Canadian Order Chosen Friends SURPLUS FUNDS OVER $1,000,000.

Whole Family Insurance.

The Order furnishes insurance to its nembers at Ontario Government Standmembers at Ontario Government Stand-ard rates.

Sick and Funeral Benefits are also given if desired.

The Juvenile Department furnishes the best possible insurance benefits to the the Juvenile Department furnishes the best possible insurance benefits to the children of our adult members.

The Order has already paid over $680,-000,00 in Siok and Funeral Benefits, and nearly Seven Millions of Dollars in Insurance.

surance.
600 Councils in Canada. If there is not one in your locality there should be.
For full information write to any of the following Officers:
J. L. Davidson, Grand Councillor. Grand Recorder. Grand Councillor.

V. F. Campbell, Grand Organizer. J. H. Bell M. D. Grand Med. Ex. HAMILTON ONTARIO

Was Great Jap Soldier.

Gen. Baron Fukushima, although one of Japan's most notable military men, received but scant notice in the American press on the occasion of his death in Tokyo. He began life as a drummer boy, and in 1892-93 distinguished himself by a trip he made on horseback from Berlin to Vladivostok, through Russia, Siberia, Mongolia and Marchurica, distance, of golia and Manchuria, a distance of 9,000 miles. From 1887 up to the time he started on this famous trip he had been military attache in Berlin. General Fukushima was in command of the Japanese contingent in the war with China until the fall of Tientsin, and was general staff of-ficer during the Boxer troubles. He was staff officer at sadquarters of the Manchurian army in the Russo-Japanese war in 1904-05. At different Japanese war in 1994-05. At different times he represented his country in China, India, Egypt, Turkey, Persia. Caucasia, Arabia, Turkestan, Burma, Siam and Annam.

Minard's Liniment Cures, Colds, etc.

Real Names of Nobility.

Real Names of Nobility.

When one glances casually at the roll of Bridsh peers, says London Answers, and sees such sounding names as De Montmorency and Choimondeley, Grosvenor and Howard de Walden, one is impressed by a sense of the grandeur and proud descent of our nobility. But a closer examination dispeis this illusion; for, rubbing shoulders with such splendid patronymies, suggesting long centuries of blue-blooded ancestry, you will find scores of surnames such as Smith and Robinson, Hogg and Gardner.

Two of our marquesses have for surnames Browne and Hay, in common with many a farm bloorer, while Lord Headfort is a Taylour, like his remote foresther, who probably carried his bread by his selssors. Among the weavers of curis' coronets, Lord Enniskillen is a Cole, and his lordship of Leicester signs himself Coke. The Earl of Dartmouth is a Lerger Lord Desart, a Cuffe, and Lord Ladley bears the mame of his ancestors, the gridsmith's apprentice—"Ward," with "Humble before it. We have an arl who is Hardy; one is a Boyle; two others are "Hay," There are also a thoma and a Scott, a Bayris and a Hore.

also a Trowne and a Scott, a Barris and a Hore.

In the group of viscounts figure a Ward and a Flower; a Gage and an O'Grady; a Smith and a Gully, first made famous by an oid-time prize fighter. Among the barons are Luke White, Lord Annaly, and Algernon Strutt, Baron Belper, Lord Concury is "Lawless" by name, though not by nature; Baron Blentawe calls himself Jorkins and Lord Dynever is a Rice, Howard de Walden is a title of which its hearer is probably prouder than of his paironymic Ellis; and Lord Inverelydo is really plain "Jaines Burns,"

We have a baron who was cradled a "Graves"; another whose father, like himself, was dubbed Hogg; and a third, who, if he were not a peer, would be simply James Hozier, a name probably serived from an ancester who sold stockings.

Minard's Liniment Curea Distemper.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

OLD PIRATES --- AND NEW

In days of old the pirate bold
World sail the raying sea,
And take his poolly toil of gold
Wherever it might be.
But now in value we scan the main—
The clien days are o'er.
The pirates of the present reign

The buccancer who knew no fear Once flearished-long ago-And, with his good blade ever near, Would not up friend or fee. No more his beat will lightly float. Upen the billow's foam— the takes from you your only groat the takes from you your only groat

Once Rolly Head-kid in the wood, 'yad, with his good long bow.
It dup and satisfy whose he could be satisfy game, I know).
Na on law now, beneath the bough, con choose, con choose, constion when in New York Times.

