

- XXXIII. All and every the provisions of this Act shall apply to any such British Ship and to any other Ship or Vessel in respect of such Seaman so hired in the United Kingdom, and of the Masters and Crew thereof; and all the offences and other unlawful acts therein mentioned, when committed in respect to such British Ship or any such Seaman, or his effects, shall be dealt with in like manner as if committed in respect of any other Ship or Vessel in the River St. Lawrence or of the Master and Crew thereof, or of any other person whomsoever.

Act to apply to any British Ship in respect of such Seaman, &c.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

- XXXIV. It shall not be lawful to serve or execute, or cause to be served or executed, any process or citation in or on board of any merchant ship or vessel of the United Kingdom, Her Majesty's Colonies, or of any foreign state, upon the owner, master, or any one of the crew thereof, or any process of execution against such ship, her tackle, apparel or furniture, her owner, master or any one of the crew thereof, otherwise than by some Officer or Bailiff of the courts of vice-admiralty or common law, or any Constable, Policeman or other Peace Officer according to the nature of such process, under a penalty of fifty pounds. And if in the service or execution of such process, recourse be had to any violence, threats of violence or any unnecessary demonstration of force, either by the person serving or executing such process, or by any other in conjunction with him, or by the party or parties upon or against whom the same is to be served or executed, every person committing or threatening such violence or making such demonstration of force, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be liable to be prosecuted accordingly.
- XXXV. It shall not be lawful for any member of the city or Water Police of Quebec, nor for any other person whomsoever in the pay of the Imperial or Provincial Government to let or sublet any house or tenement, or part of a house or tenement to be used as an unlicensed tavern or grog shop for the sale of wines or spirituous or malt liquors, or knowingly to suffer the same to be so used or occupied, or as a lodging house in which seamen or apprentices, deserters or unlawfully absent from their ships are harboured or secreted; nor to have any share or interest directly or indirectly in the business or management of any such unlicensed tavern, grog shop, or lodging house under a penalty of one hundred pounds. And the keeper of such unlicensed tavern, grog shop, or lodging house who shall persist against the will of the proprietor or lessor thereof, in so using or occupying the same after having been convicted of the offence of selling wines or spirituous or malt liquors without a license, or of harbouring or secreting such seamen, may, upon the demand of the proprietor or lessor, supported by a copy of such conviction which shall not have been quashed, vacated or an-

By whom only process may be served or executed on board Vessels.

Punishment for any violence in executing such service.

Members of Water Police, &c., not to let any house as a Tavern, &c.

Penalty.

And on persons keeping unlicensed Taverns, &c., against the will of the Lessor.