

IN PULPIT AND PEW

Church of England

The annual conference and sale of papers and magazines of the Church of England Institute was held at the rooms on November 9th. During the afternoon the ladies sold fancy articles and refreshments, and in the evening Mr. John B. Jones, auctioneer, sold the various magazines in the reading room. The sales were somewhat better this year than last.

The Church Book Room, 318 Princess street, is now in Christmas attire. It is a pleasing sight to see the display of cards and books on the tables. The cosy and well-kept room should attract many people during the Christmas season.

The Sunday School Teachers' meeting of the Deanery of St. John was held at St. John's church school Tuesday night of this week. There was a large attendance, notwithstanding the roughness of the night. The president, the Rev. G. F. Scoville, gave an excellent devotional address, and was followed by the Rev. A. L. Fleming, who for years has been working among the Eskimos in Baffin Land. Mr. Fleming divided his talk into three parts, viz., The field, the preparation, and the work. For over an hour he held the interested attention of all as he described the difficulties of the work in that far northern land, and the devotion of the earnest missionaries in their efforts to preach the Gospel of Christ to the natives. This was one of the best meetings of the association ever held and the message given by Mr. Fleming made a deep impression upon the hearers.

Christianity After the War was a subject dealt with by the Rev. Canon Gould, general secretary of the M. S. C. C. in his report at the board of management held a short time ago at Montreal. His words will well repay careful reading and consideration. "The ministry of maximums is what the world needs," he said, "and the only ministry which can give it. We can commit no error if we resolve that Canada's ideal in the present struggle, of the maximum of service, shall be the ideal of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada in the great 'Day of the Lord' which is upon us. A Day of the Lord, a day of glory and glory, compared with which the fame of war is but as the reddening of the horizon for the dawn after a night of darkness."

The Bishop of Montreal has recently appointed the Rev. Allan P. Shatford, rector of St. James the Apostle, and the Rev. John James Willis, rector of St. John's, as Canon of the Cathedral of Montreal. Both of these men are well known in this city, and their many friends will rejoice at their preferment. Canon Willis conducted the mission at St. James' church, St. John, a few years ago, where he made a deep impression.

A hearty welcome is extended to the Rev. A. L. Fleming, who has been appointed acting rector of "St. John's" church for a time. Mr. Fleming is well known in the Canadian church in connection with his work among the Eskimos in Baffin Land.

The Rev. E. P. Brown has been appointed curate of Trinity church of this city. He is a graduate of King's College, Windsor, and for some time has been in charge of Gunnville Cove, Nova Scotia. Mr. Brown is sure of a hearty welcome to St. John.

The Rev. R. L. Sherman has been appointed rector of Holy Trinity church, Toronto. This news was received with sincere regret in St. John, where he has made so many friends during his stay in this city. Yet mingled with the sense of loss is a feeling of pride that a man from this province has been appointed to such an important position. The good wishes of all will go with Mr. Sherman in his new work. He will take charge of the parish the first Sunday in May.

The Rev. R. T. McKim will be inducted into St. Mary's church by the Bishop of the Diocese on the evening of Dec. 18th. Mr. McKim has done excellent work at St. Mary's during the time he has been there, and it is a cause for thankfulness that he is to remain in that important and growing parish.

The Anglican Young People's Society of St. Mary's church recently packed and shipped ninety boxes to the soldiers at the front who have gone from that church. Well done A. Y. P. A.

King's College Law School. To the great regret of the faculty and of all concerned, Dr. Elias Alward has found himself obliged by failing health to retire from the office of Dean of the King's College Law School, St. John, which he has filled most satisfactorily for the past fourteen years. His successor in the office is the Hon. H. A. McKewen, chief justice of New Brunswick, who has been actively interested in the school as a lecturer for a number of years.

It is now twenty-four years since the governors of King's College took steps for the establishing of the law school, the late Dean Alward taking a leading part, and the results have abundantly justified their action. For a time the governors made an annual grant towards the support of the school, but for some years now it has been self-supporting. It has some eighty graduates on its roll, who are practicing their profession, a number of them with distinction in different parts of Canada. Dr. Alward has been a lecturer at the school since its inception, and to him and Dr. J. Roy Campbell, who has been secretary from the first, much of the credit of the success is due. As a token of appreciation of his services the faculty of the law school have made Dr. Alward Professor Emeritus.

The consecration of Dean Schofield to be Bishop of Columbia is to take place on St. Andrew's Day, 30th inst. Dr. Schofield will be the fourth King's man to be admitted to the episcopate. He entered King's College in 1891 and took his degree in 1895, and received the honorary degree of D. D. in 1910, after he had been made Dean of Fredericton.

METHODIST

The Home Mission and Extension Board of the Methodist church of this city has issued a pressing call for funds for this work, especially to aid in the removal of the debt from the Little River church. The appeal will be presented on the 26th in all our churches in this city, and it is believed will meet with a hearty response.

The second meeting of the St. John district is called for Wednesday, 29th inst., in the Portland street church at 10 a. m. All the ministers of the district and a layman for each circuit and mission on the district are expected to be present.