The sales and

Piety Lydie E. Pinkham's Vagetable Compound is Prepared For Woman's Use

A visit to the laboratory where the uccessful remedy is made impressed even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanlines which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 250,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from stract the medicinal properties from Every utensil and tank that comes in control with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attent to its virtue.

Tricked.

A story is told of Admiral Hall, of the British Naval Intelligence Service, which illustrates admirably the simplicity and effectiveness of his methods. A German spy, says the Manchester Guardian, a naval officer, masquerading as an American, was known to be trying to return to Ger-many through London and Holland. The information was indefinite, but the Intelligence Service believed that a passenger who was arriving at a London station was the man. Admiral Hall went to the station in uniform and questioned the suspect as he left and questioned the suspect as no left the train. The man had all the ne-cessary papers, however, and his American accent was good. Suddenly the admiral shouted to him in Ger-man: "How dare you stand like that man: How dare you statut has that when you are speaking to a superior officer." The suspect straightened his back, his heels clicked, and his hand was halfway up to the salute before he could control himself. It was then too late, and after the arrest the proofs were found. The admiral knew that, if the man were surprised, no exercise of will could prevent him from reacting to an order in the typical manner of a German

"Cold In the Head"

is an acute attack of Nasal Catarrh. Persons who are subject to frequent "colds in the head" will find that the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will build up the System, cleanse the Blood and render them less liable to colds. Repeated attacks of Acute Catarrh may lead to Chronic Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the Blood en internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. All Druggists 75c. Testimonials free. $100.00 for any case of catarth that HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will not

ure. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio,

Where Foch is Second.

Madame la Marechale Foch is commander-in-chief in her own home. She is said to be a French lady of quiet and caim determination where the order and regularity of her household are concerned. She dislikes being late for luncheon, and she dislikes marshal being late for luncheon. tunately, the marshal dislikes it himself. On one occasion, when after the signing of the armistice Foch was engaged in prolonged conversation with allied representatives and the hour for luncheen had gone by, a message came into the conference room to say that Madame la Marechale could wait no longer for lunch. It may have been impatience on the part of Madame la Marcchale, or perhaps Foch expected that message, accordto a possible little prearranged tagem between monsieur and ame. Needless to say that, in stratagem madame. times of great pressure, madame makes no demur when the rules of her household are just simply ignored.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria

VEGETABLE POISONS.

Some of Them Have Very Peculiar Effects.

Sixteen years ago a young man was brought into the hospital at Cairns, in Queensland, Australia, suffering from a strange paralyss of the optic nerves. In spite of skilled treatment, he became blind.

Other cases occurred in the same district, and were traced to the cat-ing of a wild fruit known as the fin-ger cherry, a long, bright red berry, which has nothing in common with boys in relay races and ball games, pretended that he thought they could have pretty nearly as much fun practicing high jumps in the haymow. And both the boys, with the extra tenderness big brothers are wont to reserve for a small sister, presented to Chloe that the fat pony she had been going to ride to Oak Grove would become so restive and high-suirited from a the English cherry.

The effects of certain vegetable poisons are at present beyond scientific explanation. The finger cherry is not the only Australian plant which has a beneful effect upon the

MINARD'S LINIMENT. REV. WM. BROWN.

I was curred of a bad case of earache by MINARD'S LINIMENT. MRS. S. KAULBACK.

Liwas cure lof sensitive lungs by MIN-ARD'S LIMBMENT. MRS. S. MASTERS.

h heart as loving) filled their peckets with cookies, they ran for the barn. Chloe watched them, her little nose flat against the pane. After a coment, she spoke up pridefully.

"Crandmother, aren't they—aren't they—good sports?"

"Yes," agreed Grandmother fervently, "they are. And, bless your heart, you're another. 'That's just it. And they'd 'lotted so on a plenic! I wish—". Some years ago Mr. W. H. Mortison, a wed-known Australian horse breeder, wrote to the Sydney Morning Heraid pointing out that numbers of horses were being blinded by enting the wild melon, which is common in many parts of Australia, and which grows in great profusion after the breaking of a long drought.

