applies to obstructing railway tracks, etc. The court room was packed to sufford cation when the case was called The failway people brought F. A. Guthrie, of Fredericton, here to conduct their case. Mr. Carvel acted on Mr. Napler's behalf and called attention to a provis-ion of the law which allowed owners of property to protect their rights. The magistrate, after a careful summing up-dismissed the case. The decision will have an important bearing on a number of cases that are unsettled and the railway companies who have refused to suffic, save and that the rights of landown-ers must he respected.