From the message of the General Board of Missions we learn we have now 649 missionaries among English-speaking people in Canada, nine Italian, twelve among other Europeans, sixty missionaries and missionary-teachers engaged in Indian work, and fifteen Chinese and Japanese laboring for the evangelization of their own people in Canada. Our mission in Japan exclusive of wives of missionaries, numbers twenty, and in West China eighty-two, a total missionary force of 847, maintained wholly or in part by the Missionary Society. Seven hospitals in British Columbia and Alberta, to meet the needs of Indians, Orientals and Europeans, one boarding school and four industrial schools bring upwards of 600 Indian children under direct and continuous Christian influence. Indian day schools and night schools for Orientals and Europeans, institutional work in rural and urban centres, and one marine mission on the Pacific coast, represent some of the varied activities of our society throughout the homeland. In Japan Christian education supplements evangelical effort, while our West China mission continues its varied work of preaching, teaching, healing and publishing Christian literature, with the single aim of producing a full developed Christian church. It is hoped and expected that the funds will advance in the next year or two so that we may reach the million dollar mark, and thus keep pace with the ever increasing demands and needs of this great work of God, committed to our trust.

Morley Avenue church, Toronto, is a new cause, having just completed its third year. It has none the less a honor roll of 24 names out of a membership of less than seventy-five. Private E. Parkin is the first officially reported killed but Pte. W. Taylor has been missing five months. Pte. G. Haacke, S. C. secretary, is badly wounded. Serg. E. Saunders and Corp. E. Hughes have returned from overseas and news is just to hand of the severe wounding of Pte. Allan Hobbs, son of the late pastor (the late Rev. R. Hobbs); whilst it has the distinction of a representative of His Majesty's navy in Petty Officer W. Rowe, R. N. S. Margaret. The Rev. A. M. Marshall was killed when bravely advancing in the late drive. He spent six months in Egypt and the Mediterranean before going to France in May.

A memorial service was held in the Canterbury, N. B. Methodist church for the late Second Corporal James Allen Gould, who fell at Courcellette. It was deeply impressive.

The Yarmouth Telegram reports that Mrs. Amos Crooley of that town who celebrated her 90th birthday on the 10th inst., was in attendance at the reopening of Providence church.

Rev. Wm. Heartz, D. D. conference evangelist, is assisting Rev. W. I. Wright at Oxford, N. S., in special services with marked success.

Rev. W. Phillips reports the re-opening of Providence church, Yarmouth, after being repaired, and greatly improved.

Rev. Wm. Heartz, D. D. preached in the morning and Rev. C. E. Crowell in the evening and were listened to with profound attention and deep interest.

Providence church, its pastor and people are to be congratulated upon the beautiful and artistic appearance of their church, and the enthusiasm newly created must end in many additions to its membership and contributions. The balance of debt is only $800.

A handsome conservatory has been erected in Mountain cemetery by Mrs. Law in memory of her husband the late B. B. Law, Esq. M. P. It is constructed of glass, iron and cement, and will prove an attractive addition to this beautiful "City of the Dead," so well cared for by the people of Yarmouth, and a fitting memorial to the late Mr. Law.

St. John's Newfoundland, proudly welcomed home one of her most honored sons in the person of Major Macpherson who invented the gas helmet adopted by the British army.

A large and representative audience under the auspices of the W. M. S., of Wesley church, St. John's, gathered last week when inspiring addresses were delivered by Mrs. Robert Joyce and Rev. Dr. Bond.

Western Bay Sunday school recently held a most successful rally day service. This school has a well organized Bible class. The community mourns the death of George E. Penney, a trusted member of the Methodist Guards, who passed away at the early age of 19 years.

A service was held in the Upper Sackville Methodist church in memory of Harold Seary and Joseph Lamb, killed in action. Last week the second year engineering students of Mt. Allison under the direction of Prof. Crowell, visited the car ferry terminal at Cape Tormentine and Carleton, P. E. I.

Gunner F. Garden Green, of St. John who was a student of Mt. A., and went overseas with artillery last spring, writes home that "the Mt. A. bunch are well."

BAPTIST

What the Gospel gives us, and stands alone in giving us, is not merely the knowledge of the will of God and the clear revelation of what we ought to be, but it is the power to be what we are, and to love alone.

That strong force brought into action in our hearts will drive out from thence all rivals, all false and low things. The true way to cleanse the Augean stables, as the old myth has it, was to turn the river into them. It would have been endless work to wheel out the filth in wheelbarrows loaded by apes; turn the stream in, and it will sweep away all the foulness. When the Ark comes into the Temple, Dagon lies, a mutilated stump, upon the threshold. When Christ comes into my heart, then all the idols and twilight-loving shapes that lurked there, and defiled it, will vanish like ghosts at cock-crowing before His calm and pure presence. He, and He alone, entering my heart by the portals of my love, will coerce my evil and stimulate my good. And if I love Him, I shall keep His commandments—Alexander MacLaren.