One of the most terrible plants in existence is the Asclepias gigantea, which is common in Abyssinia, and grows also in Ceylon. When cut a Some years ago Mr. W. H. Mor-which is common in Abyssinia, and grows also in Ceylon. When cut a milky sap exudes from the stem and leaves, and the least drop of this will cause total blindness if it comes in contract with the cye.

The asclepias is used largely for firewood, but the men who cut it have to exercise extreme care. If a man arcidentally rubs his eye with his to exercise extreme care. It accidentally rubs his eye with his hand white engaged in cutting this wood, acute ophthelmia is certain, and the sight of the eye is gone for it no cure. Yet the

and the sight of the eye is gone for good. There is no cure. Yet the strangest thing is that goats eat the asslepias without suffering harm.

Goats, too, can eat the Texan lecoweed, which kills horses and cattle. This poisonous plant drives horses mad. They run in circles, and sometimes are seized by a sort of mania. We have plants, even in the British Isles, which are none to safe to meddle with. Reference is not made to the regular poison plants such as hemlock, deadly nightshade, or wild parsnip. There are plants which are yoularly supposed to be harmless or ever wholesome, yet which have very queer effects on certain individuals.

queer effects on certain individuals.

Mountain ash, for instance. The pretty fruit of this tree is made into jam, jelly, and a sort of spirit. The spirit has the extraordinary power of destroying the memory.

Mixtures of fruits or leaves, each harmless in themselves, may have anpleasant consequences. Be careful not to eat spinach and an orange at the same meal. The oxalic acid of the former is freed by the citric acid of the latter, and the result is a more or less sharp case of poisoning. Tomato must not be followed by lemon or the result may be the same. Some fruits are injurious in an unripe condition. The juice of a raw pineapple if injected under the skin is most dangerous.—Tit-Bits.

The Rainy Day Picnic

It rained. Lincoln, Graham, and Chloe, standing in the long hall that ran straight through Grandmother Loring's country home, were obliged to admit this fact. Of course, a rainy day, now and again, is nothing to be tragic about. That is, when it is on a day just like any other day. You may even enjoy it, remembering, comfortably, how much yours and everybody else's garden needs a drink. But when it rains on the day of the first village picnic (with all the "fixings") you have ever been invited to in all your careful, supervised, city life, you may pardoned, I think, for not being exactly merry about it.

But, now that the excuses are made, prepare for a surprise. For, although the Lorings had been brought up in the city—so far—it was by good country parents, who were perfectly used to all kinds of weather. so, in spite of the children's disappointment, nobody whiled. Nobody whimpered. Nobody even nings that probably the sun would never

On the Contrary. Lincoln, who guessed rightly that Graham's inner eye was on the shining new bicycle in the shed, which was to nave had its first long trip to-day, even pretended by noon. Graham, who knew how much Lincoln had been looking forward to trying his skill with the other boys in relay races and ball games so ride to Oak Grove would become so restive and high-spirited from a day in the stall that, by to-morrow, he would be curveting and arch-necked, like a circus horse, and they would take him out into the field and hold him and let her do tricks on his broad back in her moceas.

Thus, with a great show of being quite happy over the situation, the boys got into their rubber coats. Trailing out through the kitchen, where Grandmother (a brick little lady, with eyes as blue as Chloe's and a heart as loving) filled their peckets

"Grandmother!" Chloe's feet began to de a litle rhythmic dance and are eyes to sparkle, "Oh, grandmother, listen! Couldn't 1—couldn't we—sh!

randmother's car.
Then Grandmother having gleefully agreed to Sister's plan, almost doing a queer little dance of her own, the kitchen woke up. Only on Thanksgivada.

the sentence finished itself in and forth Chloe went, time and time again, off with her arms full and back again, empty-handed. At exactly 12 o'clock, the last trip made, she blew the dinner horn.

Promptly two rubber-coated figures emerged from the barn, stopped at the shed pump to scrub up, and with a wistful glance at the sky, came in. No Grandmother. No Chloe. No dinner. Why, the 'able wasn't even set. They stared at each other.

"The horn didn't blow itself," Lin coln offered practically. And then Graham discovered the atic door open. Listening, he heard a laugh. Two laughs. Like a flash he was up the stairs, Lincoln hard behind him. And there, in the centre of the hugerafted attic, sat Grandmother

Between them stood the very same hamper that, packed to burstling, used rears ago, to attend picnics with Graham Loring senior, when he was a little boy. And near it was a big pickle crock of lemonade, with a long-handled dipper. And near that, a tripod of crossed sticks, supporting a kettle over a lighted alcohol lamp.

