salvation of the soul was the great work for which the ministry existed.

Among the children he was a power. Some of the folks tell of Mr. Scott's ability to interest the young in the great things of God and the great thoughts of the Bible.

Many of the young people who are coming to places of influence in the church are able to trace the formation of their character to the man of God who ministered to St. Andrew's, Hillsburg, for so many years.

Mr. Scott ever reminded his people of their obligation to give to God, and thus during his pastorate missionary activity made great advances.

MEMORIAL TABLET.

It was during Mr. Scott's pastorate that the splendid and commodious sheds were built and paid for.

In Mrs. Scott the minister had a faithful co-worker in the Lord's vineyard, and both husband and wife gave of their best for the spiritual welfare of the people among whom they labored.

In the last two years of his pastorate Mr. Scott suffered from severe illness, and the people showed their appreciation of his eminent services by tokens of their sympathy and love.

The missionary givings of the congregation increased under Mr. Scott's pastorate from $372 in 1905 to $579 in 1918.