Among Baptist heroes who have laid down their lives in France must be included the name of Major E. J. Brooks, of Nova Scotia. Mr. Brooks was the son of the Rev. W. T. Brooks of West Buckland, Wellington, Somerset. In 1905 he entered the Canadian Baptist ministry and at the outbreak of war was in charge of the important church at Falmouth, Nova Scotia. Having secured leave of absence from his church, he obtained a commission as lieutenant in the 25th Regiment of the Canadian expeditionary force. Promotion came quickly, and he was respectively promoted captain and major. He met his death in the moment of victory, gallantly leading his men at the taking of Courcellette on September 15. Lieutenant-Colonel Hillman, who was wounded on the same day, pays a glowing tribute to his subordinate officer, writing: "I have soldiered for over thirty years, but I can honestly say Major Brooks was the most gallant, loyal and sound man I have ever met." A chaplain said, "His life was an inspiration to us all, and no man in the battalion was so loved and respected as he was."

There will be widespread mourning in Falmouth, Nova Scotia, where Mr. Brooks was greatly beloved. His ministry was eminently successful. He was a preacher of unusual ability, and an untiring worker, especially among the young. The Boy Scouts of the town will miss his presence. The deepest sympathy will be felt for Mrs. Brooks, who is now in England. She has received a gracious message of condolence from the King and Queen.

The Rev. F. J. Miles, a Baptist minister from Melbourne, Australia, who occupies the position of senior chaplain to the Australian imperial force is now spending a few days in the country on inspection duty. He has had rather unique experiences. He was privileged to conduct two baptismal services beneath the shadow of the pyramids in Egypt. Then at Anzaco Cove, that shell-swept stretch of water and beach where every day, for months, brave boys gave up their lives for the cause, he immersed two candidates. But even this was eclipsed just before coming across here on duty. There was no other alternative available than to choose a fair-sized crater that had been made by a large German shell. Recent rains had nearly filled this with water. It was a little awkward to get into and out of, otherwise it formed an excellent baptismal tank. The service was held in the well-known salient within a few hundred yards of the German trenches. Surely never before had Christian confessors of the Prince of Peace put off their uniform to "put on Christ" in a shell-swept salient in time of war.

At the urgent request of Sir Arthur Pearson, Regent's Park College has been loaned to him to permit the extension of the work carried on for blinded soldiers at St. Dunstan's. The arrangement is for the period of the war and six months afterwards. The committee of the college, in arriving at their decision, was influenced partly by the fact that the supply of ministerial students is inevitably stopped during the war and as inevitably the number of blinded soldiers is increasing. The nature of the college buildings and their proximity to St. Dunstan's make the arrangement ideal in every respect for the work of ministerial students. Arrangements have been made for carrying on the work of the college at Hackney College, all the present students being received into residence there. Dr. Gould, the principal, and the members of the staff of Regent's Park, will carry on the classes in Hackney College. Dr. Forsythe and the committee of Hackney College have shown the utmost kindness and cordiality in making these arrangements possible. It is of interest to note that, during the negotiations, Mr. Lloyd George once said to Dr. Gould his own deep interest in the matter and his hope that this extension of the work would be possible. All this necessitates that Dr.

Gould and Miss Gould should give up their home in the college, where they have been in residence for twenty years, and find a house elsewhere. The whole denomination, while rejoicing that the Baptists have been able to render such a conspicuous service, will appreciate the great sacrifice which Dr. Gould is thus making and the generous and noble patriotism by which he has been actuated.

We regret to report the death of Second Lieutenant R. S. Vine, M. A., killed in action October 14. He was a member of the Cemetery Road church, Sheffield, Eng., and the only son of Rev. R. G. Vine, B. Sc. After being several times rejected on account of eyesight, he was given a commission in the Cambridgeshire Regiment, and has only been eight weeks in France. A letter from a chaplain says that upon being mortally wounded he took his Bible from his pocket and asked his servant to read to him. This he did until the officer became unconscious and passed away. "None," writes the chaplain, "who saw him die, will forget the glorious example he gave them of how the true soldier of Christ lays down his life."

The Retch, the most prominent liberal paper of Petrograd, has in its issue of September 26 the following item: "Under supervision of the police, Robert Fetter has been banished to the province of Yakutsk, Siberia." Robert Fetter is a brother of William Fetter, who was banished from Russia two years ago, and who is at present in the United States, working with the gospel committee for work among war prisoners, endeavoring to raise funds for gospel and tract distribution in the war prison camps of Europe.

Dr. Clifford was practically "snowed under" by letters and telegrams of congratulations on the attainment of his eightieth birthday. Among them we quote the following:

Mr. Lloyd George: "Warmest congratulations on your attainment with such firm step of the eightieth milestone on such an arduous but honored course."

Mr. Herbert Samuel, Home Secretary: "Heartiest congratulations on eightieth anniversary, and of long record of great work for great causes."

Lord Bryce: "Sincere respect to Dr. Clifford's career and career."

Mr. Thomhill Murray, M. P.: "Dr. Clifford's has been, and is, a grand life. He has my admiration, affection and best wishes."

Rev. R. J. Campbell: "Warmest congratulations, wishing you many happy years to come."

Mr. Thomhill Murray: "May I join in love and best wishes to our veteran saint and crusader today."