If ever there had been a merrier dinner, certainly none of the Lorings had attended it. Slices of crisp bacon, nad attended it. Shees of errsp bacon, cooked on a fork over the alcohol camp fire, and served on "hunks" of corn cake. Chicken sandwiches and ham sandwiches and jelly sandwiches. Lemonade. And, as a sauce for it all, chuckles, mostly occasioned by Grand-mother's stories of picnic days when all the little boys wore roundabouts, and all the little girls had pantaand all the little girls had panta-lets. Many a happy meal have the children had since, in summer camp and on cross-country hike, but never one of such gayety and buggling joyusness as the party on the rainy day attic.

Then, just as the hamper had been race, a runabout honked up cheerily to the front door and blew a summon ing blast. Selectman Byers it was, who told the boys when they flew downstales to answer the call, that the village picnic would be held, just as it had been planned, on the first as it had been planned, on the first fair day.

"And," he added, with a wink at them and a shrewd look at the sky. "I wouldn't be a bit surprised if this rain should peter out before to-morrow. "Then the hoys rushed back upstairs, like despatch bearers, to carry the pleasant news to Grandmother and Chloe, Lincoln adding," with the shy courtesy always in his manner to the big and little women of his household: "But no nicnic could possibly be

jollier than yours.

Chloe, shining-eyed, searched her mind hastily for a fitting reply. "I'm glad you liked it," she patterned on

Minard's Liniment Curcs Garget in

A FAMOUS FOUNTAIN.

The "Lumineuse," On Schwarzenbergplatz, Vienna.

After night has set in upon the Schwarzenbergpiatz in picturesque Vienna, hundreds of enthusiastic tour-of its glorious fountain.

sts were wont to throng about (Y a well trained outdoor

Mother's gracious party-way.

"But no picnic could possibly be

HORSEMEN FOR 25 YEARS HAVE RECOMMENDED

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER COMPOUND

for DISTEMPER, INFLUENZA, PINK EYE, COUGH of COLD. Twenty-five years' use among the best horsemer in America have given the COMPOUND an enviable record as a preventive and cure. A few drops daily will keep the animal in good condition and his system will resist disease.

Regular does prescribed will cure. Buy of your druggist that he thought the sun would be out laying out potatoes for an indoor relay hold:

lag weeks had it ever known such bowl is tremendous in size and from pantry table to—guess! Back each other in circular form. The who does not attend the Tenth Annual Toronto

Fat Stock Show, will miss seeing the best collection of fat butcher stock ever assembled in Can-

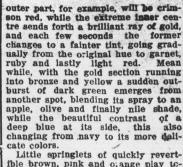

Judging, 10 a.m., Thursday, Dec. 11th.

Auction Sale, 10 a.m., Friday, Dec. 12th.

TORONTO FAT STOCK SHOW

UNION STOCK YARDS

jollier than yours.'

thle brown, pink and orange play to-gether, and link over cach other, drop-ping back into the large pool in an entirely different tone, namely, vio-let. Immediately on top of this, heliotrope and pale lavender bounce up, and so they go on, always illuminating the tiny drops differently up-their descent.

With all these marvellous interplays of every existing hue, perhaps the greatest splendor of the scene lies in the fact that each radiance of dew takes turns at shooting up the highest, and often one must cast his glance to a considerable height when gazing upon the tallest little bub-

WELL SATISFIED WITH BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Emile Malette, Montpelfer. Mrs. Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for some time and am well satisfied with them. They are surely the best medicine I know of for little ones." What Mrs. Malette says thousands of other mothers say. Once they have used the Tablets for their children they would use nothing else. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative; are absolutely free from opiates, narcotics or other harm-ful drugs and may be given to the youngest baby with perfect safety and good results. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Clearly Barred.

The German authorities, distressed not to say outraged beyond expression at the harshness of the Allied peace terms, and seeking for the German people some adequate means of expressing their feelings on the matter have, according to recent despatche from Copenhagen, sent out a telegram to the German states of which the foi-lowing is a paragraph: "By a delowing is a paragraph: "By a decision of the Imperial Government, the Free States are requested to have all public amusements suspended for a week, and to allow in the theatres only such productions as correspond with the seriousness of these grievous days." No one would wish to be unkind about the matter, but such a request as this latter surely places a ter-rible responsibility on theatre man-It is not easy to think of suit plays, but "All's Well That Ends ly barred.

