By THOMAS SHAW. This book is the most complete and comprehensive work ever published on the subject of which it treats. It is the first book which has systematized the subject of animal breeding. The leading laws which govern this most intrinsic question the author has boldly defined and authoritatively arranged. The chapters which he has written on the more involved features of the subject, as sex and the relative influence of parents, should go far towards setting at rest the wild speculative views cherished with reference to these questions. The striking originality in the treatment of the subject is no less conspicuous than the superb order and regular sequence of thought from the beginning to the end of the book. The book is intended to meet the needs of all persons interested in the breeding and rearing of live stock. Illustrated. 495 pages. 5 1/2 inches. Cloth.....$1.50

Durham Seed Fair

A seed fair was held at Durham, Ont., during the institute meeting time early in January. There was a good display, including 2 entries of spring wheat, 4 of goose wheat, 11 of barley, 10 of oats, long white, 6 of oats, short white, 2 of spilt, 7 of peas, S. white, 2 of peas, blue, 3 of timothy seed, 1 of clover seed, 3 of potatoes early, and 4 of potatoes late.

Mr. J. S. Pearce, who judged the seeds, awarded only one prize in timothy seed. He ruled out the three remaining entries of timothy and the entry of clover, as they contained too many weed seeds. He referred to this fact at the meeting and emphasized the need of having only clean pure seed. The other exhibits were of a high class.

Mrs. Style—I want a hat, but it must be in the latest style.

Shopman—Kindly take a chair, madame, and wait a few minutes; the fashion is just changing.
