

FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

YARMOUTH

Yarmouth, N. S., Jan. 22.—Captain Augustus Cunniff has been presented with a largely signed petition, requesting him to accept the nomination for the office of mayor of this town. He has consented and will probably be elected by acclamation.

Rev. Hibbert Binney Smith, M. A., for the past three years pastor of the United Baptist church at Yarmouth, died on Monday evening at his home, aged 88 years. He was graduated from Acadia in 1889, and has had charge of churches in Springfield, Canada, New Germany, Sydney (Pitt street) and Yarmouth. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, interment being made at Acadia.

Another one of the oldest residents of the county passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Nicholl, at Carleton, on Tuesday evening, in the person of Samuel Richardson, aged 99 years and three months. He had been confined to his bed for some time. He leaves three daughters—Mrs. S. A. Bain, Helen, Mrs. Thomas Crosby, Yarmouth, and Mrs. W. A. Nicholl; and one son, N. Richardson, of Medford (Mass.). He was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church for many years. The funeral was held on Thursday.

Chair E. Kinney, son of Councilor E. C. Kinney, has enlisted for overseas service with the Victoria Fusiliers.

The homestead property of the late Captain A. M. Hatfield, Acadia, has been purchased by his son, Paul L. Hatfield. The latter has sold his homestead to Aaron Shaw.

Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Lovitt returned home on Saturday morning last from their visit to Boston.

Roy M. Wyman was a passenger by steamer Prince George on Saturday morning last from Boston.

Miss Ruth Goudwin, of East Pubnico, arrived in Yarmouth on Saturday morning last from Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Patti have returned to St. Stephen (N. B.), from Argyle, where they have been spending the last few months.

Mrs. A. S. Chave and son, Francis, of Hillsbury, Annapolis county, have returned home, after visiting Mrs. Earl Coates, where he is seriously ill.

Captn. O. L. and Mrs. Seely were among the passengers by steamer Prince George on Saturday evening last to Boston.

Manfred Ross, son of John Ross, left Tuesday for Ottawa to join the signalling corps.

Miss Florence Brown left on Wednesday evening for Boston, where she will remain indefinitely.

J. K. Probert, of the H. & S. W. railway, has returned home from Stellarton, where he has been visiting his brother, who is very ill in that town.

Bowman B. Law, M. P., on Wednesday morning for Ottawa to take up his parliamentary duties.

Miss Jessie H. Crosby returned home on Saturday morning last from Boston.

Charles Roy left on Tuesday morning to join the Royal Canadian Artillery at Halifax.

Frank D. Cahoon arrived from Boston on Wednesday morning to visit his mother, Mrs. Charles Cahoon, Yarmouth.

William Bustin left on Wednesday morning for Bridgewater, called there by the serious illness of his mother.

Mrs. Montgomery, of Quebec, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Malcolm.

Mrs. Charles W. Cann left on Wednesday evening for Worcester (Mass.), on a visit.

Burton Skinner was a passenger by steamer Prince George on Wednesday evening for Boston.

BATH

Bath, N. B., Jan. 24.—Rev. Mr. Hopper, of Woodstock, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Wellington Page is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Barker, who is not very well.

Mrs. Simondson, of Jacksonville, is spending the winter in Bath.

Mrs. Stanley Barker and two little girls arrived on Saturday from Havelock, where she has spent several weeks at her home there. Mrs. Barker was accompanied also by her sister, Miss Jennie Alvord, of Boston.

Hayes & Vandewater are running their steam saw mill both day and night, as they wish to clear the large amount of lumber offered for sawing.

The potato buyers are paying the same price as last week for that product, but not so many are offered for the market as most of the farmers have marketed all they have to spare.

APPOHAQUI

Appoahqui, Jan. 24.—A very delightful outing was enjoyed by a number of the younger set on Friday evening last when about thirty young ladies and gentlemen after a drive in the open air were hospitably received at the Methodist parsonage, Berkeley, the home of Rev. Leon H. Jewett and Mrs. Jewett, who in their most gracious manner threw open their spacious rooms for the enjoyment of the party. Games of various kinds were enjoyed by those so inclined, while others

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bad habits. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 70, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment cures nervous adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

possessed of musical talent provided a much enjoyed programme of choruses and solos. Miss Greta Connely was the accompanist of the evening. Luncheon was served at 11 o'clock and after rendering several patriotic airs the guests departed for the home of the hostess, Mrs. Malcolm P. Ogilvie, Mrs. Frank S. Small and Mrs. Harley S. Jones chaperoned the party.

Colin King, of the W. U. Telegraph office here has accepted a position as night operator at Caribou (Me.), and left for that place on Monday morning. Colby H. Jones returned on Monday to the U. N. B. after spending the week-end with his parents.