Turkish Promises.

The first of more than a hundred treaties wrung from Turkey by which the porte promised protection to the the porce promises protected to the Ottoman empire, was signed 145 years ago, at the instance of Russia. Not one of these hundred promises has ever been kept—which is sufficiently indicated by the fact that all the treaties cover practically that all the treaties cover practically the same points. Every time the European powers saved Turkey from dismemberment, the reigning sultan in his gratitude, solemnly promised that he would grant his Christian that he would grant his Christian subjects in European Turkey liberty and equality before the law and equality belove the law with Moslems. After France and England, at the tremendous cost of the Crimean war, had saved the Turks from the Russians, the sultan issued the famous Hattihumatoun of February 18, 1856, in which he swore by the hours of the prophet to give Christary 18, 1856, in which he swore by the bears of the prophet to give Christians fully equality. The promise, like so many others, was but a "scrap of paper." Abdul Hamid on his ascersion to the throne, declared that he would make "no distinction of creed," and posed as the protector of creed" and posed as the protector of the Christians and Jews, o whom probably more than a nillion were slain during his reign of 33 years.

HOW TO POP CORN

It is done in different ways, but the most approved method is to pop your corns with Putnam's Corn Expiace to hear a well trained outdoor band peal forth strains of classic music and to gaze upon the wonders tractor—corns pop out for fair, and stay out, too, when removed by "Futnam's." Try this painless remedy yourself for at all dealers. of its glorious foundam.

Before the palace of Prince Swarzenberg is the celebrated "luminouse" fountain, lighted by twenty-seven hidden reflectors, containing a total power of 270 million candles. The

LEGAL BIG "WIGS."

Judges' Clothes Are Costly in the Old Land:

In England judges of the High Court who are the highest paid legal Court who are the algaest pain legal dignitaries, wear what are known as "full-bottom dress wigs." These wigs have long flaps at the sides that fall over the front of cach shoulder. Each Thap is adorated with rows upon rows of curls.

The top of this type of wig is a cass of short, dirty gree, frizzly, upright hairs.

A high Court judge's wig costs anything from £15 to £30. It is made of bleached horse-hair, and will last for many years, although the services of a wig-maker are commissioned per to recurl and refrizzle the Frizzy part.

Correspondingly shover and smaller wigs are worn by lesser judges—those presiding over the lover courts. They are termed "bob-wigs," reach just are termed bon-wigs, reach just above the ears, and have no imposing sideflaps. Also, they have only two little vertical curls at each side, the The best "bob-wigs" cost judges about £10 each, but chapper ones can be bought for about £5.

Wigs worn by criminal judges are

Wigs worn by criminal judges are distinguished from those of civil judges by a little patch of black horse-hair on the top.

ISSUE NO. 4 :

FARMS FOR SALE

175 ACRES: GOOD BUILDINGS well situated, near condenser 115 ACRES: COOD BUILDINGS: price $14,000.

50 ACRES GOOD: OUTBUILDINGS: new dwelling: on country road; price $6,000. W. E. Hastings, Woodstock, Ont.

$20,000-150 ACRES, ON STONE road, south of Grimsby; solid brick house, 10 rooms, bath, hot water, furnace, fullsize cellar, 2 cisterns and wells; good barn, 60x80, hip roof, stone stabling and sile, drive shed; outbuildings all painted; 4 acres grapes, 2 acres, orchard; apples, pears, cherries and small fruits; 25 acres pasture, 9 acres bush; clay loam; good state of cultivation; rural route; telephone, etc. Will take some city property in exchange. J. D. Biggar, Regent, 334, 205 Clyde Block, Hamilton, Ont.

