adding a word in tribute to the memory of General Booth. He felt that the Booth had saved the situation for the church. The rich had been growing richer and the poor poorer. The churches had been losing their hold upon the masses. A leader of labor said not long ago that while the work of the church was being done, they were despised it. The church had been losing its hold of the people, because its simplicity was inconsistent with the world.

Commissioner Wigmore.
Commissioner Wigmore said he appreciated keenly the privilege that had fallen to him in the absence of the Mayor, of doing honor to the memory of the great founder of the Salvation Army. He said that when the Army first raised its standard here, it met with a good deal of ridicule, and then those who were presented it would not long continue its work here. But it had kept its banner flying, and had enlarged its work and gained the respect and admiration of the people.

Rev. W. W. Brewer.
Rev. W. W. Brewer said it was with feelings of sorrow that he was present to take part in the memorial service. But he felt glad too to see how the work of a good man was appreciated by the people.
He did not think it was possible to overpraise General Booth. His work could be described in the words applied to Christ: "He went out doing good, and the common people heard him gladly."

ty, has become one of the established
successful in its history.

Crops are Backward.
"The spring has been a backward

the development of the natural resources of the province. The discovery of natural gas in the county of
iron in the county of Albert, and de-
the northern part of the province. The
central portion of the province. The
great benefit to the county of the C. P.
R. at Fredericton, will be of great bene-
government is committed at Courten-
commercial seaports of the Dominion."

its people. During the last few
laboring classes and improved machin-

were never more prosperous than now.
al. It should show to those who visit
ter, and by adopting other methods
useful to him hereafter."

formally opened.
During the evening the 62nd band
choice selections.

of the general. He was an itinerant.
a wonderful extemporaneous speaker.
He had a ready wit, and was fair-
message. He had a radiant energy.
He poured forth his words that roused
sions.

world.
Another thing that distinguished
him was that he was filled by the
tures of old.

Rev. Gordon Dickie.
Rev. Gordon Dickie said General
world.

Commissioner Wigmore.
miration of the people.

Rev. W. W. Brewer.
Rev. W. W. Brewer said it was
how the work of a good man was appreciated by the people.
He did not think it was possible to
plied to Christ: "He went out do-
heard him gladly."

COMPLETELY CURED
OF DYSPEPSIA
'By Na-Dro-Co Dyspepsia Tablets'

We are continually hearing from grateful people who have had experiences like that of Miss Alice E. Cooper, of Niagara Falls, Ont., who writes:
"I wish to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I received from your most wonderful Dyspepsia Tablets.
Having taken other medicines without having received the slightest relief, I heard of your Na-Dro-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and thought I would give them a trial. I have been completely cured of my dyspepsia. I will be only too pleased to advise any one troubled with dyspepsia to give them a fair trial."
Na-Dro-Co Dyspepsia Tablets not only
