Impressive Military Ceremony

GEN. BURSTALL PRESENT Hussars, Receives Appointment on Important Body.

A reorganization of the Cavalry Association of Canada took place in Ottawa on Friday last, when representatives were present from every cavalry ficers were discussed, the comment being made that possibly no other branch of the service supplied more officers for higher command, than the cavalry. Opportunity for Farmers.

During the business part of the meeting, the question of raising horses of the military and hunting type was discussed. It was thought that this in light the decidence of a source of great revenue to farmers, the demand for such horses already exceeding the supply. The cavalry association has interested the departments of militia and agriculture in this industry, which, will undoubtedly provide a source of wealth to the country when properly developed.

ADDRESSES NO. 8 CLUB—Mr. Fred Wanless No. 8 Club of Dundas Centrencon, on his trip last October to the World's Brotherhood convention held in Washington, D. C. Mr. Wanless interestingly told of the doings of this great gathering, but more particularly caught his eye while sightseeing, such as the United States Bureau of Art and Frinting. the Smithsonian Institute, washington's Monument, the government buildings, and many other public enterprises there. The list to the Brass probably a fitting climax, when Sir Auckland and Lady Geddes were "at home" to the gathering, which numbered over 300. Mr. Wanless remarked on the cordiality of the welcome as solution to world peace. Other men's of the world's brotherhood as a solution to world peace. Other men's not mentioned in the brief dis Smuts and William Jennings Bryan. The president of the club, A. E. Cowley, occupied the chair, and extended the hanks of the members to Mr. Wanless for the able address.