John E. Patti, of St. John, was a week-end guest of his aunt, Mrs. M. P. Ogilvie.

SALISBURY

Salisbury, N. B., Jan. 24.—Rev. A. D. McCully was unable to fill his appointment on Sunday last, being still bedfast with grip.

Rev. A. E. Chapman, of Pettoodoc, called here last week on some of his friends who are on the sick list, notably, his son, Mr. Joseph Wortman, and Rev. Mr. McCully.

The rain which came last week removed every vestige of snow in this locality, changing the roads from good sleighing to mud again. The lumbermen are finding it difficult to get much hauling done.

GAGETOWN

Gagetown, N. B., Jan. 24.—The Queensborough branch of the Women's Institute added to the success which they have had in assisting patriotic causes by holding a bean supper and social evening on Friday evening in S. L. Peters' hall on behalf of the Belgian fund, for which about $30 was realized. The hall was packed to its capacity, a large number attending from Gagetown and Hamstead. A delicious supper was served by a committee of young women, who were gowned in white and wore the Belgian colors, and were assisted by a number of gentlemen. Belgian colors predominated in the decoration of the walls and the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown with his grandson, Kay Dewey, of Dorchester, was the guest of last week of Mr. and Mrs. E. Weldon.

Mrs. Guy G. Porter and Mrs. James Porter were the guests of Mr. E. E. Brown, of Pettoodoc, on Friday evening.

Howard D. Porter, of St. John, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Porter.

Mrs. Barbara Green and children have been visiting relatives in Andover and Perth for several months having returned to their home in Sisson Ridge, N. B., where Mr. Green is confined to his home with grip and was unable to take his services Sunday.

Lieutenant Guy R. Turner, of Argois, took function, has won a medal for distinguished service for his work in the First Canadian Field Engineers in France.

Mrs. John Green is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Basil Green at Sisson Ridge.

HE STRUCK IT RIGHT AT LAST

After Suffering Almost Two Years "Fruit-a-tives" Brought Relief

St. George, Jan. 25.—The county council met last week at St. Andrews. Becher Hawkins, of the parish of Penfield, was elected warden without opposition. The council voted $7,400—$5,000 for the patriotic fund, $1,000 for the Belgian relief and $1,400 for the Red Cross work.

A very serious accident was narrowly averted on Saturday last, while a number of horsemen were speeding their horses on Main street. A horse owned and driven by James Hopper collided in a head-on smash-up with W. W. Waite, driving his own team. Both animals were badly smashed, the owners thrown out and dragged some distance. Beyond a shaking up neither was injured. The damage, however, was heavy, as both were crying for new pumps.

The funeral of the late Miss Laura Armstrong was held on Friday afternoon. Owing to illness, Rev. Wm. Johnson, of the Baptist church here, was unable to officiate, his place being taken by Rev. Mr. Buchanan, of Second Falls.

The scholars of this high school, of which Miss Helen Taylor was a member, attended in a body, in addition a large number of friends paid the last tribute of respect to the deceased. Burial was in the cemetery.

Miss Florence McLaughlin left Monday for a visit with friends in St. John and Woodstock.

Miss Craig left this week for Boston, Lawrence and New York, where he will visit relatives.

Senator and Mrs. Gilmour arrived home yesterday. They were in the city on business and the guest of his sister, Mrs. Jno. C. O'Brien, town clerk, who accepted a position in the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Miss McDowell, of St. Andrews, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Goudie.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reardon and children are guests of Mr. Reardon's mother, in Penfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Matting are visiting the border towns.

In a letter received from Edward Mullin, a gunner in the heavy artillery, 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, in Belgium, he says: "We have been having it hot, except for a few scratches I am O. K. I would not miss it for anything. Why do you boys get so nervous? I don't know what they are missing. It is great and we can down the Germans every time. Have steady guns. Am well as can be."

There were no services in the Baptist church Sunday owing to the illness of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Johnson.

John O'Brien is recovering from a serious attack of grip.

MONCTON MINISTERS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Thursday, Jan. 27.—A quiet house wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mrs. Robert Watson, St. Mary's street, at 10 o'clock, when her daughter, Miss Katherine Watson, was united in marriage to William Kesson, of Fraser Limited, in this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue broad cloth with black picture hat, and was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Kesson are to leave this evening on the 8.50 C. P. train for New York en route to the Old Country, where they will reside. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar and cuffs. The bride was given away by her father, who was a dainty gown of white satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Gillespie, niece of the bride, and Miss Beattie Bremner, played the wedding march. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to various points in the western provinces.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black fox fur collar