100 -ACRE FRUIT FARM: 60 ACRES planted; 10 acres wheat; 2 elaborate homes, with grounds and shrubberies; 4 tenant houses; 4 100-foot greenhouses; elaborate office building; large barn and silo; brick storage building; large barn and silo; brick storage building; double garage; numerous sheds; chicken house; hogpen; blacksmith shop; water system in all buildings piped below frost; naturat gas; furnaces in 2 houses and office. This is one of Canada's show places, and is a money-making business proposition, being offered as a going concern at a great sacrifice. J. D. Biggar, Regent 334, 205 Clyde Block, Hamilton, Ont.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT | RANCH - 15 CALIFORNIA FRUIT RANCH — 18 acres, 5 acres bearing lemons, oranges, grapes and grape fruit; piped for irrigation; balance clear; 7-room house, surrounded with ornamental trees, shrubs and roses; good barn and stable; garage; pump house and tool room. An ideal profitable whiter home for $1,500, with implements, stock and farniture for $2,000. J. D. Biggar, Regent 934, 205
Clyde Block, Hamilton, Ont.

MISCELLANEOUS

SEND A DOMINION EXPRESS Money Order. They are payable everywhere.

A RTIFICIAL LIMBS MAN WANTED who will represent large American concern manufacturing artificial limbs, make plaster paris casts, measurements, etc.; full instructions supplied; good remuneration. P. O. Box 65, Hamilton, Ont.

MPROVE YOUR BREAD! JUST ADD a teaspoonful of Ho-Mayde Bread Improver to your regular baking and get a larger, finer and sweeter loaf, which will not dry out so quickly. Perfectly wholesome. Ask your grocer or send fifteen cents for a package. Ho-Mayde Products Co., Toronto.

WANTED.

RAW FURS-WHAT HAVE YOU; what price? Reid Bros., Bothweil.

FOR SALE

PAIR PRACTICALLY BLACK FOXES; also twenty other pairs. Bothwell, Ont., Canada.

SEED CORN

Finest grades; quality guaranteed; 8 Row Yellow Flint, White Cap, Yellow Dent, Golden Glow, Early Bantam Sweet, Large-cared Eureka Evergreen sweet corn; also perfection Bean and Timothy Hay. Buy direct from grower and save the middleman's profit. S. J. McLennon, R. R. No. 4. South Woodslee, Ont.

PROPERTIES FOR SALE.

FOR SALE-PARRY SOUND DISTRICT -300 acres timber, hemicak, hirch and maple. Apply W. Jenkins, Everett, Ont.

F ORTY ACRES STANDING TIMBER, W. Oak, large Elm. S. Maple; reasonable time.40 Temove. Apply And. Struthers, R. R. No. 6, Galt, Ont.

HELP WANTED-MALE.

WANTED - FIRST-CLASS GARAGE man. State experience and wages wanted. Reid Bros., Bothwell, Ont.

HELP WANTED.

WANTED-WEAVERS AND APPRENtices to learn weaving; good wages paid while learning; clean, steady work; 47-hour week. Apply to Slingsby Mfg. Cos. Brantford, Ont.

BUSINESS CHANCES

GENERAL STORE BUSINESS—BEST chance in Ontario to buy an old-established money-maker; present owner has other interests; must be sold; annual turnover exceeds twenty-five thousand dollers; stock $6,000; store and dwelling, $2,000. Apply A. Ball, Underwood, Ontario.

The neatest-looking wigs in the profession, and certainly the most com-fortable to wear, are those donned by barristers. They are small and have two longitudinal curls over each ear. A barrister who is dignified by the letters K.C. (King's Counsel) after his name wears an additional curl over each ear. Barrister's wigs cost about

The robes of a High ourt judge are gorgeous and imposing. They are made of rich silks and trimmed with ermine. The cost of these magnificant robes is often as much as £100, though they can be bought for about £60. Then, too, High Court judges carry. but never wear, large, three-cornered Judges who preside over lower courts wear much less gorgeous robes and do carry three-cornered hats. A barrister's gown is made of black alpaca or some similar material, known as "stuff" in the legal profession. It is only when a barrister has become a K.C. that he may don a gown of silk. For this reason a King's Consel is often referred to as a "silk." don Tit-Bits.

Blood will tell in a norse, but money makes the more go.

best results."

"The WALKER HOUSE in Toronto is an illestration. I always pick that. It is large enough to have all the closuatages of the lags bester and must lineage to have all the candist of both to bester as demand from the choosing."

"It is a standard for held candistrate the ca service and home-life appointments.

In fact it is the measure thing to carrying your home with you that can be integrated.

Bituated a ston's throw from the Union Depot and a three minuted ride from the heats.

THE WALKER HOUSE TORONTOS PANOLS MOTEL
TORONTOS
TORONTOS